ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I dedicate this book to my mother Helen L, McVea for her untiring support. I gratefully acknowledge Dr. Ibrahim, Karin Kinsey, Robert Gilbert Ph.D, Mary West, Paul White and Sharon Hart.

I thank Richard Olson for his ability to master most any type of video, audio, computer or health technologies all the while making it fun.

I most heartily thank John Civitan for his steady flow of right answers and his incredible ability to listen to the life force. Without John this project might never have happened.

THE BLISS CHANNEL

I have been engaged in intensive research for the past 6 months. It has been the most exciting and rewarding experience, as thousands of data from years past fall into alignment. The outcome of this research validates every single sub-product and product that we have created. This outcome fits my definition of coming full circle, elegant product evolution and an all-time high.

This new technical manifestation marks what I believe is the completion of a lifelong dream. Not that there won't be more refinements; it is rather that the project is now free to further refine and complete itself through the assistance of research associates like yourself!

The project I am referring to is how to take the Life Energy Amplifier ("LEA") Bliss technology to the next level, making it affordable, convenient, always accessible with minimum customer downtime or none, no learning curve stress, a maximum of designer energy choices, no equipment schlepping, pay-as-you-go rather than a large up-front hit, clearing electronic smog, a brainless take-it-with-you energy-clearing field effect, etc. The key question now is how to make the bliss easily available for energy clearing, stress release, rejuvenation and environmental revitalization to millions of people much as Tesla wanted electricity to be. See if you can discover some key possibilities and applications from the clues provided.

At Oxygen Research Institute LLC (ORI) we enjoy our customers the most. We like working with vendors, insurance companies and shipping the least. We desire a minimum of shipping, no repairs, no financial leaps of faith on the customer's part, being able to offer a very wide choice of designer energy formulas, available all at one time, for a very low cost. We value quality time with our customers the most.

WHAT DO YOU WANT FROM LIFE?

I have always wanted to make the best energy system available on the planet, price no object. If the cost was millions of dollars then so be it. I have always wanted the full blown energetic transformation and rejuvenation package. I am getting older. I knew that the money would come for it when the technology had manifested.

A SHORT RETIREMENT

I wanted to design one last instrument, the one for “the me of my wildest dreams.” I also wanted my friends to have it in some easily accessible manner. I wanted it to be able to give them a choice of hundreds of designer energy fields at will. I wanted to mix and match my own custom programs. I wanted one formula for each special occasion. I wanted to experience one or more formulations for:

Stimulation

Relaxation

Stress release

Sexual enhancement

Creativity

Meditation

Lucid dreaming

Manifestation

Recreation

Spiritual transformation

Clearing electronic smog

Living water

Charging a hot tub or pool

Integrating personal growth and new abilities

Balancing the chakras

Circle of protection

Altered states and drug addiction release

Releasing dark forces or suppressive or oppressive people and relationships

Releasing conflict energy or problems

Forgiveness for those I have harmed or who/which have harmed me

Creating world peace!

I wanted the delivery system to be portable, easy, cheap and effortlessly manageable. This mission statement sounded so impossible when I wrote it a few years ago, I went into instant joy followed by massive overwhelm. This highly prized experience would have to be more useful than psychedelic drugs, more thorough than my experiences in India with Punja Ji, more expansive than my best adventure vacation, cheaper and less toxic than 60s psychedelics and much easier to use than a cell phone. It also needs to be based on time-proven metaphysical and mainstream scientific law. Sounds like the ultimate rejuvenation/smartpill.

This system of my dreams would pass airline inspections with no problem, be legal, safe with no possible harm, almost unbreakable, result in long term spiritual transformation and be a mind blowing concept and at the very least a good screenplay, all the while being a technical first. People just hearing of the concept would get high and feel deep joy!

I was stumped for a few years. I spent time energy clearing and deepening my active and passive meditation. I re-read old tech materials. I talked with many of our research associates about this dream.

It came to me that I would need to complete my relationship with ORI and go for fulltime research. I would need to detach from ORI which took so much of my time and attention. It often looked like I would retire and spend the rest of my life pursuing this goal. I might not even make it! Bummer! This ultimate dream soon became so predominant that all I could do was to surrender to it. All I could do was to make space and time for it in my life, releasing everything and everyone that would hold it back. I spent a year without knowing it, doing just that! The dream at times seemed like the nightmare. It appeared at times that I might have to go to Costa Rica or Mexico or return to beautiful Thailand to silence the noise that distracted me.

I would also have to tone down my overhead and channel my living expenses into a research budget. Privacy, silence and focused attention, became the watchwords. Interruptions stole valuable research attention units.

I chose to live my life solely and totally for this research. I thought I might have to spend years going to conferences again.

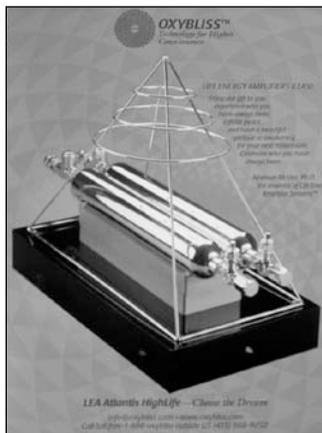

Wherever I would go, where I could be to myself sailing, hiking, dancing, swimming, reading, biking, etc., I would meditate on this breakthrough—see it, hear it and feel it.

GOD'S BIOCOMPUTER

For those of you who have heard this story by phone or e-mail please excuse the repetition. I put it to hard copy here to make sure that all our readers know the important role that this energy computer was to play in our research line.

It was a dark and stormy night...and...

I inherited a special computer developed in Germany from a doctor friend who gave it to me and then passed away. I took it that I was his heir apparent. It came without much instruction. It was something like a most creative LEA in that it could amplify energy fields. It was unlike the LEA in that it could hold in memory any digital or analog energy field from any substance. This doctor colleague made many of its chips and coils by hand! It must have cost a fortune to develop. Let your imagination go wild here. I loaded in many substances such as herbs, minerals, drugs, gemstones, energy from pictures, colors, frequencies, shamanic compounds, noble gasses, energetic remedies, sacred geometry, energy from sounds, etc. It was this computer that ultimately, sometime later, interfaced with the recording studio council that generated our last set of ten High Chi ChiBliss. I knew that there was way more to do with this device but all I could think of was making more CDs or being in a designer chi energy rock band. I knew its capacity far exceeded the limits of my imagination. It was something I needed to grow into.

I used the current High Chi 5D Sound CDs, Atlantis HighLife, VisionQuest, InnerQuest, lasers, and ChiBliss to keep releasing the notion or pattern that this breakthrough was “impossible.” I even went back to radionics (procedures requiring a device to send coded or symbolic energy broadcasts at a distance) for a short time, broadcasting rates (energy balancing codes) to myself to release the block but quickly found no betterment with this procedure. The old radionic broadcast equipment was very operator dependent with little or no help from the device itself. It took a good psychic back then to make a good radionic practitioner. (More on this later, stay tuned.)

I also knew that this breakthrough would revolutionize all our past supplement products and LEA instrumentation. There was just no other game in town. (More on this later.)

My research started sounding like—not this, not this, no, not this. I said no to most every past energy delivery system I had known. I looked at every current psychotronic product or service on the market that interested me. I tried everything from Sanctuary to hyperbaric oxygen...Holograms with Vince, Sound Therapy with Paul, Vibrations with sensitive Brenda, etc. Nothing that I tried came even close to my most exalted needs. A two-hour massage I confess did fit some of the bill but it was not portable, not cheap in the US or available 24 hours per day in every country including outer space. It also took too much time out of my life to receive it.

LASER POWER

Special FIR Laser

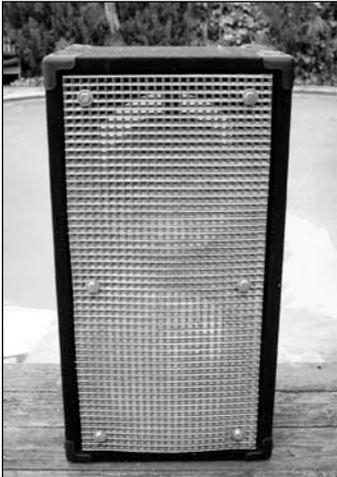

To keep you readers in a somewhat linear time frame, I had earlier designed a laser that would output red 640 nanometers (nms), infrared and far infrared. It could be modulated to output the energy signatures of our energized CDs. It worked very well but the downside was high cost and it would need to be sold only by prescription because of its high power level. Less power meant much less result. Dr. Pat Flanagan contributed some valuable demos, information and personal time to this development. His big green monster laser inspired me at Burning Man where we enjoyed his hospitality and creative space. Thanks Pat, Steph and Laser Randy.

I should also mention that we did finalize a small handheld laser, battery powered, legal and safe to sell. When you shine it on a small round crystal and carry it in a fanny pack the batteries seems to last about a week. Clients have mentioned the peacefulness that they felt. For me I got a little too stoned one day with it and lost my sunglasses but found them again in a most miraculous manner. The little laser did only one program, granted, but it was a most useful basic cellular vitality attunement program (the frequency for the healthy cell) the one for all seasons so to speak. Thank you, Freddie.

It seemed that we were getting closer. The handheld laser also did great things for the skin and processed minor injury energy blocks, thus assisting healing. Still I was holding out for my dream of “less complication and more versatility etc.” Though I must admit that when you carry this laser in a fanny pack or pocket it does have a noticeable effect upon stress and it does help to de-ding you from a day's worth of knocks. Indeed a valuable energy system for just $999.

CALL OFF THE SEARCH

Chi Bliss

I finally had to call an end, at least temporarily, to this search, as it was ruining my relationships. I was becoming more obsessed and depressed by the day. I became totally dissatisfied with most everything around. I even built a system for a client named Raymond based on research by a German group developing the best of the best. While this tachyon gridded system seemed to fulfill many of the requirements, I had access to it only for a few days, not long enough to really test it thoroughly. The energy was wonderful but the price was equally high and it had no portability. It was a breakthrough system for stationary use in a restaurant, club, conference room, meditation center etc. Thank you Raymond.

A second break came, thanks again to Raymond. Raymond was involved with a processing group in whose procedures I was thoroughly trained in the late 60s and very early 70s. The program was intensive, rigorous and thorough in many ways. It was also very authoritarian and limiting. It became cultish and excessive—with many “completes” feeling overcharged and under-released. The promised result was once again elusive for many.

Raymond's goal was to achieve a seemingly impossible result “enlightenment/psychic mastery”—just like the goal I had suppressed due to its seeming impossibility and my own sense of failure. Raymond rekindled my search for the Holy Grail of processes. He lovingly reminded me of my abandoned quest. Thank you, Raymond!

FREQUENCIES REVISITED

I found many spinoff research groups that had felt the same as I did about this same processing group's results. They had worked many years to find frequencies that could release upsets, problems, communication blocks, traumatic incidents, thwarted goals, dark forces etc. After all, Rife had discovered frequencies that broke apart bacteria and viruses. Why not blow apart or release stuck and frozen chi from traumatic incidents?

I found their research to be stimulating at first but after much application, I discovered that it worked best on already high-energy people who had much eclectic occult and psychological knowledge. (By "occult" I mean knowledge of the hidden or unseen, not devil worship or human sacrifice as some misunderstand the word.)

Still, the use of certain frequencies to release various stress patterns was a good postulate. It was a step outside of the box. It could potentially save many thousands of hours of processing time since many participants in this earlier group spent up to 5,000 hours processing out their stressful issues and incidents, ultimately costing them many hundred of thousands of dollars. It could also save years and years of training and subsequent frustration.

Still I tried and re-tried this frequency technology but could not get much further. I put these frequencies on tape, CD and video. I had already gone through this organization's processing program in depth and knew it to be a great beginning but with no end in sight. Not even with second sight (joke).

ALONG CAME JOHN

Last October—my power month, because of Halloween in San Francisco of course—I reconnected with John-The Dowser-Civitan. I had first met John when he had purchased some of our LEA systems and sent me many research reports of his work including photos. He was trained as a field weapons dowser for munitions in the Army in 1959 and had continued his dowsing practice ever since. Master dowser, researcher and author, Wayne Cook, whose research at Stanford University was groundbreaking, also later trained John. John served as a consultant to clients who wanted to upgrade the results of their products. John dowsed herbal formulations—oftentimes arriving at the same combination through dowsing as did the master herbalist.

At first I thought John might be a kook. His straight ahead focus seemed to border on addiction or mania. But as I got to know him and his work, I witnessed dedication that I had rarely seen.

A San Franciscan, John, The Dowser Extraordinaire, had badly injured his foot on the job and now had nothing to do but stare at the ceiling and visualize his dream. His dream like Raymond's and mine was lofty. Raymond focused like a demon also, excluding a social life and many other "distractions." John was the same way; he ate, slept and breathed subtle energy.

Dowser Wayne Cook also trained both John and I back in the mid-70s. Wayne was instrumental in opening up my consciousness to dowsing. His pioneer research and groundbreaking books and videos helped launch many a subtle energy research project. Wanda Cook, his wife, now continues his research.

When John got in touch with us at ORI, he announced that he was fully committed, hurt foot and all, to finding some answers for us regarding subtle energy and so a most rewarding research consultant/client relationship began.

I have researched and trained with many gifted psychics, Werner Erhard, L. Ron Hubbard, Bandler and Grinder, and many nameless confidential clients and practitioners with many eclectic skills. John's vibrational dowsing was, in short, the best and most accurate feedback I have known. His scientific, make-the-research-prove-it-to-me approach, was not all fuzzy. He would often have friends hide numbers and mandalas in his apartment and he would dowse by the number for them, attaining very high success rates. With one such drill he found 18 out of 19 hidden energy links.

Some of you know that I am a former dowser myself and I used to teach radionics for research purposes. I quit dowsing when I quit radionics, after much frustration and loss. Dowsing, radionics, pyramids, and crystals all got lumped together 20 years ago in my “makes no difference category.”

THE CHI CHIP

John’s foot injury led him to seek out a healing device from China that holds the healing energy of a chi master in a computer chip. John used this device along with our LEA and light therapy with much success. In fact it was his ongoing raves about this Chinese chi device, along with his ideas for more workable modifications of it, that caught my attention. It was out of this research and John’s consulting help that I developed the ChiBliss system. John’s hundreds of hours of using this chi system encouraged ORI to build one that used Chi Gong masters’ energy on CDs rather than on computer chips. This gave the chi/CD process much needed versatility; we ended up with ten CD-chi formulations rather than just one. I ended up using CDs embedded with healing chi from other Chi Gong masters along with special vital remedies as a much fuller energy formula. We also specked out a much larger transducer and an input plate that gave it a much wider range of abilities or features. The idea of including an input plate was a success with the VisionQuest / InnerQuest systems. It was John’s precise dowsing that forged the way to the ChiBliss and CD manifestation.

My days with John centered on my bringing him every energy device I could find for his dowsing and energy analysis. Not only did I get an inside track on our LEA systems but also it rekindled my interest in dowsing. John’s dowsing skills showed me all the right past directions I had “assumed” with the Life Energy Amplifiers. It also showed me all the wrong directions I could have gone. I had intuitively, through much focus and intention, managed to think and feel through most of it on my own. John’s energetic checking and questioning validated my earlier knowing. It also showed me how much faster he was with dowsing and getting many of my same answers but in record time. John has more dowsing equipment than a stray cat has fleas. He uses pendulums, L-rods, Lecher antenna, wands, and bioenergy software, just to name a few. All these measuring devices demonstrate, among other indications, which stimuli expand the energy body and which stifle it.

Some major validations I got from John's testing were how sensitive the input plates are on the VisionQuest / InnerQuest and ChiBliss. The second was that it also increased my learning curve on my German energy computer. I suddenly had a testing method to double check my German computer's accuracy.

After accelerating my dowsing skills, I then dowsed and muscle tested why the frequencies of the above-described psychological process technology did not work well for releasing stressful patterning. After much introspection two points came to light. It was at this exact same time that John through his own research came up with the same viewpoint.

First – The frequencies represented “something” or X factor in relationship to stressful patterning. The frequency was chosen to release or dis-create the stressful holding pattern in the body's energetic field. It was designed to cause the incident or feeling to release. In homeopathy, broadcasting a 180-degree out of phase, reverse wave or reverse vector wave, would cause the negative pattern to drop to zero or baseline. It would be like bringing two magnets of the opposite polarity together to bring both poles to zero potential. It would be like canceling out the stress or emotional charge.

But frequency is only one parameter of a much greater wholeness. The second breakthrough explains it.

Second – Frequencies, no matter how correctly dowsed or otherwise researched and developed to cancel or release another waveform, are essentially dead or lifeless. They have no vitality; they lack life force. One important factor about the LEA is that the noble gasses, magnetic and far infrared fields do generate life force or at least a waveform very close to the wavelength of intention or life energy itself. It does indeed clear and amplify life energy!

THE ESSENCE OF ELECTRICITY IS LIFE FORCE.

What made John's foot heal faster was the healing energy of the chi master in the computer chip, not just electricity as in TENS (Transcutaneous Electronic Neuro Stimulators) bioelectrical stimulators or other just-electrical stimulators. This chi master's energy pattern was actually in the Chinese chi device John first purchased. We liked this idea and I placed similar healing chi energies in the new High Chi 5D Sound CDs that made these much more vital. I added chi healing energies from other chi masters to noble gas fields, laser energy, far infrared fields, the energy of a few saints and amplified gemstone energies. Way to go, John!

It occurred to us that capturing the energy fields or imprints of healing masters was the key to packaged chi. This is why earlier on my own I intuitively started using my German biocomputer to print energy from the pictures, audiotapes and live healings and amplify them millions of times, without distortion. The excitement built.

When I much later combined these high chi fields with special frequencies from the spinoff processing group, the frequencies came alive. Their ability to release stuck and stagnant chi improved greatly. Frequencies are after all just dead energy. Yes, they are electromagnetic (tiny life force) but so what? What they need is to be the chi signal or chi wave itself. Ancient Egyptian research, which I will disclose later, put the cap on this most productive line of thinking.

EVERYTHING IS JUST FREQUENCY?

After much work with John and my German computer I discovered why I never like the statement that "everything is just frequency." I heard it almost everywhere in Marin County, California. Frequency is only one facet or characteristic or aspect of a substance or energy field. It speaks nothing of the uplifting quality of energy or chi. Frequency is like representing your car with a logo or symbol. Ever try to drive a symbol? Not too swift! Bands of energy, directions of spin, characteristics or vitality of the energy are not addressed. Frequencies like radionic rates (numbers that represent substances or intentions) are just not enough. This is why radionics is so very operator dependent. It requires the live chi or life force from the operator to intend the result. Getting results from radionics is far from automatic; at best it is an intention helper. The psychic or sensitive operator is the fundamental essential ingredient. We found this with other “healing” instruments as well. This is why many radionic practitioners have later put aside their instrument to just practice psychic intent—researcher and good friend Ed Skilling for one. I have met many good psychics that were at least as good as an old-time radionic practitioner. This is why the SE-5 radionic device does not produce consistent broadcast results but varies widely from practitioner to practitioner. Automatic chi-less broadcasts without psychic ability fail. Note: I later discovered that the frequencies we all had been researching with were electrically generated and thus contained an unsuitable field called Vertical Negative Green which I will clarify later.

Frequencies, or radionic rates, are like feeling a fish tugging on your line and coming to a conclusion what type of fish it is, its weight, sex, eating habits, social skills, etc. Granted you can get some idea of the fish from the line tug, but it’s nothing like holding the fish in your hands and taking a good look! It is also nothing like observing the whole fish in its own whole environmental context.

The only time radionic rates or frequencies really affect consciousness is when you have human chi or vital energy mixed with them. The body gets tired of and resists electronic signals being thrown at it. The body after a while sees this chi-less activity as just so much more electronic smog. It may like it for a short while as it has a minute bioenergy but the body needs to be offered high-chi biofriendly signals to really enjoy the meal. The electrical energy stimulation also needs to match the impedance of the body. The body needs to recognize it as its own. If you want a mother sheep to nurture a baby kitten, you need to smear the kitten with the mother’s afterbirth so the mother will bond with it and think it is her own.

When you mix the vital chi of a healing master with a frequency you get a much better assimilation of the frequency. The body seems to get less tired of and offers less resistance to vitality signals. It will ingest the darndest garbage for a while if you coat it with sugar.

Are Frequencies Alone Really Bioactive and Psychoactive?

Were the frequencies really valuable after all? Is it the chi vitality signal or is it the frequency that is more important? The answer lies clearly in a book validated by John's dowsing called Power vs. Force suggested by Deborah Stuart's friend Max who also owns an LEA system.

POWER VS. FORCE

For those of you who may not have read Dr. David R. Hawkins' earlier work Orthomolecular Psychiatry published in 1973 I will elaborate. I was asked by the publisher to review the book in 1973, which opened my eyes to the brilliance of Dr. Hawkins. He is no lightweight but an in-depth psychiatric researcher and a visionary.

This book by David R. Hawkins M.D., Ph.D., shows that "involuntary" muscle movement—as discovered in Applied Kinesiology-- developed by Dr. George Goodheart (don't you just love it?)—is a widely agreed-upon method of measuring subtle energies' effects upon the body. Dr. John Diamond later refined this technology into what he called Behavioral Kinesiology, testing emotional stimulus. He summed up this breakthrough in his book, Your Body Doesn't Lie. It is further noted that even when subjects were listening to audiotapes of speakers who could lie convincingly (accomplished liars) subjects tested weak. As Dr. Diamond would say, "Your Body Doesn't Lie!" Subjects need no acquaintance with the issues being tested to register either weak (not good for me) or strong (good for me).

ATTRACTOR RESEARCH

High Energy Attractor Patterns or "HEAPs"

Some Energy Fields Test Very Strong and Some Are Very Weak.

A methodology emerged to test the body's weakening and strengthening according to various stimuli. When the stimulus weakens the body, the stimulus is non-vital and when it strengthens the body, it is vital. The measuring of involuntary movement or body reactions is very much like dowsing and also like biofeedback in which I have trained many practitioners way back to the early 70s.

CHI SCALE

Muscle testing, or Applied Kinesiology, is a non-linear science, which does not consult mental data or information and is independent of belief systems. It focuses rather on the vitalization or de-vitalization of the tested body's energy systems. In short, Dr. Hawkins tested thousands of subjects by testing their unconscious reaction to the unknown qualities of energy fields. He developed a calibrated scale of 1-1000 (1 being the lowest level of vitality and 1000 being the highest vitality of vibration). Something like a scale of chi if you will.

One very important discovery was that “extremely minute variations over a course of time can have the effect of producing profound changes.”

Test subjects reacted globally to an attractor field, which means that energy that raised vitality was of the same standard or quality—nation-to-nation, culture-to-culture, person-to-person. This is an impersonal, emotionally detached measurement, much the same as dowsing or biofeedback assessment. Dr. Hawkins tested subjects on various emotions and attitudes to discover their positions on a scale of aliveness. He mentions that Mother Theresa and Ramana Maharshi scored the highest he tested—at 560 of a possible 1000. He shows that what energizes you transforms your feelings to a higher level of vitality. He calls these high-energy fields, attractor patterns. These patterns can be “felt sensed” by sensitives, when they first impinge upon the body's energy field. They produce energetic change according to the nature of the stimuli. The more repetitive or continuous the stimulation, the more change whether that is higher or lower in vitality according to the nature of the energy pattern.

He also goes on to say how great cathedrals inspire awe. I will show you later how this emotional shift or awe can create and also be created by sacred geometry (pyramids and domes) which creates invisible, high-energy attractor patterns. He also explains that awareness of these HEAPs are beyond most people's conscious awareness. You just feel uplifted! Holograms calibrate at 600-700 as they are a more kinesthetic or dynamic form of energy flow than flat 2-dimensional patterns. (Clue: How can you utilize a hologram to raise energy and aliveness?)

Essentially Dr. Hawkins is saying that rather than try to release the stress pattern by employing a specific addressing frequency, just keep stimulating with HEAPs and the person will raise their level of emotions over time, little by little until they resonate (come into vibratory alignment) with the highest level of Ramana Maharshi or Mother Theresa. Not bad?

To resonate is to have let us say two guitar strings. You pluck one and the other starts to vibrate or resonate at that same note. Pluck the transmission string many times and the receiver string completely takes on the vibrational characteristics of the transmitter or sending string. The change in the energy character of the receiving string can be thought of as informational. Resonance plus HEAP information equals communication, and then equals = a higher HEAP imprint.

Dr. Hawkins calls these HEAPs “hidden determinants of human behavior.”

To help get a context for a scale of emotions/attitudes and their aliveness or viability or energy level quotients, here is a scale in brief. Note: You might also consider this a chi scale or scale of life force energy. The fewer energy-draining or attention-sapping emotions or attitudes you have, the more free energy you have. The higher the energy you can process, the less in the past and the more in the now you are.

Enlightenment 700-1000

Hologram 600-700

Peace 600

Love 500

Reason 400

Willingness 310

Courage 200

Anger 150

Fear 100

Apathy 50
Guilt 30
Shame 20

Note: The higher on the scale you go the higher the level of truth you can access.

This is my abbreviated scale to just give you the idea of the rank and seniority and the relative energy level of each. For the complete scale, please do read Dr. Hawkins' fine book.

And now for a real mind blower. Dr. Hawkins says:

“A field of dominance is exhibited by high energy patterns and their influence over weaker ones.”

Perhaps my new understanding of the importance of a little chi stimulation over a longer time was one of my most valuable cognitions. I was earlier looking for a rock 'em sock 'em energy formulation that would blow people away in no time or may be to beyond time. Yet, especially with the Life Energy Amplifier Atlantis HighLife system, our larger more expensive models, 36KV, are indeed now powerful enough to blow many people quite away. The problem is that they get too much too fast and do not follow our “little at a time” instructions, then they get a temporary cleansing response or clearing response. This slows progress.

The field of dominance of a High Energy Attractor Pattern (say 400-600) over a lower one, also gave me the idea that a little of the right high-level wellness field could successfully process out a lot of the low level, shame 20, guilt 30, apathy 50, fear 100 etc.

The key here is to produce the highest level of chi, spiritual vitality, optimism, wellbeing, vitality, success expectancy, then freeze-frame it somehow and then re-apply it repetitively to condition and entrain an apathetic energy field to ascend to its highest potential!

ATTRACTOR FIELDS MAKE YOU FEEL GOOD

Busy People Require an Energy Management System that Fits Their Lifestyle.

Dr. Hawkins showed me the value of continuous stimulation over a long period of time. The apparent problem with this in psychotronics is that if the subject receives only one hour per day of HEAPs then it may take a very long time to get a result. Peoples' schedules are such that getting them to sit down and hold an energy wand or lie down and rest on a ChiBliss transducer for a long time may be highly unlikely. Busy people require an energy management system that fits their lifestyle. In following this new energy model, which John calls "trickle charge," you would need a stimulation time of almost a whole day and evening to create sufficient energetic movement over many weeks and months and even years. Some may require years. How do you hog-tie the subject to get that amount of energy processing time? As Deborah says "There's the rub."

In our new model of power vs. force the optimum situation would be a little stimulation over a long time. This trickle charge is power; force is a lot over a short time. If you could feed the subject HEAPs over a long time his/her energy level would begin to take on (resonate with) or imprint with (entrain) the higher vibratory field of the process, and soon changes would result. In homeopathic medicine, a little is more powerful than a lot! A minute amount of material (just the vibes) really carries the most energy. The more dense physical material (low resonance) contained in weak doses, the lower the dose. Low doses contain mostly dead matter.

Dr. Hawkins concludes that research shows that 85% of the human race calibrates below the critical energy level of 200. This indicates that they average at the level of courage 200 but nowhere near the level of reason 400 or love at 500. Not even Joy, which is way up there at 540! Bliss, the goal that I am striving for would be, I believe somewhere around 700-1000, at the level of enlightenment. In order to transform people's experience to Joy, let alone Bliss they would need to be continually receiving vital energy fields way above 200 to move them upscale towards Joy and finally Bliss.

A “high” would now be defined as a person moving up the scale, higher than their baseline (ordinary) or chronic state. Joy at 540 would be experienced as a high or “peak” experience by all people who ordinarily calibrate at a much lower level. Imagine the energetic rush! This scale was arrived at not by guesswork or belief but by actually testing the public’s response to stimuli already determined to strengthen or weaken the reference subjects.

BIOFEEDBACK — THE YOGA OF THE WEST?

These same parameters can also be tested through dowsing or biofeedback. I have practiced biofeedback assessment using GSR (galvanic skin response) and computer voice analysis for over 30 years. My dad and I built the first behaviorally oriented computer voice stress analyzer back in 1973. I was admitted to the International Association of Stress Analysis in 1973 for this work. It was acknowledged as the first psychological test where the body’s answers (stress reactions) not the logical mind, created and shaped the personality profile. I learned a lot then about the power of words and how high coherence words and peak experiences could release low energy stuck chi effects—later called traumatic cellular memory. The older dictionary term is engram, or trace, on a cell.

GSR Biofeedback Instrument

I learned how the energy of a word or substance could mean nothing to the conscious mind but could mean everything to the body’s energy field. Again homeopathy fits this description. A minute dose of poison, “yek how awful, must be toxic, what is this garbage,” the mind says, but it indeed causes positive changes through the body’s energy field. It releases the symptoms and cures the condition. A little bit, even of poison, can go a long way to raising the body’s vitality in the hands of a competent homeopathic doctor.

When John and I tested the energy level of supplements in various health food stores, homeopathics did indeed show a very high level of energy! We also found an amazing lot of conflict energy in many products, more on this later.

GET SOME STRONG ATTRACTORS INTO YOUR LIFE

High Resonance Energy Fields: HEAPs

Dr. Hawkins defines “Genius as a style of consciousness characterized by the ability to access high-energy attractor patterns.” Further “a genius mind may appear stalled and frustrated with the problem, but what he is really doing is preparing the field.”

Attractor energy patterns have harmonics, as do musical tones. The higher the harmonic’s frequency the higher the power. Breakthroughs come from shifting from lower attractor patterns to higher ones.

This statement begs the question: How do you create upper harmonics for high-energy attractor patterns? Clue: The Egyptian Pharaohs knew.

In Greek culture a goddess of inspiration is called a muse. This high-power energy is feminine, a non-ego-based system of openness and mental quiet. The more you can introduce HEAPs into your energy space the more they will raise your level of inspiration. Joy and inspiration go together.

When I spent some time in India with Punja Ji, a student of Ramana Maharshi, my energy level was raised (HEAPs) (Peace 600) so that I received an overview of myself and my game in life. I became subjective and witnessed my inappropriate behavior without defending and rationalizing. I released a lot. It all comes to a quiet mind.

When I left India and came back to the US, my energy level or optimism started going down. I thought it was because I had encountered stressful conditions. What I realized is that stressful conditions existed in abundance in India. When I returned to the US, I cut my flow line from Punja Ji and that bliss channel of HEAPs got turned off.

When I read that Dr. Hawkins tested Ramana Maharshi's energy level at 560, I had known from previous experience that using his picture on the input plate of the ChiBliss and VisionQuest / InnerQuest had released much for me in meditation. I have also utilized his energy in our ChiBliss CD collection. In fact he had come to me twice in a dream, looked at me with his knowing smile and when I looked into his eyes, I went through his eyes into a star-studded universe. All is within me, is within you.

VIBRANT HEALTH FOLLOWS ALIGNMENT WITH HIGH ENERGY ATTRACTOR PATTERNS

This for me is a new definition for psychosomatic medicine. It also further defines psychoneuroimmunology. Your immune system appreciates HEAPs.

HEAPs are a path to higher consciousness.

“A devotee can abet his own progress by merely focusing on an advanced teacher and thereby aligning with that teacher's energy field: in our testing, it was repeatedly shown that holding the image of an advanced spiritual teacher in mind made every subject so strong, regardless of his personal beliefs.”

This is illustrated when the newcomer from a lower level of awareness, who places himself in the influence of a higher awareness, is transformed "by osmosis" (entrainment).

POWER PATTERNS IN THE HUMAN ENERGY FIELD Vitality (Life Force) is Power and Electricity (without Life) is Force

A miracle is defined as when one gives up low-level attractors for much higher ones. One escapes or shifts the lower energy fields that have come to negatively influence their behavior. They no longer resonate to those lower, grosser fields.

The overriding question then is: “How can one stop or release the power of overriding, low resonance attractor patterns?” Examples of low-level patterns may include—attractions for violence, hate, greed, insensitivity, cheap hits of power, compulsive drug abuse, poor diet etc.

The answer appears to be to soak one’s energy field in an aura of HEAPs until one’s vibratory level is raised high enough to chart a new course of life! It certainly muscle tests that way.

BATHING IN HIGH ENERGY ATTRACTOR FIELDS FURTHER ENCOUNTERS WITH THE LIFE FORCE Go Soak Your Biofield in Joy!

Bathing in high-energy attractor patterns or fields became our new anthem. John, Deborah and I spent the next few months soaking our biofields in high-level chi. You might wonder, since I had all these great Life Energy Amplifier systems, was I not already accomplishing this? Yes, to a large degree I was. I was having the benefit of our noble gas, far infrared systems and the result allowed me to conceive of the benefit of an even more thorough, more dynamic and more kinetic saturation or field of protection. The new level of game demanded that I not use our past developments but test—through muscle testing, GSR and dowsing—if an altogether new methodology of HEAP delivery could be developed. It was time to put away the past for research purposes and concentrate on a new paradigm.

John and I started making audiotapes using my German computer, placing in the tapes a magnetic envelope, the energy signature of various holy or enlightened people. (By the way, this was before I read Dr. Hawkins’ book.) We would carefully test each to find those with the rating closer to 1000 (big right-handed spin on the pendulum, low biofeedback galvanic skin response (GSR) reading, arm testing stronger etc.). Sometimes testing a substance for its level of truth also validated the correctness of our analytical picks and sometimes it did not. Beliefs can lead you down many a nowhere path. However, the body never lies.

Remember that a photograph or picture captures the energy present (HEAPs) at that moment, for that subject. Not the past or the future. A Polaroid has a different quality and it can be used as a link to monitor the present and future for that subject. More on this later including a newly discovered distinction.

HEAP SATURATION

High-Energy Resonance

Our task was to saturate our energy bodies with the energy of a holy (Joy or Bliss energy) person through the medium of audiotape and then test if it held and how long it took to lose that energy remedy from our fields. We tested by dowsing, muscle testing and many of John's various energy-measuring devices.

When we found a successful basic formula, we added various forms of chi from additional chi masters to the mix. The process got even better. I was walking around all day listening to ocean sounds with the energy of saints and healers. Not a bad job—or retirement for that matter. Soon listening through headphones became encumbering and painful to the ears. We then loaded the energy field into crystals and placed them on our bodies. I had learned about this method through Dr. Marcel Vogel who developed the computer chip for IBM. I discussed this subject during many classes and personal meetings I had with him before he passed on. We were both presenters for many years at the US Psychotronics Association.

CRYSTAL BIOCHIP

The trouble with crystals is that when charged and placed upon the body, the wearer will vampire the energy or use it up quickly according to stress levels. The crystal soon depletes and its resonating potential is lost until re-charged.

The crystal is much like a computer chip, they are both made of silicon and both store energy. I've prayed to Marcel for help recalling these many conversations on this subject.

We then played the portable audiotape player through a crystal instead of headphones. It was much better for the ears; my hearing actually improved not having to hear that ocean roar all day. The energy process worked but I was still going through batteries and tapes quite quickly. We then went digital, losing perhaps some quality of signal at first. I would forget from time to time to bring this still somewhat bulky rig with me. Sometimes I would drop it or just take a day off for convenience sake. This would interrupt the experiment.

The good news is that I was sustaining the high-energy signatures in my body—at all the times I would remember to use the equipment. I definitely started noticing a subtle but steady shift in my optimism. I was embodying a few of the traits of Ramana Maharshi! There was no quick enlightenment here but a noticeable very slow shift to a higher outlook verified through dowsing and muscle testing. I lent a few research associates the tapes but they found many good excuses to get in only the minimum playing time. Still they tested as getting short shots or trickles of HEAPs into their energy fields. But not near enough to produce lasting change.

WIN TIME

The Biosignature of Winning

John had been working on a gambling project for many years called Win Time. It was the use of astrology to discover times of the conjunction of planetary aspects that predisposed intuitive choices. John used a random number generator to test his “luck.” At first I resisted the whole idea. I have never gambled more than playing nickel poker, losing no more than $3.50 or so per hour. I am part Scots and Irish and hate losing or wasting my money needlessly. I am a thrifty lad. Despite my resistance, I listened to John’s explanation regarding his project’s scientific possibilities. We arrived at a compromise. John got pictures of people winning large sums of money. We dowsed them and I muscle tested them for high-level energies (Joy and Peace). I found many had what I call high-level optimism. This High Level Optimism was the energy of choice for me. I needed to feel this to go the next intuitive mile.

We tested combining the winner's energy High Level Optimism with Ramana Maharshi and other holy people. No one minded. In fact the mix got that much better. By employing only "saint" energy from pictures, audiotapes or old films, we had limited our results to a more intangible inner plane. Adding the Win Time Energy, as we now call it, a whole new dimension of HEAP was born. I went to Lake Tahoe and tried gambling but at first found no change. I was just as disinterested in gambling as before. While gambling, I decided to try and find an old friend Brian Heinz who is up there one week per month. My Palm Pilot died and I had no Tahoe phone number for him. I stopped playing nickel poker and walked around the casinos thinking of how I might locate him. I visited every casino, six in all, and almost booked a room for the night at several hotels and finally decided to go back to nickel poker where I had started. I played again with no better luck and decided to leave. I went to the front door and there he was. At the exact same moment I was leaving, Brian and his wife Cecile were coming in. I had been in Tahoe only three days of that whole year. He is up there only one week per month on a time-share. He appeared in only one casino out of six, and we both came in and out of the same door at the exact same moment! If I had changed one past movement up until that moment, I probably would have missed him! There are many occasions I have missed friends there with agreed-upon meeting places and set times!

Realization: It is not how long you focus on a goal that determines the result but the quality of concentration, interest and focus you give it. It is the quality of intention (where you are on the scale), the priority you give it, that determines its satisfactory outcome.

HEAPs Are Controlled by Your Intention You Direct It According to Your Focus

These Win Time and holy energy HEAPs will transform what is most important or true for you, not necessarily what you spend your low level time concentrating on.

I find a similar manifestation happening as I listen to these win-time/holy person chi tapes. My gambling never improved big time. I did get, for the first time, 4 aces in 25 years but the $7 jackpot was not as interesting as seeing my old friends. I did find parking places much more easily. (Way more important.) I once laughed at my friend Franzi who pronounced, "My guru can find me a parking place." I thought that would be a great book title. As if that was a proper usage of a guru's energy. I also got a lot more green lights when walking. I even started to look with expectation for parking places. I found quite a few more with much less stress. Not everything transformed though; many stressful issues remained the same. I still made many mistakes.

John and I kept testing and finding the energetic signatures of Win Time and holy people in our energy fields as we kept listening to tapes or digital renderings through crystals or headphones. I played them through the ChiBliss system with the same good results and no headphones at last. I just lay on the transducer which I placed under my mattress and blissed away. In that I was unwilling to spend most of my day lying down, I soon went back to the tape format.

Inasmuch as parking places, green walk lights and a few "coincidences" were turning up, I felt a very slow but not steady energy shift toward the higher harmonics of Joy and Bliss. It was slow going. I started intensely disliking the headphone energy delivery system. I prayed for a "no muss, no fuss"—as Deborah would say— delivery system that looked more like taking a pill or turning a knob. I prayed and affirmed such a development, grumbled and continued the tape listening process. I graduated to a far infrared (FIR) headband with a crystal and coil connected to a digital player. It looked and felt funny. I looked like I might be from a UFO suicide death thrill kill cult. I longed for complete invisibility.

One day John found a computer chip that could hold a very small amount of bioenergy and it was definitely not a crystal. John began programming these with our special house mix, Win Time and Saint Mix. When placed upon the skin they emitted a very infinitesimal signal detectable in the subject's biofield. We searched high and low for additional chips that could do a better job. We did not find a better chip but we did find a better chip material or medium for the circuit material. It passed the dowse with flying colors. We bit the financial bullet and had a few manufactured at great expense. They worked well. I carried 3 on my left wrist under my watchband or on a string around my neck over my thymus. Both positions work but left wrist, the bodies receiving side, seemed to work best. Perhaps the still weak signal strength had something to do with it.

The Biochip passed even the water test when I accidentally went swimming with it. The tape player and coils would have drowned. The first week went blissfully until we found out the manufacturing costs! I did not sleep well that night. The programming time to make bioenergy chips ready was also extreme. Another product for the rich and famous I guess. My next disappointment was that my body got used to the same energy program day after day. The program I chose utilized stimulating energy for daytime wear. I wisely chose not to use that same program at night.

After a few weeks of day wear I stopped noticing change. I took the chips off my body and after a few days re-applied them. I felt a small shift and then nothing. The dream had died, limp on my left wrist. If only I could have continued the process of ascension that I had felt in the first week. The trouble was that each chip cost $500 to $1,000 to manufacture. I was heartbroken. All that money spent and we had reached a plateau.

Then came the idea to try a new mix. I went back to the old tape format and re-mixed with new saints, new Win Time players, an energized picture of Tesla, sacred geometry etc. I started making progress again! After much more research, it seems that the vitality process from a tape or chip will go flat or release, meaning, do its job and then you then need a next tape or chip. This meant sadly that it might take hundreds of tapes (God help me) or chips to bring someone to that high state of joyful energy. 100 chips times $1,000 = $100,000. That is getting into the cost range of my old processing group even at a conservative estimate. Maybe the real figure is more like $200,000 or more.

The chip was easy to use though, very convenient. Deborah was excited about making jewelry out of it. Many people held the chip and felt the small trickle of energy. What they did not know was that, perhaps as some say about sex, the first time or first week is best. I could now see participants going through a chip per week. This cost is perhaps similar to a cocaine or horse racing habit. It felt like we were gambling.

The key for the chip is to vary the energy process in waves. The more you vary the signal, the less the body gets used to it and the more facets or blocks you successfully process. I loaded my biocomputer, from the same mysterious German Doctor, with the energy fields from minerals, stones, colors, pics of people who had just accomplished a great success. I dowsed for people in Joy (540) and Peace (600) and programmed the resonance into chips, tapes, crystals etc. I was determined to have this work.

I went into altered states plastered with chips, crystals and tapes. I then found that some energies could be experienced at the same time while others canceled each other out. John calls this “a bridge too far.” One more disappointment. More is not better once again.

FAR INFRARED Wearing HEAPs

We tried many methods of making the chip’s output greater. The best was combining it with a crystal as they would both hold and amplify the designer chi program. But then comes the problem of carrying around a large, heavy crystal. You may notice in our ORI LLC. catalog that we did offer Far InfraRed clothing. This clothing comes from cloth that Deborah and I made from crystal and gemstone embedded thread. Deborah is a former clothing and jewelry designer. We had fabricated crystal or silica with additional stone fragments spun into thread and then into cloth. We started to offer them and then chose not to, and chose instead to concentrate on what products we already had. Good choice at the time.

InfraRed T-Shirt

When we placed the chip on the FIR clothing the whole shirt, headband, belt, pillowcase, sheet, coat or what have you, it became like a much larger chip. Good result. This only worked with FIR. No other fabric we tested would work. Wearing a FIR T-shirt would equate to carrying around with you a very large and heavy crystal because the surface area of the clothing is large and made full body contact, with a complete covering of the upper torso. This full skin contact made for full transfer of the bioenergy field. Still the cost of the FIR clothing, which was once again not cheap, plus the chip cost put us into the $700 range. I enjoyed my FIR clothing and went into an expensive and rich altered state.

BROADCASTING HEAPs

Sympathetic Magic

While in altered states I visualized when I was 13 years old and had an amateur radio license, WA6AUG were my call letters. I dreamed of broadcasting a steady stream of bioenvelopes with various HEAP formulas over the airwaves. My dad and uncle and myself were all amateur radio enthusiasts. I quit the program in high school when I found my personal growth stunted and moved on to having a social life with cars and girls in that order.

My next hallucination was acquiring a radio station and playing energy over the air. I fancied myself an EJ (Energy Jockey). This was not a bad idea as our 5D Sound CDs were getting great raves. They were the Number One seller through the Tools For Wellness catalog company. Thanks, Tools.

The problem is that people might listen when driving or working with potentially dangerous equipment. There go the liabilities and insurance premiums. I guess a compromise would be a really happy hour. Or as Dr. Hawkins might say, a Joy hour at 540 vitality on your dial.

It was too bad the chip was not tuneable. You could then dial in any energy program you wanted, true designer energy. John got an MP3 player and we came up with channels of different energy signatures. It was like an energy jukebox but still cumbersome, requiring batteries etc. Younger people like wearing MP3 players almost fulltime but do older adults? I think not. I do not want to invent and market a stress-producing device. The search went on.

I saw no clear path and dramatized my frustration by attempting to trick John by hiding numbers or similar items in envelopes and having him discover through dowsing which item was which. John amused himself during our downtime by walking with his friends in seedy locations and discovering where drugs had been used. He would dowse like a dowser looking for gold, water, oil etc. He would dowse for drug energy and paraphernalia. He would inevitably find the cotton swab or needle or empty bag where the drug would come from. This oftentimes required digging. He could even find which car had that same substance. This was our amusement.

John and I would also go to health food stores and gasp at the conflict energy present in bottled water just for an example. Water is normally positive or neutral spin. Much like a crystal. Water has great potential to store and amplify energy. Water as well as most drinks and supplements store, as crystals do, all the conflict energy from fluorescent lights, refrigerator motors, heaters, blenders, grinders etc. We demonstrated that chipping the main offensive appliances with HEAPs can immediately clear all the conflict energy and make the products feel alive once again. It can also make the store feel more mellow—releasing all the jittery molecules that co-create anxiety. Less fatigue means higher resonance.

VIBRATORY LINKAGE

Hand Shake Protocol

One day John was dowsing and we found that the chips talked to each other on very special occasions, much as drug energy did to drug paraphernalia. The energetic signature was the same on cotton swab, needle, bag and car. This chip communication, however, was due to minute emanations inadvertently caused by proximity to other biofield equipment, namely my German biocomputer. Communication with our chip, unlike other items, was much amplified when it got near this biocomputer.

Our chip's life force energy fields were in fact a living organism much like Wilhelm Reich, M.D.'s orgone accumulator, of which I have built many. Dr. Reich also discovered a proto-life form called a bion. It seemed that these life force signatures like to communicate inasmuch as they are on the same wavelength. Incidentally, Dr. Reich taught that destructive and violent impulses stem from an inability to experience pleasure. The pleasure principle again? Another good argument for raising your vibratory rate to the highest high through HEAP biotransmissions.

We found that if we alter the chip's programming by even a small increment away from a specific formula we found, it no longer transmits or receives. We came upon this exact formulation "accidentally." Thank you, Tesla.

We programmed a larger 500 megabyte chip we had made with this special biotransmission formula and the communication was detectable. We next build a "super-transmitter" that broadcast using scalar waves. We based it upon our scalar field featured in our earlier LEA devices. The scalar frequencies drove energy remedies through almost solid armoring releasing much traumatic cellular memory.

We utilized my German computer and transmitted from our new transmitter to the receiver chip. We analyzed the receiver chip and yes our biofields did receive the transmission. The game was afoot again.

THE SPIN DOCTORS

How did we know when we were improving energies and what evidence or signatures did we look for?

To digress a bit, all electronics, motors, electrical equipment, chemicals, toxic drugs, fluorescent lights, microwaves, TVs, fans, air conditioners, hair dryers, computers, radiation, electrical motors, underground streams crossing and diseases we have tested have a negative or counterclockwise spin. Does this tell you anything?

The pendulum goes counterclockwise when testing it. Try it yourself and see. You do not need to be a master dowser to try this experiment. This is called vibrational dowsing; you are not asking any yes or no questions. You need no spirit guides for this. Spirit guides need not apply. You simply detach from any outcome, get into the state of objective surprise and watch the pendulum spin. Take note of the speed, pattern of spin and direction. A button on a thread will do if you do not have a formal pendulum.

Brass Pendulum

All healthy, living organic matter that we have tested including plants, organic fruits, organic veggies, fish, fresh herbs, oxygen, noble gasses, BioLasers, HEAPs, sacred geometry and vital humans spin clockwise. Note: All devices that use electricity spin counterclockwise, the exception being when you bestow them with life force energy; then they spin the healthy clockwise or positive spin.

When looking for a reagent or energy remedy, we look for a strong clockwise spin. This clockwise motion strengthens vitality, whereas counterclockwise weakens or de-vitalizes.

Rodents and pigs spin energetically counterclockwise as do shellfish. This is why the Bible states not to eat these meats. They reverse the human energy system's clockwise vitality spin. Wayne Cook did the first publishing I saw on this outside of the Bible. Thank you, Wayne.

The Life Energy Amplifier spins clockwise because the FIR and noble gasses are alive and vital, so are the minerals, mineral plating, FIR and the gemstone powders and oxygen.

When we experience the 5D Sound CDs and special research HEAP energy tapes, we would increase our clockwise spin. Stress and exhaustion decreased it. Thinking of stressful patterns decreased it. Meditating on Ramana Maharshi (RM) increased it just as Dr. Hawkins said it would. Dowsing is an alternative to muscle testing.

ELECTRONIC SMOG

Electrocuted Building Syndrome

When we turned on the LEA Atlantis HighLife, it would change some of the electrical outlets and small appliances from lefthand to righthand spin. I would notice a larger righthand spin after using it for a session. This is true of both the biochip and our experimental audiotapes but much moreso the chip. Whatever object you placed it on would go into clockwise spin. If you placed the chip on an electrical outlet, many electrical appliances within the house would give out the win time/RM/chi spin.

HEAPs emanate out of the appliances and electrical boxes.

The Power of an Optimistic Energy Flow

The same happened for water when applying it to the main water input. The larger memory 500 megabyte chip would balance conflict energy fields even faster. The electrical fields do not seem to be able to resist the vital mix and do not require varying fields. What conflicted electrical field could resist healing from chi master, saints and lucky people? So we did discover a very potent organizer and transformer of conflict energies, the downside being we were talking about a $500 chip plus lots of programming time. The small chip size however was intriguing. Easy to ship and easy to apply with sticky tape or Velcro to a waterpipe or electrical outlet.

We then tested many small devices on the market that were said to clear up ELF and EM pollution and electronic smog. I was both shocked and surprised to find that they made very little difference. John tested a leading one and it only cleared up the conflict energy on a small part of the fridge whereas our smaller chip did the whole fridge plus some additional outlets in the house.

TRANSMITTING DESIGNER CHI

We definitely did find some electrical clearing tasks that were too big for the chip alone. When you broadcast or transmit to the chip, however, that transmission could easily amplify its power 10 times or more. We tested the chip for broadcast over many parts of San Francisco. It always worked. It worked so well in fact that you could use it as a compass or GPS to find the direction (direction finder) that the transmitting “chip” was located in. We tried it from San Francisco to New York and it still worked. We had actually inadvertently built a receiver circuit that took a scalar wave or low frequency informational wave without altering the bioenvelope or energetic signature one bit. Our transmitter was much like my old amateur radio days. I was an EJ (energy jockey) at last.

I called our new chi station KBLISS. I was able to get rid of my old 3 chip protocol and just carry one larger capacity chip under my watch on my left wrist.

With the varying fields or formulas transmission added, my body did not acclimate, or adapt, to the chip like before. Day after day a steady supply of holy people, chi and win-time energy would trickle-charge my energy field. The first week was not that dramatic after the initial first time feeling dissipated. It was, however, rock steady, and parking places, green walking lights and other minor “coincidences” abounded. John and I got more into sync, finishing each other’s sentences and coming up with the same or similar results with totally different procedures.

ACTION AT A DISTANCE

It felt a little but only a little like my old radionics days--back then there was no measurable or dowseable result. At that time, it was after all, just my intention. Now there was a dowseable and muscle-testable biosignature appearing around the chip, increasing upon broadcast. Now it was not simply my radionically projected intention; the result was automatically replicable with me or without me in the circuit. With previous radionics broadcasts, I never tested stronger, nor could I dowse or muscle test or perceive any real discernable effect. Radionics back then was, from my viewpoint, all operator or psychic intention. I had known Dr. Hal Puthoff and Pat Price when they were doing their psychic research at Stanford Research Institute (SRI). I know the power of the mind and what it can do when clear and focused. This time it was different; it even felt different. I could dowse or muscle test a very noticeable vitality signal wherever

I placed the chip. It imparted a big righthand spin (its energetic signature) to every lefthand-spinning electrical or electromechanical device to which I applied it. We could even isolate, at receipt point, each energy remedy ingredient in the overall broadcast signal.

What a thrill it was when we could always isolate the Win-Time, RM, and other chi signals or signatures. We even broadcast colors to see if they would arrive safely and they did. We tried to send and receive even more complex waveforms with success.

I never tried to change the spin or signature of a pig or rodent though, as I did not want to alter their God-given electrical signal. Who wants a peeved pig or a rabid rodent?

AN ENVIRONMENT THAT LOVES YOU

I was able to reverse and vitalize my computer's smog, indoor lights, TV, fridge, a friend's microwave, energy congested water, crystals that had absorbed stress for patients, even my car and motorcycle. My entire house's electrical system was now righthand spin when I placed enough chips on key appliances. But, better yet, I noticed a definite increase in vital signal coming from these various vitality-robbing appliances. I noticed I liked and at times even loved (Love 500) the way my computer, TV, fridge and lights felt. When I was near them my body dowsed more vital rather than less vital. I got into a higher relationship or resonance with my environment. I dropped my conditioned resistance to operating many appliances. I was more in the moment (Peace 600).

OUR BODIES ARE JUST LIKE CRYSTALS; THEY STORE ENERGY Resonance Tuning

I was often invited into people's homes to dowse their crystals and stone jewelry. Most often I find them lefthand spinning and feeling conflicted and clogged. I would then place a chip on one of them in a group and they all would start spinning clockwise. After a while I took the chip off them and re-tested. All were clear. I realized the hazard of wearing crystals or precious gemstones on your body or having them in your space and collecting de-vitalizing energy patterns. Without the ability to clear them you are just storing and amplifying low-grade energy attractor patterns.

Crystal

Oftentimes people stored the very patterns they thought they had unloaded. They had of course unloaded them, but the patterns re-collected in the crystal collection. Why carry files that store fluorescent lights, TV smog, upsets etc.? Crystals do it well and faithfully. Crystals, just like bodies, store both negative and positive energy. With the biochip they clear and stay clear, as long as the chip is there constantly clearing it.

TURN BACK THE ELECTRICAL POLLUTION CLOCK

In the late 60s I lived in Woodside, California, in a house my dad built in the woods with no one around. We used a generator for occasional electricity and propane for lights. I used battery everything. We had no electrical neighbors, only animals, flora and fauna. My present house started feeling like that old forgotten feeling. My cravings for that old spacious place started disappearing. I found that I no longer minded the sound of the fridge like I used to.

MY GURU IS MY TOASTER

Even outside noise was less distracting. I found that once you energy chip your water, electrical and key appliances, the house takes on a whole new dimension in being. It feels more present in the now. I was also feeling less rushed and less hassled. I even bathed in the light signal of my projection TV. It now had a soothing effect on my body rather than the previous jittery one. It was formerly a jittery molecule, as Deepak Chopra might say. My environment was coming upscale every day. Were my appliances headed for Joy? Can there really be such a thing as an enlightened toaster? All is energy. Ramana Maharshi would definitely say yes, as all is GOD. We are just reversing entropy. Bit by bit.

Again, I need to point out that the chip by itself (without broadcast) was not powerful enough to continually turn around many conflict energy devices such as big blenders, car engines, swimming pool motors, etc. The broadcast made that difference.

One time I called John on the phone and later placed a chip on my phone's mouthpiece. I asked John first to dowse his big TV with no chip applied by me to the phone. It was, of course, counterclockwise. I applied the chip to my phone and asked him to place his phone on his TV. My chipped phone's transmission had enough power to slow down the negative spin and to neutralize it for a few seconds but soon the TV would again gain ground and then the chip would start to tug clockwise again. It was an energetic tug of war. It also reminded me of arm wrestling. The chip held its own thanks to all of the HEAP's that I was transmitting. Thank you, Alexander.

VITALITY BROADCASTING

On broadcast mode, however, placing the chip on any TV we have tested will stop the negative spin in its tracks. Even placing the chip on any electrical outlet will do the same. Also the same for some other TVs, radio, toaster, heater etc. We found that the higher the resonance of the link, the more potent the transmission, the more power to overcome entropy. One chip well placed will correct a number of appliances in one house.

RESONANT CAUSATION

The continuous broadcast of energy to the target receiver chip potentizes it to appear as a megachip, with continuous refueling capability. The chip is in essence "packing along with it" a very big transmitter weighing several hundred pounds and occupying one full room! The link between the chip and the transmitter is the key. The transmitter and chip are in HEAP resonance. The link frequency uses the ethers (etheric field surrounding the planet) to relay communication.

Our chi signal also travels on the earth's magnetic grid. Think of a spiritual cellphone.

In fact, one of my earlier visions was playing 5D Sound CD energy to cellphones around the world allowing the customer to change stations by keypad to customize the energetic program. Please press key #1 for Dark Forces Release channel, key #2 for Muse Inspiration channel, Key #3 to go back to Creativity Enhancement channel, etc.

“THE BIGGER THEY ARE THE HARDER THEY FALL.”

– Charles Atlas

HEAPs Seek Stagnant and Stuck Chi.

When broadcasting via biochip to a conflict energy site, be it a house, car, cellphone, TV, computer, air conditioner, professional appliances etc., you are steadily feeding the target or subject the energy of hypothetically say 10 chips every few minutes (many tens of gigs of energy). Interestingly enough, the receiver chip has an Aikido-type energy or Aikido reflex. We observed that the worse the negative spin of an offending appliance, the greater the positive energy emanation from it once converted, transmuted or transformed. In other words, the more negative energy, the greater the conversion factor. It's similar to alchemy in that you are turning a toxic metal (lead) into a spiritual metal (gold). The key is to have a high-energy template that easily brings conflict energy into resonance with it. When enturbulated energy is injected with coherent, high-chi life force particles containing healing intention waves, then balance is restored. In religious circles this is called praying. In neuroscience this is called a following response.

The hardest substances to get to outflow positive energy are energetically dead in the first place. (This is really ok as no--or extremely low-energy items are not usually offenders anyway.) The best candidates to become positive energy generators are big offending negative energy makers. It changed the whole energy character of my swimming pool motor. What was formerly tension-creating noise is now emanating motor sounds that carry vital energetic blessings. Imagine being initiated into higher spiritual realms by an electrical appliance. Why not! The bigger they are the harder they fall!

STUDENT RAGE HOTEL SYNDROME

Work Smart Not Hard

I recently took a trip to a university for research purposes and checked into a student room. The whole room seemed weird. It had previously been rented by students and I suddenly got the impulse to throw the furniture out of the window. I do not usually do that. The stuck student thought forms were obviously plastered all over, probably with rage and resentment. When I felt resentment in the room, it reactivated my old stored student charge and unknowingly I started to dramatize it.

I immediately placed chips on the waterpipe, electrical outlet and various appliances. Within a few minutes I felt the win-time, healing chi and RM energy flowing from every major appliance in that room. I dowsed and muscle tested and every chipped appliance plus water had a positive spin. They all emanated Peace and Love. The house cleared rapidly and the furniture stayed put. At one point I lifted up the furniture to test a hunch. I observed that it was lead heavy. I think management constructed it purposely heavy for just that reason, to keep it from getting flying lessons.

Note: I could also have used our 5D Sound CDs to do much the same thing but on a smaller scale. The energized sound would also have penetrated the room's objects and cleared the environment, turning the room's negative electrical field into a positive ally with the broadcast-to-receiver chip gave just that much more chi power to clear the job at hand. And it was all done silently.

Sometimes when we chipped a critical mass of appliances, we would also notice that once the chi energy got into the electrical grid it processed other rooms in the house—garage and outbuilding sometimes included. First I would always dowse, however, to see if I got a yes from higher consciousness to perform such experiments. I always got a yes, and others dowsed that same yes answer also. I do not need any bad karma.

THE NEXT GENERATION OF CHIP

(Please feel free to muscle test or dowse along while reading this material to evaluate the validity of these statements.)

After making many field trips to lots of different cities we grew even more confident of the chip's ability or power (definitely not force) to receive a biotransmission and thus convert conflict energy environments into smooth vital energy sanctuaries. City-to-city transmissions were no problem. It was smooth sailing. When we broadcast via chip receiver to these localities an aura or, as I came to call it, a circle of protection ensued. I want to make clear that people did not all at once transform their stressful behaviors.

CHI POWER

This is not force but power, it is inclination. It is "beating" geography by virtually moving or transporting power-spot or sacred-site energy to where it most wants to be. When you permeate an environment with coherent life force, it is like having a lucky saint pray for it who is good at winning large sums of money and does full time chi healings 24/7. It is like having a staff of angels. It is transporting the energy of a power spot to a conflicted area. It is being near sacred geometry. It feels subtly spacious and open. It is the first step in turning an area around and bringing it upscale to Reason, Joy and Bliss. It is not an overnight sensation. It is a subtle shift or transformation in attitude. It is a slow trading in of spiritual resignation for optimism. Sensitives can often feel the change almost immediately though.

PREPARING THE FIELD FOR RESULTS Resonance Equals Harmony.

As we continued to broadcast the KBLISS energy programs to ourselves on a 24/7 basis, I noticed a feeling that a miracle was just around the corner. I had not felt like that on an ongoing basis for a long time. I was now peaking into the band of Joy. I was expecting good things wherever I looked!

The next goal was to find a way to make a cheaper chip. I transmitted Tesla energy to myself from his picture. We seemed to try just about everything. One day I engaged in imprinting into a round Capatian crystal the energy and pattern of the chip. I mean not just the energy contained in the programming of the chip, but also the energy of the special material that the chip was made from, plus circuitry in Holographic (remember 600-700?) 3D form. It worked. The Hologram, being of a high level of coherence, gave a 3D grid to a substance. (When you add subtle energy you go to 4D and 5D hence 5D Sound.) It is like projecting a 3D image of a chip's circuitry over, let us say, a crystal and then infusing and structuring it with a permeating tachyon template print—an energetic template or an energetic matrix. When it is potentized with a specific energetic mix, it makes the life force comfortable and chi flows, then you get alchemy. The outcome is some sort of tuned vitality circuit that uses the ethers as a communication line. It is a high spiritual force with negentropic power. It just wants to love you and take you higher!

PUTTING THE SAINTS TO WORK

It did take a long time to structure that first crystal but nevertheless it did work. The Capatian's organic energy also helped give the broadcast a better impedance match to the body's biofield. Thanks again, Dr. Marcel Vogel.

The new chip technology passed all tests. Before our broadcasts, John would spend some time each day, sometimes up to one-half hour, releasing conflict energy from his field. He was religious at doing this. Sometimes he would test a practitioner's energy equipment and need to get rid of the un-biofriendly "attunements" quickly to save his health. With both our old and new chip John found very little or no energy clutter, even though he was, through dowsing, going into resonance with much conflict electrical energy. He also lives on a busy street in San Francisco. I felt the difference also. I was less, or no longer, dependent on time off or healing time. Day-to-day upsets were not finding much of a place to roost.

We then looked at how to use organic crystal chips in our transmitter components. Some years ago I learned a tachyon process from the German research group. It allowed a permeating energy field, or structuring, to be placed on most substances. Subtle energy pioneer David Wagner of American Tachyon featured some of my research in his book Tachyon Energy a New Paradym in Holistic Healing (written with Gabriel Cousens, well worth reading). The German technology allows a tachyon field or a faster-than-light field to be placed upon crystals and many metals and minerals.

Placing a high-chi tachyon field of the exact characteristics of the chip upon minerals (very much like a 5D hologram), some metals and even some forms of paper (with the appropriate antenna) and some cloth allows them to be transformed into high-gain receivers of vitality signals. See our sticker chip at the end of this copy.

“I” had just done something tremendous but we were not sure of what the mechanics were. We knew that we just gave birth or at least re-created some very unusual energy but in hindsight we did not know what questions to ask with muscle testing or dowsing. Somehow we took a power vs. force quantum leap.

We had outgrown our need for the chip and saved our customers and ourselves a lot of money. Good going, Ramana.

THE EGYPTIAN CONNECTION SPIRITUAL RESONANCE

I have always been fascinated with Egypt. I asked my parents to take me to every mummy film that I could find. I never liked the mummy much, but spent my viewing time concentrating on the hieroglyphs on the tomb walls. I also ate up the sculptures. Later in life, I realized that the Atlanteans came to Egypt after the flood and sowed the seeds of their Atlantean culture and spiritual technologies.

Three years ago I attended an American Society of Dowzers conference in Santa Cruz, California. John’s mastery and a new optimism from HEAPs had endowed me with new neuropathways, an increasing curiosity for new developments in the field. It was a great conference. By the way, at the conference, I was continually broadcasting the Win-Time and Saints mix to myself. Each night there is a drawing for prizes. On two consecutive nights I was talking to one of the winners as their name was drawn. Contact luck?

Virtual Cone (VCP)

There I had the privilege of meeting a foremost Egyptologist, Robert J. Gilbert, Ph.D., who gave a most remarkable slide and lecture presentation at the conference. It is available from him on videotape. Robert studied with Egyptian Egyptologist, Dr. Ibrahim Karim, who is able to translate hieroglyphs, and learned some specific technology for measuring vital or sacred energy. He learned from the Egyptian Pharaohs the secret of creating a gateway between the physical and the higher worlds. Dr. Karim discovered an Egyptian pendulum capable of measuring many bands of both detrimental and rejuvenating energies. In the 1940s, French researchers discovered radiesthesia and built a pendulum called the Universal Pendulum that could both detect and emit the 12-fold spectrum of meta-energy which makes up our universe. John had worked with this device earlier and learned much.

There exist both detrimental and sacred rays. A later dowsing device called a Virtual Cone Pendulum was created in modern day, or at least re-created, in Egypt by Dr. Karim. It detects amongst other fields 3 bands of most essential spiritual energy:

1. Horizontal Negative Green
2. Higher Harmonic of Gold
3. Higher Harmonic of UltraViolet

#1 Horizontal Negative Green is sometimes called by the French “Radiesthesia Gray” because it lies between black and white bands of the 12-fold spectrum. It is of particular significance for us as the ancient Egyptians, specifically the secret inner priesthood, described this band as vital energy found in all power spots and human energy fields. It is the “communication wave” (clue), which transmits energy and information between the various planes of existence. In the Grail tradition, it is seen as an Etheric Life Energy Wave. It passes through solid matter. It is much like radio waves that carry sound bites of information.

#2 Higher Harmonic of Gold is the energy field of saints. It is the golden light surrounding their heads and bodies in the icons of most traditions. It is connected to physical gold. It is the energy of divine wisdom. It is literally the higher harmonic of physical gold. It connects directly to higher planes of existence, meaning its frequency resonates with higher dimensions. It is another gateway. It has a protective energy envelope against negative energies and negative beings. It emanates from the golden proportion also known as the Phi Ratio. This proportion is found in all biological life as well as DNA and sacred architecture. It can be seen as alchemical gold; it is radiated by the highest spiritual beings. It is considered by some to be the radiance of the perfect spiritual body. It increases when people pray (700 or higher?).

#3 Higher Harmonic of UltraViolet light can be seen as higher astral energy. Like Higher Harmonic of Gold, this field also increases when we pray. It is called the atmosphere of the angels. It is deeply relaxing and strengthening to the immune system at a very deep level. It is a sustaining energy. Its color is dark purple. Near Death Experience researcher, P.H. Atwater, says that during the Near Death Experience people who see the “dark light” at the end of the tunnel afterwards report the highest I.Q. gains. I like to call it higher astral light. It may be considered an energetic smartpill.

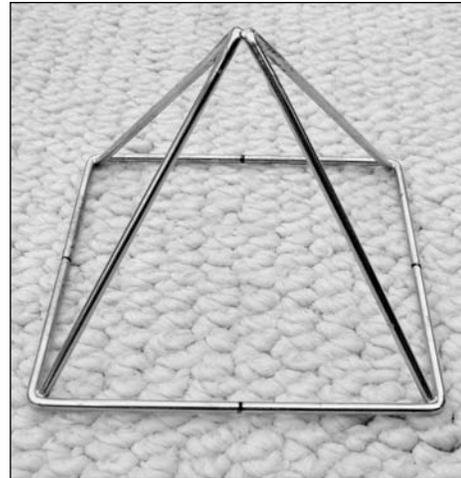

These three fields together create spiritual resonance. They are the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, also the Hindu trinity, I believe.

KIDS DON'T TRY THIS AT HOME.

Negative Green Has Two Primary Components: A Vertical and a Horizontal Wave.

The Negative Green Vertical Wave is toxic, a disease-like vibration dehydrating tissue and suppressing life force. In Egypt Vertical Negative Green was used to mummify and to preserve food. All microwave towers, TVs, computers, cellphones, motors, electrical devices and radioactivity radiate vertical green. This toxic energy, sorry to say, is ever prevalent in your home, office, car, and boat radiating from electrical appliances. Most of you probably have read about the medical findings of two colliding underground streams and their unwanted effect upon co-creating cancer cells. This noxious earth energy is a Vertical Negative Green generator.

Corrected Pyramid

Corrected Pyramid

It has been found that by increasing the other (rejuvenating) waveform, Horizontal Negative Green decreases the Vertical Negative Green in disease conditions. Sources of Vertical Negative Green include not only man-made appliances but also noxious toxic detrimental earth energies known in almost every bioculture. You may hear them referred to as Dragon lines; ley lines, Hartman Lines, Curry Grid etc. All bacteria, viruses etc. have been found to have a vertical component. Sick and stressed persons radiate Vertical Negative Green. See the studies by Albert Abrams, M.D., of San Francisco, the father of modern radionics. Dr. Abrams proved that running a wire from a sick patient to a well subject or just proximity to a sick person, some of the Vertical Negative Green transfers. The same with a positive energy also. A saint's energy transfers to a devotee. Contact high?

The Negative Green Horizontal Wave is as vitalizing as the vertical is detrimental. It is rejuvenating. It is a spiritual carrier wave used by the Egyptian Pharaohs for initiations into higher planes or realms of consciousness. It preserves the energy body integrity.

If you own a pyramid, it is emanating vital Horizontal Negative Green as well as some of the harmful Vertical Negative Green. Christopher Hills, Ph.D., mentioned this in his book Super Sensonics. Robert Gilbert had the French radioesthetists' books translated into English to gain much of this additional knowledge. I believe these are the same books that Dr. Hills refers to, but could not locate for translation. If you currently own a pyramid, there is a cheap fix to cancel vertical negative green using an ink marker.

We at ORI have done so with all our pyramids. They are clear of Vertical Negative Green and are channeling only the vitalizing Horizontal Negative Green as the Pharaohs intended. Contact Robert J. Gilbert, Ph.D., or myself for this corrective information.

MEASUREMENT

Material Science

The Virtual Cone Pendulum which was first discovered in Egypt has an adjustable waveguide to measure the presence of these three key horizontal rays and the one detrimental frequency of vertical green. It also measures additional energy bands.

In dowsing our LEA systems, we are Joyful (600) to report that they give off only a slight amount of Vertical Negative Green (as all electronic components inevitably do) but give off much larger amounts of the three beneficial energies especially the higher octave of gold. The three vital rays counteract or raise the vibration of the lower harmful one.

We have re-tuned our biotransmitter KBLISS to further amplify these three fields. All three of these primary rays or energy bands were present in our chip and broadcasts before we discovered Robert's Egyptian BioGeometry™. Nonetheless, his assistance in the form of his well written books and his consultations, like John's, have been invaluable. Thanks, Robert and Elizabeth.

In other words, this Horizontal Negative Green energy that the biochip and biocomputer had emanated became one of our principal broadcast bands between transmitter and receiver chip.

Armed with a pendulum capable of measuring additional fields of energy, we were able to vastly increase both our broadcast output and chip receiver linkage. We were in the chips!

ELFs and EMs

Meditation in a Sea of Conflicted Chi?

John and I have performed many tests. “Have the energy prove it to us” was our motto. John’s stepdaughter, Angi, performed a silent prayer while John dowsed for the presence of Higher Harmonic of Gold. It showed up just as expected. We even found that plaster statues of angels produced this HHG energy. John has a process where he daily clears out conflict energy in his body. I do the same with a different process. John and I started noticing that when wearing the more powerful chips featuring the amplified big three Egyptian vital fields there was no conflict energy to clear out. I had fewer and fewer complaints. When John got too busy and made a tape without Win-Time I got my first parking ticket in a long time near his house. Bad John.

CIRCLE OF PROTECTION ENERGY COCOON

It seems like the biochip’s circle of protection or energy field blocks all conflict energy so far tested from taking up residence in the body’s field. We re-discovered that the Higher Harmonic of Gold found in saints’ pictures and relics resonates with actual physical gold just as Dr. Gilbert states. I believe this gold energy is etheric or etherium gold but in a “chelated” bioenergetic, “biofriendly” form. It is a HEAP and an easy contact high, so to speak. This is also the definition of darshan or communion or being in the presence of a holy person or saint. The HHG easily “rubs off”. It always has been a transmittable field. It manifests as a halo in religious paintings. When receiving broadcasts or listening to tapes with Higher Harmonic of Gold and Higher Harmonic of UltraViolet realm of the angels, there is an uncanny feeling of centeredness and knowing. By increasingly using the Negative Green Horizontal carrier wave in broadcasts, the vitality of our old broadcasting technique is upstaged by a tried and true spiritual resonance.

When combining our earlier Win-Time and Saint house mix with chi-encoded geometry, additional shape-caused waves are introduced into the bioenergetic envelope. Dr. Gilbert addresses this in depth in Books 1 and 2 of his Egyptian-European Energy Work.

These sacred geometries increase the high level resonance of our broadcast formulas to an even higher level of Peace and Joy.

ELECTRICAL SMOG

Living in a Sea of Conflict Energy

Though we have not tested this experience with mainstream or material science, I can't help noticing the quietness of my environments when transmitting into the house's and office's electrical grid, main waterpipe and electronic components. When you biochip the main offending appliances, it is like turning lead into gold. The place just feels so much better, much like living in a house that uses battery or DC current instead of 60 cycles AC, which generate many bioscattering conflict harmonics. I can't help feeling a temple or church-like stillness. It is much like a feeling of awe as if divine geometry was used in the structure.

I felt this a lot when sleeping and meditating in a 10-foot base gold pyramid. I felt this a lot also when visiting European churches. When I was back in the busy electronic city, I couldn't wait to get outside, back to the woods. Think of the inside feeling like the outside when you bring nature's resonances indoors. Visualize a power spot.

ELFs MAY BE KILLING YOU.

BROADCASTING DIVINE GEOMETRY

John E. West, Ph.D., writes a paper called "ELFs May Be Killing You" about the mis-experiences of living in a sea of electrical pollution. At first I thought him an alarmist. After bathing in non-enturbulated and vital electrical fields for a few months I get a better sense for his alarm. Extra Low Frequencies from standard appliances create electronic smog. They adversely affect living systems.

He caught my attention when he stated that the US Navy has done a study on these unsavory phenomena and concluded that electronic smog is a biological stressor. It shuts down or disturbs cell duplication. It alters enzymes, suppresses immune system response, alters brain chemistry, time perception, and changes brain waves. It also stimulates the growth of cancer cells. Dr. West goes on to say that other symptoms include increased adrenal stress, greater and greater energy loss, eyestrain, anxiety buildup, nervous debility, short term memory loss, etc. Sorry to scare you, Bliss Kittens.

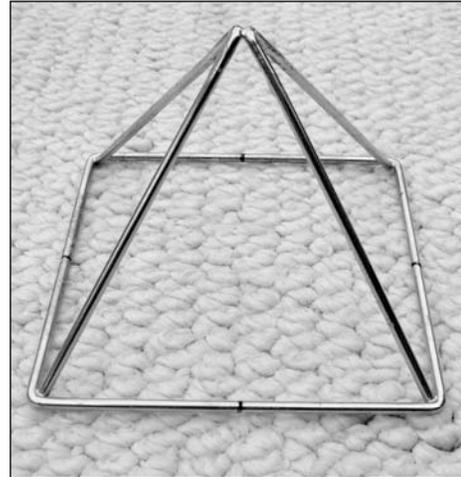

Since I have been using the biochip, I have not had any of these feelings while in electrically smoggy locations. It is not that the biochip kills the smog dead in its tracks or that your appliances no longer radiate electromagnetic emissions. It is that the spin or conflict energy patterns are not only neutralized but transmuted into high-chi-enhancing biofields of HEAPs.

The electrical magnetic field is still there but now carrying the frequency of the healthy cell, right spinning at 640 nm.

They have transformed their spin from counterclockwise to clockwise and raised their vitality from let us say Shame or Apathy, don't laugh, to Peace and Joy. The electromagnetic field is still there but now carrying the frequency of the healthy cell, right spinning at 640 nm. Conflict energy no longer sticks in your energy body nor does it steal or rob you of vitality. These artificial emissions now in fact raise it. The right spinning HEAPs have the ability to get me to love or at least highly appreciate my electrical appliances even more. Electrical appliances actually become broadcasters or psychotronic devices to emit high-coherence fields. Many symptoms clear up, as you no longer load up on electrical conflict energy. Nothing has been cured. You have substituted the field of plants, minerals and power spots for the field of electric motors and other biostressors. We have not as yet tested this experience with standard mainstream test equipment. I am not sure if such equipment outside of our lab exists!

FEEL LIKE AN EGYPTIAN.

The Egyptians see electromagnetic smog as Vertical Negative Green waves. They are simply carrier waves. They can potentially carry or transport any energetic information. It has been our loss up to this point that an electrical grid and appliances were inadvertently chosen that so badly clash with our biosystems. Once transmuted, however, from Vertical Negative Green to vital Horizontal Negative Green with high chi, Higher Harmonic of Gold and Higher Harmonic of UltraViolet, the formerly noxious carrier wave now bestows Blissful blessings.

Corrected Pyramid

I can only say from my experience as a trained observer that testing with L-rods, pendulums, Lecher Antennas, muscle testing etc. and plain, deep felt sense, that the space sure does feel a lot different.

THE PHARAOH'S BIOCHIP? Energetic Alchemy

Djed Wadj

My step-grandfather Allan was a Rosicrucian. When I was a little nipper, my parents took me to the Rosicrucian museum in San Jose, California and I wowed at all the Egyptian artifacts. I saw a few that reminded me of the Flash Gordon serials—you know, that art deco, Atlantean look. When I watched Dr. Robert Gilbert's videotape slide show, I again saw two devices that are called a Wadj and a Djed. As a young kid I thought they were some kind of a ray gun. Turns out I was partly right. Wadjs have been unearthed as far back as 4000 years ago. Yes, they do generate an energy flow.

No, you can't blast space ships with them. Yes, they create beneficial wave flows. Or what Fred Bell, Ph.D., would call the vitality globulin.

Combined, they produce the three vital energy fields mentioned earlier. In Pharaonic times, the combination was also a very sensitive pendulum for dowsing. Nowadays they continue to remind me of my Flash Gordon serials, which were my introduction to metaphysics.

As Robert points out in his breakthrough books and video, in ancient times, the Egyptian character Ptah is often shown holding the Djed. Ptah is the husband of Sekhmet and their union produces a child called Nefertum whose name means “beauty of creation.” When the two devices are placed together the child is formed that generates the three vital fields.

With this hot ancient Egyptian/Atlantean look I knew we were on the right track. John got busy dowsing and I got equally busy imprinting small round crystals with ORI's Tachyon energy circuitry. Round spheres gather and amplify these three energies anyway, as pointed out by the Pharaohs. The French radiesthetists also made use of this configuration. When I printed the chips' circuitry on the round, tachyon-processed crystals they naturally increase the amplification factor. They make a natural antenna and receiver for subtle energy broadcasts. The energetic broadcast plus its Tachyon field clears out not only Vertical Negative Green from the round crystal chips but also in the environment.

The new crystal pendant looks beautiful and is also very functional. It radiates bioenergy out of both sides and faces. You can tune it to your choice of 12 energy channel broadcasts 24 hours a day 7 days per week. There are no batteries to change, no tapes to wear out, no bulkiness. It hangs around your neck or can be placed in a pocket as long as it remains on the left (input side) of your body. It can be in the middle around your neck as the thymus is located there and is a gateway to the physical body and energy body. It is best utilized by having it touch bare skin.

If the broadcast is too strong in the beginning, keep the chip insulated from your skin by wearing it on top of clothing. If you want to turn it off just place it in a drawer. It is self-clearing and requires no maintenance.

INTERFACE

By broadcasting with sacred geometry, charged with HEAPs, we have further discovered that we are broadcasting a true 3D field. We are broadcasting a holographic signal that is modulated or structured by specific geometry that further resonates with the body's DNA. Holography is a virtual energy generator that gives additional linkage or interface to the body's energy field. When you add life energy you add bioharmony and expand to 5D.

LINE TO THE DIVINE TECH

When you utilize our biochip stickers or bliss chip pendant with your VisionQuest / InnerQuest or ChiBliss, you place it on your input well. This additional broadcast or broadcasts give you a wider range of energy remedies. They also add a whole new stage of amplification. They mega-amplify the chip's broadcast giving you a more intense clearing and re-balancing. When used on the Atlantis HighLife (AHL) the mix is further enriched. You additionally clear energetic pollution from your house's electrical grid for a cleaner field. When used with AHL or 5D Sound CDs by placing one sticker on you, one on each listener and one on the CD player and amplifier and speakers, you set up a flow line of bioactive energy that is target specific. You create a field of bioresonance.

We now incorporate the bliss chip and corresponding broadcast energy with all of our supplements and products. We broadcast to our 5D Sound CDs, supplements and all other Life Energy Amplifier devices. We have manufactured our ORI LLC. product labels, with our exclusive biochip technology, to enable them to receive bioenergetic transmissions or broadcasts. This also keeps the products clear so that they will not store conflict energy from nearby fluorescent lights, computers, electrical wires, heaters etc.

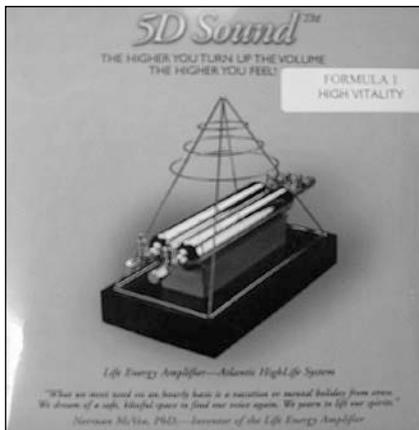

You will have some fun dowsing each of our products and noticing the big clockwise spin from each supplement. Compare it to the little clockwise or no clockwise spin of other energy products.

When listening to our CDs, place a biochip sticker on your audio amplifier, CD player and one on each speaker. Also place one sticker on each listener—under a watch or bracelet on the left or input hand is best. They work best on bodies when touching the skin.

KBLISS: TUNE INTO THE BLISS CHANNEL BROADCASTING LIFE ENERGY AMPLIFICATION 24/7

5-D Sound CD

Oxygen Research Institute LLC (ORI) has been engaged in the research of Life Energy Amplification for the past 17 years. ORI has sold thousands of Life Energy Amplifiers, 5D Sound CDs and Far InfraRed devices. These 5D Sound CDs have become very popular through easy access to ORI's website featuring 8 special formulations of energized streaming audio. Many people stay tuned to this streaming audio site, using it much like a radio station, filling their personal and business environments with our energy clearing broadcasts. The longer they stayed tuned the deeper the result.

The main limitation, however, was the listener's available hands-on time and the additional restriction and nuisance of carrying around a bulky, battery-thirsty, satellite-type radio with headphones.

Now through nanotech breakthrough,

5-D Sound CD

ORI LLC. has pioneered a new, wireless, high-chi energy channel that officially began broadcasting on Easter 2004. Some have dubbed it Blissman Wireless. This breakthrough is based on the research of Norman McVea, Ph.D., research psychologist and author of the books Coaching Self Inquiry and The Bliss Factor. He is also the author of 17 5D Sound CDs, far infrared products and many audiocassette programs and workbooks. The Bliss Channel also benefits from the rigorous testing of independent researcher John Civitan, a time-honored dowser and communications expert trained by the U.S. Army.

Bliss Factor Book

Indeed a “new” transmission frequency or wavelength has been rediscovered. It works as a vital biofriendly and bioenergizing carrier wave, faithfully transmitting Bliss Broadcasts anywhere in the world, much like satellite radio on a hands-free, walkabout basis. The Bliss Channel broadcasts 24/7, delivering energetic formulations designed to clear energetic blocks, releasing traumatic cellular memory—balancing subtle energy biosystems. The result is a measurable spiritual uplift, consistent with recent studies confirming the undeniable power of prayer.

We also add the energy field of etherium gold or etheric gold historically called Gold of the Gods, which is easily measurable and known to amplify spiritual energy. Its physical presence is noted in iconography depicting holy people with golden halos and auras. It is also a very effective clearing remedy for releasing conflict energy.

Our station KBLISS incorporates “prayer type energy” through computerization and state-of-the-art broadcast technology. Many say that it is similar to experiencing, long term, the Sedona vortexes. KBLISS delivers a high-chi energy field. When received over time by the “listener,” it feels much like a golden energetic cocoon, thus enveloping your energy field with a loving presence and a renewal of energetic being.

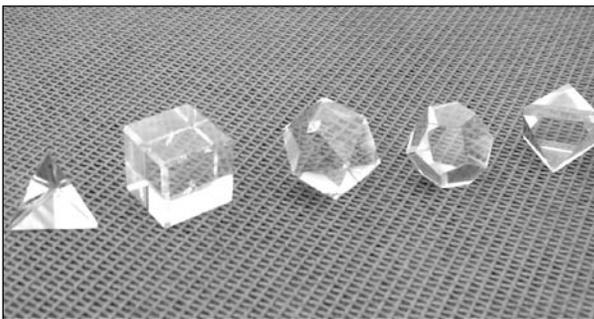

You can tune into the Bliss Channel utilizing our special receiver chip “radio” that links you to the Bliss Broadcast on a 24/7 basis. The broadcast transmits energetic remedies featuring shape-generated waves of sacred geometry; life-energy-amplified millions of times! Our pre-tuned receiver chip accesses our KBLISS station broadcasts, filtering out all noise and distortion for easy reception anywhere at any time! This energy receiver is miniature, impact tolerant, and powered by free energy. It never needs any batteries or other cumbersome electrical connections. It requires no servicing.

We broadcast on the ultra short wave, Horizontal Negative Green band, the same wavelength as the great pyramid of Giza. We employ the technology of Sympathetic Vibratory Physics. This easily measurable and thus most remarkable biofrequency was recently rediscovered by Egyptian researcher Dr. Ibrahim Karim. This “new” broadcast band has been written about in depth by an advanced student of Dr. Ibrahim Karim, American Egyptologist extraordinaire, Robert Gilbert, Ph.D., in Books 1 and 2 of his Egyptian-European Energy Work.

Access to KBLISS broadcasts is available via a miniature, free-energy powered, receiver chip pendant worn around the neck. More information on this exciting technology is available through Norman McVea, Ph.D.’s book The Bliss Factor.

YOUR BODY KNOWS

Sacred Geometry

It has been eight months since my latest entry. I have not been with ORI for quite some time. I have been free to pursue this body of research independently and unencumbered. Thank you, Deborah. John and I plus our research associates and my Bliss Channel broadcast clients, as a group, have come a long way. Dr. Karim's input along with that of Dr. Gilbert has been very much appreciated.

You Can't Fool Mother Nature! Life Energy Amplification at a Distance

Our first experiment showed that we could indeed broadcast our earlier Life Energy Amplifier (LEA) formulations at a distance. Yes, formulas 1-8 can be broadcast at a distance! We have found that a little stimulation, over a long time, works much better than a lot over a short time. The little-over-a-lot basis tends to keep one's energy field clear. I feel that this result is the most important and the most valuable in the long term. No cleansing responses from now on. It is also substantially less expensive with this service, as you pay as you go, rather than put up a lot of money up front. You also get 24/7 service with no breakdowns. The energy is always with you.

I do still love the 5D Sound with our earlier systems and the InnerQuest still produces rave reviews. But for me, for the next millennium, the value of varying the energy remedy broadcast gives an expandability and cost effectiveness that can't be beat.

RETROFITTING THE Life Energy Amplifier

Life Energy Amplifier—
Atlantis HighLife Model

The earlier LEA systems can now, with the addition of a receiver chip, also be broadcast, and customers can have the best of both worlds. When you place a receiver chip on the LEA's power cord or VisionQuest's or InnerQuest's input well, your LEA system becomes a receiver with a much amplified and expanded capacity. You are able to instantly update your energy remedy inventory, and all our newest developments are instantly available to you. It is like being online to an infinitely expanding research line. When you incorporate the original formulas 1-8 with the following newly discovered, basic energy remedies, the LEA's versatility goes up about 10,000%. Read on for the complete picture.

Life Energy Amplifier–

The second main experiment, in September, showed that it was not necessary to have a multitude of channels of energetic information for the participant to manually choose from. It was not necessary for the participant to choose, for example, amongst stimulating or relaxing, meditative or sports oriented energy channels. When you broadcast all energetic information channels, all at once, the body chooses which channels it wants and which it does not want. The body in its great wisdom will select only the energetic programs that are needed to achieve homeostasis. Even what would seem to the intellect like a chaotic group of energy remedies when all broadcast at once, seems to the body like a great big delicious menu or smorgasbord of energy signals.

The body's intelligence sees the delicacy, demonstrating its profound ability to know and then pick and choose accordingly. You can't fool the body's bioenergy systems. Your body does not lie!

Life Energy Amplifier–
Chi Bliss Model

I believe that they are life force itself

We lose these vital energies through aging and stress

We have also found, after rigorous testing, that many energy devices on the market utilize energy formulations that are non-essential, thus providing only a limited range of improvement. Some of them are very far from being anything like life energy. As soon as the formulation overruns, meaning it is no longer needed, it promptly gets in the way. It soon becomes a burden to the body's field and resistance takes place. The self-generated resistance drags the subject's energy level back down, returning him/her to somewhere near where he/she had started.

By the way, orgone accumulators developed by Wilhelm Reich, M.D., are a noted exception to some of the less vital systems mentioned earlier, as they output Positive Green. When you get to the end of this text, this statement will make much more sense.

META PROGRAMS

The Big 4

Universal Pendulum

Not so with the very fundamental and essential formulas that “we” or rather the research subjects’ bodies have chosen. I believe that the energy remedies we use (The Big 4) confirmed after much testing, are the very life force energies that we have when we are young and which we lose through aging and stress. I believe they are the life force itself. If you have any doubts about this, then let me extend the opportunity to you to become a research associate of ours. Purchase the Virtual Cone Pendulum (VCP) from www.Vesica.org and check each one of our hypotheses. Let us know your results.

Your Mission...

Measure children and then older adults for the 4 energy parameters mentioned:

1. Higher Harmonic of Gold
2. Higher Harmonic of Ultra Violet
3. Horizontal Negative Green
4. Positive Green

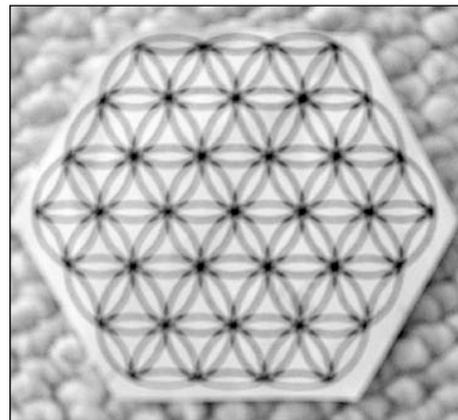

Notice the difference in quantity of these fundamental energies. Test pictures of saints and sages and notice that they emanate these same, younger person’s, energies. Test people when they pray and are prayed for. Notice the appearance of the Higher Harmonic of Gold and Positive Green.

The Virtual Cone Pendulum and the Universal Pendulum are invaluable tools both in measuring the body's receipt of the broadcast energy, as well as the body's filling and subsequent shutting off of an energy flow no longer required. With these essential bioenergies, it is not possible to overwhelm or overrun the body's field. There is a built-in protection mechanism and the intensity of the broadcast is so low that there is always choice. This would not be true, of course, of electroshock treatment or other such overwhelming, direct contact type "treatments."

ENERGETIC AMPLIFICATION

Putting the Divine Online

One aspect of our broadcast systems that never ceases to amaze me, is the amplification gain that you get from placing a receiver chip on an electrical cord of an audio amplifier, TV, heater, electric blanket, computer, light, laser, Atlantis HighLife LEA, etc. This is especially true now that we are using the Flower Of Life symbol, which was brought to my attention by Drunvalo Melchizedek in his book the Ancient

Flower of Life

Secret of The Flower of Life. The Flower Of Life (FOL) was found in Egyptian ruins and works very well as a receiver chip for our energetic broadcasts. Seems like our use of this design for broadcast purposes was scooped by the Pharaohs over 5,000 years ago. Talk about yesterday's news. The FOL is at least 5,000 years old. We have discovered a way to reproduce and energize the ink for the FOL symbol on a paper link, as well as to energetically structure the paper link. This tuning process causes the chip/link to better resonate with the transmitter antenna. I have run up to 20 links or receiver chips from my one small prototype biotransmitter. I broadcast to my audio amplifier and its various audio system components via an experimental paper FOL chip, temporarily placed on the amplifier's power cord. I placed a paper chip on my audio amplifier, CD player, subwoofer amplifier's power cord. I also placed one on the CD. I did the same with the power cords for my TV and LEA Atlantis HighLifes sitting on top of the speakers, etc. When transmitting to the link/chip, every FOL chip receives the transmission and it is amplified many thousands of times (particularly true with the Atlantis HighLifes as they multiply the input voltage by many thousands of times.) The sound system runs the energy broadcast, greatly amplified by the appliance's circuitry, throughout my environment. The broadcast technology, without the more expensive Atlantis HighLife, works very well by itself as a standalone broadcast energy system.

The first benefit in stand alone broadcasting is that it clears the incoherent noise that is always present on unchipped or uncleared audio systems. (Electricity meaning even battery-powered stereos are the problem here.) Second, the energy remedies travel on the sound waves much like our precursor formats, 5D Sound CDs and 5D Sound Atlantis HighLifes that sit on top of speakers. The results are spacious. The results are similar to placing one chip on the positive side of your car battery and another chip next to your car stereo. If you listen to that system in your driveway, in a short time, researchers feel a power-spot type feeling of wellbeing. It is the broadcast to the FOL chip that causes your car's system to resonate with the broadcast energy remedies. The FOL by itself will hardly make a perceptible difference at all. The key is the broadcast. You are actually transforming the energetic or electrical characteristics of that instrument. I do not suggest driving with this broadcast system, as it is possible to bliss right out and get into trouble. For safety's sake, stay in your own driveway and live to bliss out another day.

ELF-EMF: Vertical Negative Green

I want to be completely honest with you and say that I have not checked to see if these experiments actually get rid of ELF and EMF. I can say that the uncomfortable electrical fields of electric blankets and every other appliance that I have tried have literally transformed into a bliss experience. Perhaps the ELF and EMF are still there but the bliss amplification factor has made the whole experience a deeply meditative experience. I do however think that more than this is taking place. At present, I make no claim as to the ELF or EMF factors. I can say that employing the Virtual Cone Pendulum the readings show that, prior, the appliance radiates Vertical Negative Green (VNG). After placing a Flower Of Life (FOL) chip on the power cord and broadcasting to it, there is no more Vertical Negative Green reading but instead our 4 vital fields. I will leave this ELF and EMF testing to the professionals with their labs of the latest test equipment. Would someone like to try this experiment? I do know that when you broadcast the:

1. Higher Harmonic of Gold
2. Higher Harmonic of Ultra Violet
3. Horizontal Negative Green
4. Positive Green

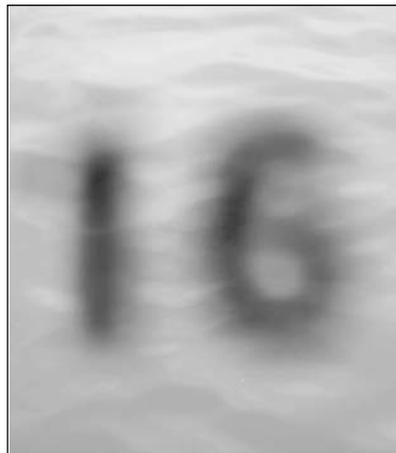

the ELF and EMF take on a very different character. They become not only biofriendly but even more, they allow a gradual environmental increase in these beneficial frequencies, to the point that one's Bliss factor is much increased. This Bliss-out is measured by the reversal of the ordinary electrical signature's effect on the Virtual Cone Pendulum. All electrical components we have tested spin a standard pendulum counterclockwise. There is a transformation of the counterclockwise toxic spin of the standard pendulum to a life-enhancing clockwise spin when broadcasting to the same electrical component. Toxins spin counterclockwise, nutrients and coherent life force spin clockwise. Electrical appliances actually amplify those 4 vital fields, through the appliances' electrical circuits, on a very measurable, mega-amplified basis. These 4 fields' output from electrical appliances, in the forms of light, heat, sound, vibration etc. All outflows of the appliance now give this vital energy signature. All outputs are now vital.

For those massage practitioners, psychologists, chiropractors, personal coaches, pastoral counsellors, just to name a few, when you work with people, you become depleted in these above-mentioned 4 vital energies. As an experiment, broadcast these energies to the target/subject and let this person integrate them, subsequently filling up with them, and then perform his/her customary healing work. Notice then how he or she becomes depleted in these fundamental energies. This is a measurable depletion in vital forces. The role of the broadcast is to quickly replenish these vital energies so that downtime is lessened. In this model, the target/subject's clients and patients, etc. can also receive the broadcast when they are touching the practitioner. The practitioner charges up with these 4 vital energies and then discharges these energies into the recipient; the recipient receives them, of course as determined by the body intelligence of the recipient. The transmission of energy from practitioner to client can be measured with the Virtual Cone Pendulum or Universal Pendulum!

16's (generated the Big 3 Energies)

16 (generated the Big 3 Energies)

Not only that but the energy exchange from the practitioner to the client can be accomplished via conduction through massage tables, sheets, clothing etc. (lead being the only substance that stops vital energy). Bioenergy flows like electricity but is much less fussy about what it flows over or what conducts it. (Being more vital, it is less prejudiced and more open.) Of course there are some energy losses in this conduction through any of these above-mentioned media. These media act as resistors to some degree.

CONTACT HIGH Darshan While You Wait

The practitioner can convey this energy package even through sound and eye attention. We have demonstrated that when the charged-up practitioner speaks to the subject, the subject will receive an energy flow via sound currents. The charged-up practitioner can look at a subject or object and transfer the energy to that object or person. In India, this is known as Darshan.

As I write this copy, I have a receiver FOL chip on my computer power cord, monitor power cord, and negative ionizer power cord. I experience this 4-fold bioclearing signal every time I hear a sound from the computer's audio circuitry. And as I look at the monitor, the light transmission coming into my eyes and shining on my body, carries the 4-fold energy package. The vital energies extend about 6 feet from my monitor in many directions. My body is free to integrate or supplement these and free not to, if there is no deficiency. Stress and electrical fields deplete these 4 fields. The more tired I am, the more I need these frequencies. This very copy that I am now reading on the monitor is energetically charged to deliver these energy remedies to my field because I have chipped the power cords. Computers give a nice energy gain through their increased amplification factor.

WE DON'T NEED NO STINKING ENERGY

As an experiment, John has charged me up with these 4 fields and then drained me of them through a discharge sync unit he made. You can quickly feel the distinction between being vitalized and going very bland after discharge. Even the colors are brighter with these 4 fields. When you are charged up, so to speak, you simply have more to give. Once you are charged up—and this may take some time—when you draw, sculpt, paint, etc. the energy will transfer from your body's field into the artistic medium. The medium becomes alive. After receiving the broadcast for some time, and after purchasing the VCP, you can test our postulate. Draw a figure and dowse the drawing, checking for our 4 vital energies. I am sure you will find them. I just did and for the umpteenth time the measurement is the same. The broadcast fields permeate whomever and whatever you touch or energetically link with.

I also want to point out that yes, you can, even without this broadcast, intend these energies into a drawing and get somewhat the same effects. You generate these energies yourself and powerfully at that. Then why this elaborate broadcast technology? Because everyone that we have tested can hold the intention of these energy remedies only for a few seconds to a few minutes at best. Soon they become discharged—tired, depleted and thus distracted. The broadcast system can hold the amplified intention (perhaps 100,000 times amplified) on a 24/7 basis with no distraction. It can hold it even when you are in a bad mood, tired, sleeping or drained. This is precisely when you need it the most. The broadcast device is not here to invalidate you. It is an assist or a turbocharge to counteract the stressful pace and associated reactivations that happen on a day-to-day basis. It keeps your chi or life force high and dry.

PRAYER CHANGES THINGS

Probability Fields

Three of these 4 energies are also present during prayer—present in you when you pray for someone or something and present on the target subject or object when you pray for them or it.

If you are rooting for a horse in a horse race (sort of a prayer: please, God, don't let me lose my money) or a football team, these energies can be transmitted to the target through your sound and gaze—as well as touch, if you are close enough. You are amplifying and transmitting the energy of your intention. It is a measurable phenomenon. It is a pleasure to discover that the target receives your energy amplification factor. These 4 energy remedies release conflict energy. They clear intention for all mental and spiritual activities. They bring sweetness to just being—contentment, if you will. The longer you process with these energy remedies, the deeper they run in their clearing of conflict energy.

FIELDS OF PROBABILITY

Some of you manifestors have talked with me about the possibility of using these energies in gambling. I have not had much familiarity with the subject, but I can say that there is, at least, a grid of stable average mean results available by knowing the odds. The broadcast energy will go to whatever you focus on. You direct it through your interest and intention. Some researchers describe the balancing of these 4 energies as synchronicity. They can help you become more intuitive. I have found that I get more parking places when driving and more green lights while walking. Why these transformations and not others I do not know. Maybe these manifestations are more sacred to me then I realize. (Our friend Franzi jokes—“My Guru can find me a parking place.”) Maybe they are more important to me than I know. They are perhaps hidden standards, on which I unconsciously measure how well my life is working. I sure do enjoy this synchronistic magic. I am way more optimistic now regarding these possibilities. I expect a parking place and I oftentimes get it. I also expect people will come out of a store as I approach, to save and even offer their place to me.

SEDONA VORTEXES

High Energy Attractor Patterns Revisited

I recently took a vacation to Sedona to record the energy signature of the vortexes for later transmission purposes. I spent 3 weeks there spending some time with my old friend Dr. Larry Jensen, co-founder of Lifespring, and his lovely wife Glenda. Larry, a long time Sedona resident, filled me in on the value of the vortexes. I tested them with the Virtual Cone Pendulum and found the energy output to be white horizontal light! Remember horizontal energies are biofriendly and vertical are bio-unfriendly. This explains a lot about the “healing” effect of these sacred sites. I hiked every main vortex and recorded each energy signature, some being more relaxing and some more stimulating than others. I enjoyed many energetic clearings while there. My experience was much like the Bliss Channel broadcast except many times more intense. When I spent a half-day there, the vortexes seemed about four times as powerful for the most part, as the Bliss Broadcast. However, since I could broadcast to myself 24/7, I could make up for the broadcasts’ lesser power through extended broadcast time. Sometimes the vortexes seemed too powerful for some. I found this out while interviewing many people on the vortex sites.

Sedona Vortex (generates white light)

I “energy recorded” each vortex and found that if I broadcast each one to myself over and over again the effect was even deeper. It is almost physically impossible, unless you have a helicopter, to experience all the vortexes in just one day. The value of playing each of the 15 vortexes to myself, via energetic transmission, over and over again, was truly a profound treat. When their signals are rounded out with the 4 essential fields, that overall energy package is quite spacious in a smooth, steady energy transformation. When the 4 vital fields are combined with the vortexes, it feels more like divine love. When broadcasting the 4 fields to myself, while near the vortexes, it became very spiritual. I kept getting the feeling of unconditional love over and over and over again. I felt I was returning to the love that I am.

I then added, to the 4 essential fields, 8 more, now to be broadcasting all 12 horizontal colors identified on the VCP and Universal Pendulum. Please note on a standard pendulum, horizontal colors spin clockwise. Vertical spins counterclockwise.

Those additional horizontal fields were:

- White
- Indigo
- Blue
- Yellow
- Orange
- Red
- InfraRed
- Black

When you add our 4 essential colors (Higher Harmonic of Gold, Higher Harmonic of UltraViolet, Horizontal Negative Green and Positive Green) to the above 8 colors, you have all 12. These colors are derived from drawing a circle and finding all 12 in the circumference of that circle. They are what nature has chosen, not man! They are measurable with the VCP and a circle.

Angles of the 12 Fields

All 12 horizontal colors plus each Sedona vortex signature seemed to light up my entire energy body. Incidentally the local Indians say to travel in a clockwise direction around the vortexes. This is interesting in that the vortexes produce a clockwise spin on the pendulum. Broadcast energies produce a clockwise spin also. Even our older ORI Life Energy Amplifiers produced a clockwise spin. This is because of the vital qualities of noble gasses. When you apply the broadcast to a counterclockwise spin generated from electrical means, the broadcast remedies reverse the spin and turn it clockwise like the vortexes. The same as the clockwise spin from organic fruits and veggies. Poison “foods” spin counterclockwise.

Each person I interviewed experiences the vortexes a little differently—as pressure, as heat, cold, tingling, space, quiet, spaciousness etc. These are similar to descriptions of the broadcast as well. Some describe the vortexes as clearing the heart center. With the additional 8 colors the broadcast signal moves deeper as a heart-field clearing agent. With the clearing of the heart, the passion level increases. This opens the doors of perception to experiences of purpose, passion, power etc. It is an unfoldment of the heart, just what the world wants in these suppressive times.

I found, while in Sedona, that the process I wanted to run on myself was the giving of unconditional love. This felt the best and paralleled the broadcast plus vortexes. “Experience the love and everything will be added unto you” was the message I kept hearing.

The Sedona energies, with the basic 12 fields, point the way to experiencing love as the prime cause in your life. It showed me that love is the link to the higher self. Remember St. Paul—if you do not have love then you have nothing.

RADIONICS REVISTED

Sympathetic Vibratory Physics

In radionics research, we used a Polaroid photograph to maintain contact with the person who was the subject of our action-at-a-distance experiments. The Polaroid served as a link, to tie the operator in with the target. The photo was called a “witness” as it provided a link. Some later researchers, as well as some earlier ones, also used a hair sample, blood spot, spit, skin scrapings, etc. The general consensus was that these tracked with the subject indefinitely, always keeping the two linked.

With my Swiss client, I have been broadcasting a custom program consisting of High Energy Attractor Patterns (HEAPs) or high resonance images to him. He chose orchestra conductors whose abilities he wants to have. I have recorded the energy level of each magazine picture he sent to me. I then energy treated the recorded imprint to raise the primary 4 fields and then broadcast this formula to him on an ongoing basis. With much experimenting, I have found, along with John's rigorous testing, that my or John's drawing of the magazine picture to be broadcast, works as well, if not better than the actual picture. The magazine picture tends to track with the target subject, behaving like a witness rather than an energy remedy.

If I have a picture of a football player scoring a touchdown and I broadcast the energy from that picture to you, to some degree the picture tracks the ongoing present-time condition of that football player and thus dilutes the winning moment. Maybe, for instance, that football player got into a slump after scoring the touchdown. You would not like to broadcast "slump" energy as an energetic remedy!

If John or I make a drawing from the magazine picture of that winning moment (using specialized ink and paper for the highest result) our drawing freezes that winning moment in time and our drawing works as a far better energy remedy. We have more completely captured that touchdown moment of peak energy or HEAPs.

HIGHER HARMONIC OF GOLD

Change Your Heart, Change Your Life

Everything I Touch Turns to Gold

HHG has been sought after since ancient times. Paracelsus (1493-1541) used a solution of gold with his patients and had many cures. Inventor David Hudson some years ago was trying to duplicate and manufacture this substance. It was called in ancient times, variously, shem-an-na, mfkcz, the philosopher's stone and astral gold, also etheric matter, manna, food of light, stone of perfection, house of gold collected by arcing light—electricity. It has been called the Golden Fleece. It could even have been soma, food of the Gods. Remember the sacred city of El Dorado, the city of gold? Spiritual gold's attributes have been discussed historically in the book The Lost Secrets of the Sacred Ark by Laurence Gardner. This sacred substance has also been referred to as alchemical gold, the golden tear from the eye of the Egyptian god Horus.

Also keep in mind that the great Pyramid of Giza was originally gold plated. It outputs Horizontal Negative Green, the spiritual carrier wave. When this carrier wave mixes with that amount of gold shape sacred geometry, a spiritually resonating field takes place.

None of these rave statements are excessive in my opinion. Regular gold, when correctly energy stimulated, with the other 2 primary fields or waves, emanates a higher field of spiritual golden energy. It tests positive to emanating a larger wave of HHG.

My friends at Quintessential Gold, Chaz and Audra, in the Sedona area, have a liquid gold product that also tests positive to HHG. It is one of the very few that has this Higher Harmonic field known as spiritual gold. After I drank some of their golden elixir, I felt the same energy as from HHG transmissions. After receiving this etherium gold (HHG) broadcast for the past many months, I have coined the affirmation that best fits my experience. "Everything I touch turns to gold!"

This powerful spiritual energy is the essence of havingness. As you let it in, you feel richer. Want to feel truly wealthy? Experience this golden energy and allow it to permeate your entire being. Gold is the world's most powerful energy of wealth. The alchemical gold energy is an inner light. For eons the consumption of golden flakes and elixirs has been revered in religious ceremonies, to initiate the adept to the higher orders of spiritual experience. As you receive this energetic gold broadcast over time, you start to feel as if you are rich even though, at that time, the evidence may seem to indicate otherwise. Creation comes from the inner to the outer. Many wealthy people have a lot on the outer, as far as riches go, but on the inner planes they are dirt poor. They, oftentimes, then lose this wealth because they cannot let it in or integrate it. They are poor in spirit. The energy of HHG is wealth building, manna or spiritual food. It brings richness in spirit. This is the brilliant gold energy that purifies and transforms your MERKABA (light body) over time. HHG will cause you to resonate with the gold of life. HHG is the highest resonating substance I have ever tested. The iconography of golden auras and halos of saints could not all be wrong. When we douse the pictures of saints, and I do mean paintings, not photographs, the golden energy is there. The painting is a frozen in time representation of that saint. The energy of the saint can be conducted through that painting. If you then record the energy of that saint through that painting and amplify it millions of times, you have an energetic relic. When you receive that HHG broadcast from a saint 24/7, you learn to resonate with that saint. The saint's energy signature is the gift of that saint. A comparison of (1) having a saint pray for you and (2) our broadcasting that same saint's energy to you, tests as one and the very same. How many saints do you know that will pray for you 24 hours per day, 7 days a week for even one month with no lapses? Why have just a statue in your home? The energy amplification itself is the prize—the energy itself.

When you mix the saint's energy with sacred geometry, you get an energetic formulation that inclines you toward higher-self-type qualities. This is the supreme power of prayer. The HHG is that God the father energy. It has long been observed that the body of a saint—the earth “does not take.” The Higher Harmonic of Gold has unique longevity powers. Dead people do not decay or decompose so fast when their bodies emanate this golden light. What better longevity product than sainthood? Become a saint and live longer and look better even after you are dead! Want to look good and be holy? This golden chi is the highest resonance, saint smartpill longevity formulation, that I have found with no counter-indications. Sainthood harms no one! This is why HHG is my candidate to be the soma of ancient times—the food of the gods. Shucks, it isn't even an illegal drug!

HIGHER HARMONIC OF ULTRA VIOLET CUT A DEAL WITH AN ANGEL

God the Son or the Christ or Christos energy is HHUV. It is the realm of the angels. It resonates the doorway to the kingdom of the angels. Want some help in your life? HHUV is the door knocker to the angelic kingdom. As you learn to resonate with the angels, you learn to release your ego and ask for help. The angels are all too willing to help. Raise the resonance of your consciousness, releasing low-level desires and get some angels to work for you. No legal liabilities. Remember the ancient Masons' test for the correct sacred geometry design for a sacred building? The dome, pyramid or arch must emanate the 3 sacred fields in abundance. And how do you know when it is tuned? A Seraphim, the highest order of the angelic kingdom, will manifest to do your bidding. When I tuned up my "calling all angels" computer broadcast seven Seraphim appeared to me. They were luminous silver on a dark blue background. I got so freaked out, followed by so much gratefulness, that I could not surface any wishes other than to bless this project. They come when you resonate their plane or dimension. You must release the chasm between your resonance and theirs.

HORIZONTAL NEGATIVE GREEN EVERYWHERE ALWAYS

The HNG is the Holy Ghost. Ghost means etheric. It is the omnipresence aspect of God. It is precisely a higher dimension whose energy permeates everything, in this dimension, except lead. It is much like orgone energy. It is everywhere and in everything all at once. Sound familiar? It is a spiritual carrier wave that causes action a distance. Why? Because to this field there is no distance! There is no distance for or to this wave, everything is here and now. Human beings emit these 3 primary energies (HNG + HHG + HHUV) children and holy people more so than older, unholy ones. Get the picture? If you want to be young and holy, and who wouldn't want to, then this trinity is for you.

Without this trinity you don't go to hell, you just get old and unholy. To youthen and be holy is to bathe yourself in these 3 fields. Get some gold into your life. These 3 fields are present to the degree that VNG is not. VNG is found in all electrical devices. It is the same frequency as stress! The more stress the less of these 3 vital fields are present. The more you hang out with unshielded electronics, the less sacred energy you have. It goes without saying, I am sure, that our broadcasts are VNG free.

POSITIVE GREEN — CUT A DEAL WITH A FOREST

The last field of this group is Horizontal Positive Green. It is an antidote for VNG. It is most often experienced by walking in the green green woods. When you are poisoned with ELF, EMF or stress—and they are for measurement purposes all the same—take a walk in the woods. Mother Nature’s green is the canceling frequency for stress whether emotional or electrical. Isn’t that interesting! Bathing in saltwater is also a canceling remedy. Salt water emits Positive Green even though it is white. These energies after all are invisible to the eye but not to the pendulum. Plants and trees spin clockwise and electrical pollution and stress spin counterclockwise on a regular pendulum. They cancel. We include this +Green in the broadcast as it clears and fortifies your energy field against the toxic effects of reverse spinning energies.

The natural action for people after intense office work, surrounded by electrical disturbance, is to take a walk in the woods. Green is balance.

When these 4 fields come together an energy clearing and energy tonifying come about. It is much like a spiritual feeling of “everything I touch turns to gold.” It reverses spiritual entropy. Spiritual entropy is simply a reverse spin. See the Bible on what not to eat for further details.

This statement, “Everything I touch turns to gold” is the appropriate affirmation when receiving the broadcast. It is the formula to discover perfection in your life. It cultivates loving kindness.

HAPPY HOUR 24/7

Since my last entry, a lot of disappointment has taken place. I started the Bliss Channel as a beta testing project to discover the result of an experimental energy streaming broadcast. We broadcast to jewelry pieces worn on the subject's left wrist. The left side is the input side of the body and the right side is output. Jewelry was chosen so that the person could control broadcast times by having an "off and on" switch. They could turn the broadcast off and on at will. What we found was that people at a high level of life force energy were noticeably vitalized. However, people at the low end of the scale were noticeably disappointed.

After many hours of broadcast to many participants, we concluded that the system would be noticeably valuable for only a small cross section of the public. Very stressed, armored and troubled people would require a "much stronger dose." Even though the participants lifted their spirits and raised their vitality from 10%-30%, for those in emotional overwhelm the "small shift" went undetected. The 30%'ers were the high-energy types who were sensitive to the shift, whereas the 10%'ers were too tired to even notice. They saw the glass 3/4 empty instead of 3/4 full.

Sadly, I closed the project and my friend and Bliss Channel's staunch supporter, Ruby Yea, went on to other personal growth projects. Thank you, Ruby. Together we found that the broadcast aspect of our project would not work as a stand alone. The level of stress that many people were under kept them pinned to lower levels of emotion. No matter how many high resonance HEAPs I broadcast to them, their constant no sleep, poor diet, stressful jobs, conflict-energy relationships proved too much mental mass to lift. Even closer to home, I became depressed over circumstances of my own, and could not budge the feeling of loss through broadcast alone.

During this trying year, I ran the complete program of over 200 energy remedy formulas on myself directly from my computer (no broadcast) located in my bedroom. I ran the program at night while I slept, on an ongoing basis. I would go to bed depressed and wake up happy.

Sometimes I would meditate with it during the day and feel much lifted. It was, however, difficult for me to spend much daytime indoors, as I love to be outside. Sometimes I would haul my big desktop computer out of doors. That was the optimum location for me, but it took a lot of time to set up and take down. Once it started raining on my computer and drenched my bliss! I thought briefly of buying a laptop but realized I would probably be the only person willing to make that kind of investment in this program. What about the others who could not easily afford another computer? And there still would be some portability and battery re-charging issues.

What worked about this non-portable computer delivery system were fourfold features or modalities. What worked was:

—First, it was not a broadcast but direct wave stimulation from the computer's energy field to my energy field (10 feet away).

—Second, there were graphics energy files, meaning photogeometry image files, flashing on the monitor.

—Third, an ocean style energy sound track, running concurrently with the graphics. This synergy of the two (multiplication) is greater than the sum of its two parts (addition). The monitor's light emissions contained the energy remedies, as did the sound waves. As I heard the pre-recorded ocean sound, I could feel the HEAPs traveling on that audio carrier wave, being propelled by sound. I could feel the sound propelled vortexes releasing body armor, clearing my unwanted emotions and attitudes. The light from the monitor also carried the HEAPs using the shape-generated field of sacred geometry to drive the chi energy.

—Fourth, this vital magnetic field emanated abundantly from both the monitor and computer.

MAGNETIC FIELDS CREATE A MAGNETIC PERSONALITY

In the field of laser technology, studies show that the magnetic field of the laser is as healing as the laser beam itself. (Specialized magnetic fields have a long and proud history in the healing arts.) Unwanted

ELF and EMF magnetic fields from computers and monitors reorganize and transform when they integrate with life energy fields or chi waves. HEAPs or bliss fields fill up the room nicely with psychodynamic, uplifting wave properties. This vital psychoactive field cleared the stuck room energy caused by my earlier brooding. The sound waves and magnet field from the speakers (as in ORI's earlier product 5D Sound™) massaged and scrubbed my energy field clear of conflict energy. (See my book The Bliss Factor for reference.) This process of direct proximity energy clearing via sound waves through speakers felt like waves of bliss, as in an energy bath or energy shower. It was clearly many scales higher than our former Energy Channel broadcast. From an Energy Psychology standpoint, it was a triumph, from a point of view of usefulness it was a bust!

VIRTUAL SACRED GEOMETRY

One successful action or feature that accounted for the result that some did experience with the broadcast was that of virtual geometry. We had developed a program that created or simulated, in virtual space, the fundamental forms of geometry as large as 100 feet tall! Having those 100-foot virtual models generating shape-caused waves is like sitting under a 100-foot pyramid, dome, ring etc., but way more dynamic. This is because the energy vortex is then increased or amplified by manipulating the virtual geometry through:

Changing colors

Pulsing at alpha or theta frequencies

Rotating

Spinning

Multi viewing

Making it larger and smaller

Vibrating at specific frequencies

Simulating it being created out of specific gemstones, colors etc.

Virtual geometry accounts for the driving force or vortex of our formulations. It is a central ingredient of each energy formulation. It also co-creates, with other ingredients, the feeling of quiet, vital, blissful spaceation that many enjoy when actual sound waves are incorporated with it.

As long as I was in the space or field of the computer's bliss waves, I received the energy of the flashing photogeometry files and energized sound (now called 12D Sound™ to be covered in depth later; for now, it's 12 energetic qualities or dimensions) and the now transformed, vital magnetic field of the computer. As long as I was in my room I was blessed, but where I really needed it was out on a date (just kidding), in a workshop or seminar, working out, researching at the library, dealing with down energy people, running errands etc. Then this great device was unavailable.

Yes— I could come home all dinged up from the day and cheer up.

Yes— I could de-ding myself at night.

Yes— I could bring friends up to my room and bliss out, but the system was still only interfacing with 5% of my life at best.

I could not go back to just the old audio energy fields on tape using my cassette player, as its energy clearing and vitalizing effects were only a fraction of what was now available when geometry energy files were added. I was trapped in my room once again, just like being a kid in my parent's house!

I burned some CDs with my graphic sacred energy files on them. They had both audio and video tracks. I could fit only about 10 smaller energy files on each CD as each file had very energy-laden fields, taking up much memory. When I played them on friends' computers, sometimes they played and oftentimes not (this is now standardized by the DVD in the computer industry). They refused to play on DVD players also. I found that by combining video with audio files, the result was 2.8 times more effective. That was almost a 300% gain over my earlier audio files alone. There was no going back to just video or just audio as standalones anymore. In a long talk with John, he realized that the photoenergy files permeated the whole computer (all of the electrical circuits) with our 12 horizontal vital energy fields.

When I programmed the photo files so that one file flashed every 2 seconds, these fields were active enough to influence the whole computer in a very vital manner. When I ran the photo program of sacred geometry, minerals, tachyon energy, power spots, saints, etc., any audio signal running through the computer (through the in and out minijacks) would exit with a strong, vital energy package—bioplasmic magnetic envelope to be precise. Any photos, audio or video displayed, printed or otherwise, exiting from the computer while the energized video and audio files were running through the computer, was tagged with our energy process. Tag you're it.

This was really John's observation after many months of testing. The ramifications of this discovery unfolded for many months to come. Using a desktop computer, and having our graphic virtual geometry files and audio energy files running simultaneously, meant that any audio or video or photo output would be imprinted with our energy programs. Suddenly, the energy quality of our audiotapes and CDs went up a few notches. We also found that you could plug our energy fields' output line into any jack, either input or output, and the computer, audio amplifier, TV etc. would amplify our vital fields. These bioenergy remedies just love to interface with other systems and be amplified.

When I re-processed the 10 CDs I had produced some years ago for ORI with Conscious Sound in San Rafael, California (thanks, Benj and Robin) and ran them through my new biocomputer, they came out with a 100 times higher level of full spectrum energy. My 200-plus-some energy formulas would structure the audio tracks, one every 2 seconds, giving a rigorous energy clearing effect. The 12D Sound also had an aliveness or vital quality like a live performance. It sent many rushes of chills up my spine, even on music that I didn't like. It now gave a feeling of space between notes, a multi-dimensional, spacious experience of feeling the music at an almost cellular level.

Some say that they can better feel the emotions of the performer. Some feel a very deep relaxation like a massage or meditation. Some say that there is a feeling of excitement and contentment. Most agree, after some listening, that they remember the lyrics better. They find more meaning in them, often singing or humming them "unintentionally," often pondering on them long after listening. I would sum up the transformation as the "listener" becoming an active or “interactive” listener, now being in greater “rapport” with the recording artist and “live” audience. A feeling of really being there, in a live, intimate performance. As a research psychologist, these statements speak to increased memory and a higher cognitive function.

I WANT IT ALL NOW

The following days were a love-anxiety relationship. I spent time basking out of doors in the bliss of both video and audio programs working well. I freaked out every time a big cloud passed over for fear of rain on my computer. I covered it with a tarp when I left. Thank God for summer. I did little bike riding, running, gym workouts, hikes etc. because I did not want to be away from this blissful feeling that I so deeply felt. Research, you know. Instead I concentrated on applying the EFT (Emotional Freedom Technique) while in the space of the HEAPs. This tapping technique of energy psychology is a fast method of clearing the trauma of past incidents. It is sped up greatly by using our four designer biofields of:

Horizontal Positive Green
Horizontal Negative Green
Higher Harmonic of Ultra Violet
Higher Harmonic of Gold

These vital fields easily interface with stuck emotions and attitudes making it a much faster and more thorough releasing process. The EFT gave me good reason to stay at home and work with these energy vital fields. I am now glad I did.

DVD TEMPTATIONS

At first I thought of producing these formulations in DVD form, as the burners had come down in price and up in quality. I could then buy a portable DVD player and carry it in my backpack playing these energy programs. The photo and audio signals would cover me in a protective energy cocoon and it would be available for friends that I met along the way. I could again go walking, biking, to the gym, running etc. while taking the energy fields with me. I noticed that while in the vitalized computer’s field I suffered little from EMF and ELF fatigue. I usually do weaken some being around computers with their electronic smog. I wanted to take this protective field with me to ward away the electrical smog I encountered with my friends' computers and while in their offices. I longed to sit in a cocoon at the movies, and never again have to attempt to lug around my large computer system from room to room, from outdoor space to outdoor space. Dream on!

ALONG CAME THE iPod: TURN YOUR iPod INTO A PSYCHOTRONIC DEVICE

One day in early 1995 John called me and told me he had bought a new device called a video iPod! It could hold up to 60 gigs of audio and video energy files, run many hours on a single charge, it could be output to a regular size stereo or TV and could also be played easily over a car stereo. It was so small that it could fit in a shirt pocket. Have you seen people walking around with those white headphones? They are listening to their iPods. The new video model can run a slide show and audio track at the same time. Just like my big desktop computer. It took me two days to realize that the dream was again possible. "Your dreams are still alive," I kept hearing! I had taken so many disappointing turns that I thought there must be something wrong with this picture. If it sounds too good to be true, then it probably is. Why would Steve Jobs suddenly hear my prayers when God had not?

iPod

I did some basic research before I got my hopes up too high. There are over 35 million iPods out there. People use them a lot. There are many after-market accessories. They can store up to 25,000 songs. They can hold full-length video movies. You can plug them into a large screen projector TV and big speakers and show an entire audience the energy video and audio files in a multimedia show. Wow! The sound and video quality are excellent. Apple is a great company and is very futuristic. You can use them in privacy with headphones; you can burn CDs or DVDs from their accompanying iTunes software. You can download millions of songs from iTunes via the Internet for them.

The device seemed custom made for what we were doing! It could even be patched into a sound bed and could also run from regular household electricity. It did not skip from vibration as CDs and tape players too often do. There are many books written on it.

The main axiom that kept coming to mind was ease of use. This was the main priority. After all, years ago I had created 18 energy formulated CDs which were still on the market, and they were selling well through Tools for Wellness distributors in LA. In talking with the customers, I found that many people did not use the CDs as much as I had intended (the same for all CDs and audio tapes) as customers found them too restricting. The medium was not multifaceted enough to support behavioral flexibility. I firmly chose at that point never to develop a product again that would not be thoroughly and rigorously used!

Thomas Edison once designed a ballot counting machine for voting simplicity. The Chicago mafia did not want a machine that they could not fix or fraudulently adjust. In other words, accurate vote counting was an unwanted want. I vowed to never again create a product that was not extremely flexible in its usage and truly wanted. When I was the director of research for ORI, I developed Life Energy Amplifiers that for the most part people really liked. They were not portable, were hard to move, difficult to ship, and complicated to manufacture. We did sell a "portable" one, but it could not interface with a stereo or TV in the way that I wanted. Though smallish, it was not at all a shirt pocket unit.

I went over to see John with much anxiety. Was it going to be somewhat weak like the former energy broadcast? Would it work only for those higher vibers? Would it be too complicated to program? Would the small screen be big enough to transmit the sacred geometry in energy graphic files?

JOHN SCORES BIG TIME

John had bought a nano iPod. It was so small it looked like a small, thin, Hershey candy bar. At that time, he could play his energized audio or video track only by itself, each one at a time, not combining them. However, it still brought much relief. I could see the future and “the future looks so bright I’ve got to wear shades!” I thanked John profusely and went out and bought an iPod.

FEELING GLAD ALL OVER

I stayed up day and night and loaded every great CD in my collection, 30 in total. I felt just like the 60s had come back all over again, and this time to stay! While loading in the CD music, I used 2 computers. (In your future, one computer, computer #1 would be the iPod containing our software.) One wired into the other. Computer #1 (think iPod) had our software—the photoenergy files flashing while playing energized audio files. This energy mix ran into computer #2 into which I had downloaded iTunes from the Apple website. Every regular CD I loaded into iTunes on computer #2 was influenced or had integrated the energy field from computer #1, from its continuous energy video and audio stimulation.

So now iTunes was loaded with 30 CDs that had all been energy structured with our 12 primary sacred fields (more on those later.) (Note: When performing this action, choose an audio format that does not compress but holds true to the most memory possible.) When the regular CDs are uploaded into the iTunes, they now contain the psychoacoustic programs in their standard music files. Later when downloaded into iPods, the music and our fields are still one and the same. A complete instant integration takes place when you do this upload method. Sound merging with life force into one music file. The energy and the music are one. If you play iTunes in your computer or burn a CD or a DVD, they will all be what I call 12D Sound. When they are loaded into the iTunes software they contain the energy of sacred geometry, special minerals, gemstones, power spots, “healing fields” chi gung energy signatures etc. When downloaded into iPods, they retain their energy files that exist now in iTunes, as music files. They are then amplified during playback, millions of times, to make subtle energy not so subtle anymore.

Next, I used the help of long time friend, and consultant extraordinaire, Richard Olson, to help load my 200-plus energy remedy graphic files into iTunes and help develop software designs for easy use. Once completed, and it is not complicated, both audio and video can be downloaded into iPods, giving you a very similar energy field as my old bulky desktop computer without weighing 25 pounds! iPod truly enjoys playing these uplifting energy prints. It was like Steve Jobs was reading my affirmations when he created this breakthrough psychotronic device. I bet he doesn't even know he is now in the ascension business. But just wait!

With your iPod, you can now play the audio tracks (your favorite, freshly energized music) and the energy files slideshows together continuously! The iPod system runs 4 hours on a signal charge playing audio and video combined. It runs indefinitely on home electricity. The system is even energetically powerful enough, for some open and sensitive types, to sometimes run audio alone, with no energy video files. This gives you something like 12-14 hours between charges. The iPod is so lightweight that you will not, in a lot of cases, know that you are carrying it. The audio and video files are so powerful that when you use my favorite energized ocean waves sounds, you do not even need to keep the earbuds (headphones) in your ears. Just have each one dangle down over your neck and down into your shirt or blouse. This method interfaces with your body's biofield (called energy grafting) and no one need know that you are experiencing altered states of consciousness. Maybe we will come up with a secret society handshake so that we can tell each other apart on meeting. (Joke.)

The energy clearing process is slower this way than the "Stick it in your ear method" but very adequate. With the iPod's TV screen facing your body, the energy field and light field transmit the visual energy files nicely, elegantly and directly into your biofield.

With all of my psychoacoustic oceanscapes and great music from my old CD collection, plus downloading the Grateful Dead's first album from iTunes, I am listening to joyful music constantly.

The iPod's great fidelity and immense storage space make it just the ticket.

HEY KIDS DO NOT DO THIS AT HOME

The higher you turn up the volume the more you amplify the energetic fields.

One night after buying an adapter to use my newly named "iBlissPOD" or Highpod in the car, I went for a true Joy ride. Gone in 60 seconds? That is, until I forgot where I was and what I "falsely believed" was most important to me, being on time. Some higher part of me drove me to my massage appointment. I concluded that driving with the "iBlissPOD" or operating machinery or performing any task that has a potential for danger or risk should not be undertaken unless you want to be undertaken.

THE 12 PRIMARY BIOENERGY FIELDS

Holy Means Wholeness

This research comes from Dr. Ibrahim Karim, a Cairo Egyptologist, whose instructive e-mails and research contributions were invaluable to me. I have mentioned him earlier, as well as French researcher Leon Chaumery, American Egyptologist Robert Gilbert, Ph.D., and of course our own San Franciscan, John Civitan, master of Micro Vibratory Physics.

Knowledge of these spiritual forces traces back to Atlantis, then travels to early Egypt and weaves its way through the mystery schools, Judaism, Hinduism, Buddhism and then Christianity. Every ancient culture that I know contains these forces in their mythology, be it China, Japan, India, Thailand etc. There are 12 fundamental rays or primary faces of chi or life force. Most all of the Mother Mary, Isis or Lady of Guadeloupe apparition paintings and statues that I see show 12 stars in or as the halo. There were 12 apostles, 12 signs of the zodiac, 12 pillars and so on. In India, one god has many faces and also there is one god for each divine aspect. Egyptian mythology is steeped with them; see books by Robert Gilbert, Ph.D., for in-depth reference material.

When you draw a circle on a piece of paper, these 12 life force metawaves arrange themselves around the circle in the exact sequence that I will show you. When you measure energies emitting from children, you find these 12 energies in greater quantity than from adults. These are also the same 12 that emanate from an orgone accumulator, as developed by Wilhelm Reich, M.D. They are also the same 12 colors in a rainbow, except some are not visible to the eye. They are also the exact same 12 colors of a magnet's field that you can see on a TV screen if you hold a magnet up against it. Use caution here for your TV's sake. These fields are horizontal in nature and spin clockwise.

Vertical fields are caused by stress, illness, pollution, some animals and electrical smog and they spin counterclockwise. The Bible tells us not to eat certain animals whose electrical fields spin counterclockwise.

Organic fruits and veggies spin clockwise, pure water samples spin clockwise and "pesticided" fruits and veggies spin counterclockwise. Unpolluted botanicals are high in these same 12 chi elements.

These are the 12 elements or dimensions of the life force. They are abundantly generated by sacred geometry, minerals, gemstones, stones, power spots, healthy children, organic botanicals, chi masters' finger emanations during treatment, the sun, planets, pictures of saints and some waters, mandalas, certain numbers and letters and some statues of saints, specific hieroglyphics, shamanic totems, some paintings, drawings, sculptures, magnets and holy places. Particular prayers, chants, intentions, invocations and special people also generate them. The words love and gratitude are also powerful generators of them.

Children are usually high in all 12 of them. As we age, traumatize and toxify, we lose vitality in some of these 12 rays. We devitalize. This practice has nothing to do with curing any disease; this is just a matter of energetic balance or psychic tonification and fortification. It is not meant as a medical treatment. It can be considered an energy attunement, something like being prayed for by an adept, holy person or saint. Its purpose is to balance our weakness in the higher, subtle bodies—particularly mental and causal. Early therapies used various methods to find out in which rays the subject was deficient. Then they would treat with those rays. This complicated procedure is not required for our energized sound process. We just provide the whole energy menu and the body takes what it wants. When you energize your field with these 12 fundamental aspects of life force, people have, over time, what you might call peak or zone experiences.

Sacred geometry has long been used in churches, shrines, synagogues, temples, etc. to generate these fields for spiritual purposes. The Masons and other secret societies still guard this knowledge carefully. They are also closely associated with the feeling of well being, “enlightenment” and higher intelligence. They certainly have a bearing on emotional intelligence or EQ. They are referred to as “the knowledge” in the inner sanctum of many secret societies and esoteric cultures.

There are many subrays or fields that are beyond the scope of this work. But I think you get the point. When your body receives these primary fields, it takes in what it wants and leaves the rest. You cannot overstimulate, as when you are topped off, you have achieved balance or holiness or wholeness. Nothing is added; you are simply back to yourself.

These 12 faces of chi are:

Positive Green - creates balance, releases conflict energy, clears EMF and ELF characteristics; it is what you feel after a walk in the green forest, neutralizes conflict energy, releases irritability.

Negative Green - psychic openings, communication, manifestation of higher desires, prayer and intention amplification, action at a distance.

Rainbow (containing all 12 rays)

Higher Harmonic of Ultra Violet - angelic communication, higher intelligence both mental and emotional, divine intervention, higher values, blissful relaxation, opens higher spiritual centers, amplifies prayer, emotionally soothing.

Higher Harmonic of Gold - divine wisdom, inner knowledge; manifestation of highest desires, beyond beyond state; enlightenment with a golden bioenergy field, notice the golden halo of pictures and statues of saints, realm of the saints.

White Light - protection, spiritual cleansing, bliss, purification, purging of EMF and ELF signatures, initiation to higher realms, creativity, problems releasing.

Indigo - visionary abilities, purity of purpose and values, helps balance mental body, clears problems and upsets, calms mental anguish.

Blue - calming, relaxing and letting go of patterning, oxygen prana vitality field, wellbeing, deeper understanding, quiet mind, peaceful, steadiness.

Yellow - strengthening, sunny disposition, higher intention, positive outlook, increased self-confidence, emotional strength, forgiveness, new beginnings, security, reduces emotional pain, learning new things.

Orange – stimulates and strengthens spirit and higher will, 2nd chakra fortification, creativity, higher communication, appreciation, cheerfulness.

Red - passion, cleansing spiritual fire, heartfelt purpose, zest for life, zeal, quest, clearing past anger, rosy outlook, loving, power, strength.

InfraRed - core cleansing, clearing core values, alleviating lower influences, deep clearing, releasing others' will, greater self-determinism.

Black - renouncing dark attractions, compulsive and obsessive preoccupations, finding the light, releasing low-level agreements and beliefs, releasing ego body, selfishness, clears dichotomized counter-intentive viewpoints.

As you read the characteristics of the 12 rays, which ones would you like to have more of? Which ones do you think you have too much of? Balancing means bringing each quality into harmony with the others.

These 12 qualities are basic to all of the “isms” and “ologies” that I have studied. They are also the basis of color therapy, numerology, color meditation, chakra meditation, prayer, radionics etc. Our purpose here is not color therapy or other more esoteric practices. This “work” needs to be as easy as listening to music, and a far more core level energetic attunement. These formulations are far more powerful in this vibratory form than emanating from a color gel or from some of the other more complicated and time-consuming delivery systems.

Within these 12 aspects are many subparts. These fields are life force particles. On these, we piggyback many additional powerful qualities.

Note: These 12 vital fields do not bring instant gratification. After some practice, it takes me usually one rock CD to get out of a funk. Balancing can take some time with 12D Sound, from a musical afternoon to many, many concerts. Some have high flying experiences on their first CD. Just listen to the music and count your blessings. Everyone is different.

MUSIC AS A SMARTPILL

You can't sit down!

How to be 19 forever

Experience waves of bliss with iBliss™

I have used the iPods together with the iBliss software almost continuously for quite a while. When I use it plugged into 110 volt house power, the battery never wears down so that when I go out, I still have a full 4 hours of battery powered bliss time available. Apple and a few after-market companies offer a more powerful battery pack that lasts for a whole day.

BECOME ONE WITH YOUR MUSIC

When You Feel Good All is Right With the World

The system works much better than imagined. With my designer energy oceanscape CDs that are included in this software package, now additionally encoded with 12D Sound, I can listen to these nature sounds while writing, reading, meditating, watching TV, working out, shopping etc. without distraction. Matter of fact, my attention, concentration and intuition are much improved. It feels like an energy smartpill. I can also just dangle the earbuds (headphones) over my shoulder under my shirt and there is no distraction whatsoever. I also have almost silent energy audio pieces, also included, that serve the same purpose. I can have my earbuds in my ears and play the silent tracks (included in our software) with the energy slide shows, while at the movies or talking with friends in person or over the phone.

Atlantis HighLife on Speaker (generating 5-D sound)

My stress levels stay down and my intuition, visualization and communication skills are at their very best. I have also noticed that the dings that I get from interacting with overly aggressive, insensitive types don't stick. I de-glitch effortlessly, on the spot, with little to release. I observe that I tend to judge people less and have more empathy for them. I am in greater rapport with people I meet. My heart chakra is wider open. When you feel good all is right with the world.

HEY KIDS TRY THIS AT HOME

When at home, I patch the iPod into my stereo hardwired. The connection takes 15 seconds and is available from Apple. I place the pod on top of the receiver so that the pod's videoscreen beams down through the air screen of the receiver. The light coming from the pod's screen directly communicates by light transfer, with the chips of the amplifier's circuit. The increased coupling effect makes for a higher-level connection. This is called handshake protocol.

I can then play my iPod over the big amp and speakers. When I turn up the volume, the energy clearing and feeling of wellbeing is spectacular. When I patch my iPod's videoscreen into my big TV screen, the result is amplified by almost 300%. The more you listen to it, and really you need not actively listen to it, just be in the space and the fields do the rest—the higher the cognitive shift. The electromagnetic signal coming from your amplifier, speakers and iPod clears the room and makes your environment feel sweet and peaceful. Try this in a room where there is a lot of conflict. Visualize a river or ocean of blisswaves flowing over your entire electrical being or body electric. The energy vital signals driven by the sound, run through your biofield, clearing distortion, thus maximizing thought coherence and vitalizing your being.

PSYCHOTRONIC LAPTOP BIOCOMPUTER: Experience Both Audio and Video in 12 Dimensions

For those of you who have laptop computers and play CDs or DVDs through them, here are some methodologies or applications for your iPods with 12D audio and video that may just blow your mind. With your laptop open, program your iPod to run oceanscape 12D Sound and simultaneously one of our energy slide show programs (included in our software). Place your video iPod, screen down, and earbud speakers down, over the CD/DVD compartment. Then play a CD or watch a DVD movie. As your iPod runs the energy program, its magnetic field interfaces with your computer's laser reader. The psychoactive iPod signal is then greatly amplified through both video and audio laptop amplifiers. There is an interface or syncing of video, audio and magnetic fields called "resonance energy grafting." You are transporting your psychotronic signal on your computer's audio and video carrier waves.

By watching your screen either in DVD mode or audio visualizer mode, the energy mix comes right through the screen in the form of light vibrations and auditorially from your speakers or headphones. Your eyes and ears and energy field take in the formulations. Think—higher audio volume means more energy amplification. Our designer biofields also amplify and integrate with the computer's magnetic field. This is another application of handshake protocol between your laptop and your psychotronic iPod. This is a phenomenal way to watch movies as you get more deeply into the plot. Your creativity is enhanced as you get transported to other spaces and times. Your imagination is opened to a deeper listening.

Note: An even more powerful method is to output your iPod into an input or output jack on your laptop. DO NOT DO THIS WITHOUT CONSULTING AN EXPERT.

My favorite still is Star Trek. Some of the realizations stay with me for days, even weeks. Some become life changing.

EVERYTHING COMES MORE EASILY TO A QUIET MIND

This 12D application is perfectly designed for personal growth videos, audiotapes, CDs, DVDs, pod casts and web casts. As you quiet your mind, the material takes on an almost multidimensional presence, as you arrive into the now. Your ability to see, hear, think and feel becomes more acute. You go way more easily into a meditative state. When you raise your vibration, it is easier to go into resonance with higher-level concepts. Everything comes more easily to a quiet mind!

This same application works for any CD, electronic game, phone, or DVD player that we have tested; from handcarried portable CD players, to larger home stereotype units. This same handshake protocol can also work for desktop computers as well as desktop stereos. With a computer utilizing handshake protocol, place your video iPod on your desktop computer aiming at the hard drive. Place your headphones down in the standard manner beaming their vortex energy. Notice the difference. You may, for best results, want to readjust your aim.

You can also place your video iPod and earbuds over an audio amplifier and beam the video and audio energy files through the ventilation screen into the amp as described earlier. A little experimentation will serve you well. Will it work over the phone by placing the iPod over or under a telephone base? This can create an energy cocoon for both parties, optimizing and transforming telephone rapport and thus telephone relationships. Notice if you feel less electronic fatigue from vitalized phone systems. I notice that my cell calls using an earphone are almost invigorating.

There's a higher level of rapport that takes place after some fun practice. You are re-gaining ability and, like strengthening a muscle or riding a bike, it takes some practice.

TRANSFORMING YOUR COMPUTER AND OTHER ELECTRICAL DEVICES

In computing, the name of the game is increasing your learning curve on new material and skills. Whether this personal expansion is learning a new software program, writing clear e-mails, winning computer games or doing creative writing, increased intuition and creativity allow you to be open and spacious. Even just surfing the net with a more open awareness, helps you become more intuitive in your choices. If you start to visualize your transformed iPod as a computing smartpill, you will be a long way ahead of the game.

Some research associates suggest placing a transformed iPod on an electrical box. This is for research purposes only. It should be performed only by an electrically skilled professional. I have included it here for research purposes only. It has been reported that the entire house or office, in many cases, emanates the fields of our sacred geometry programs. I have found that each electrical appliance now emanates these biofriendly fields.

John and I tried many experiments earlier on, with lesser devices, and found that the fridge, TV, stereo, and even microwave (yuck) all had transformed their former left spinning devitalizing energy flow into right spinning, life amplifying, vitalizing fields.

CREATING YOUR OWN SPACE

Another expanded iPod feature that has been of real value to me, is playing energized oceanscapes through my earbuds, in my ears, while being in noisy and distracting spaces. The ocean sound is white and pink noise—full frequency sound. It naturally blocks out disturbance. Using the iPod with our psychotronic energy enhancement supports a higher mental state, enabling participants to feel calmer and more centered during times of unwanted outside stimulation. It is a useful energy-lifting tool while interacting with airlines, restaurants, malls, clubs, meditation, sleep, noisy roommates and other environments that are somewhat irritating. You will feel more like at the beach and less like the pits. Again use caution and do not perform any activity that might be endangering. If you have any concern whatsoever, use this advanced system only when sitting down in a safe, familiar space.

BUT DOES IT LAST?

Above All Do No Harm

When I leave the space of the iPod and iBliss program, do I lose the feeling and the gains? When you turn the system off you will hold the vitality signal until you deplete it. Just like your “regular” life force, it is depleted by stress and other personal factors. The biofield clearing result will stay with you. What you have released is what you have released. Participants report feeling clearer each time they use the system, some even more psychic. I can make no health or cure claims, as it would take an independent research team and millions of dollars and many years to perform such studies. The most truthful I know how to be, is to say that each individual is different. This is why we have and are developing many different energy programs, so that researchers such as yourselves can find out what works best for them, and pass along the information.

We also offer a money back guarantee on all sales.

Above all do no harm. I can say that for me this is the most important. I have never heard of anyone being harmed by low decibel music, oceanscapes or going to Sedona to visit the vortexes.

Yet I have known of many who have moved to Sedona because of feeling a de-stressing effect. Some who climb the vortexes every day say that their lives have transformed. They have gotten way more intuitive and have found their true calling. Many see Sedona powerspots as a religious pilgrimage to a holy land. They have gotten a life full of inspiration and exhilaration. I believe it is something like that with what we now call the iBliss™ software program. In fact, when I visited Sedona two years ago, I recorded or imprinted each energy vortex. When you play them one after another, combined with sacred geometry, a most profound clearing and spiritual experience takes place for many.

DOWNLOADABLE POWER SPOTS?

In the future iBliss can be downloaded to your computer, but for now our in-progress web site, www.ibliss.us.com, is under construction. For now it can be uploaded from a DVD sent to you by mail. You can in turn burn CDs from it to play in your portable CD player or your home or office CD-player-equipped stereo. You can load the program into your iPod from our DVD, through iTunes, and you can play it from iTunes in your computer. You can download it to your iPod and play our vitalizing software's audio and video files any time, anywhere (except in your car while moving or while involved with dangerous activities such as mountain climbing, racing, lion taming etc.) You can play the DVD in your home, office stereo or portable DVD player while computing, or what have you. You can download into your video and audio-capable cellphone and clear your energy when exposed to cell smog. Allow your intuition to take over here.

12D SOUND OVER THE AIR WAVES?

When you plug your iPod into your computer and run our energy programs in audio and video form, any tunes you download from iTunes will be 12D Sound. Same for any internet radio station. This also means that any iTunes radio stations that you listen to will be mixed with iBliss's blisswaves, automatically and effortlessly as long as you listen.

To take it a step further: “What if I already have 20,000 songs in my iPod that are not energy processed, what can I do?”

First, you can clear or reset your iPod and run our DVD into your computer with a separate DVD player as you re-download your songs into your vacant iPod.

Second, just load our slideshow energy program into your iPod. When you run that program with your regular music, you will get a 300% effect. This will not be as powerful as re-loading your music, but a good first step for many.

Third, clear your iTunes and re-load it from your iPod while running our program through your computer using minijacks’ input and output. This is accomplished by running our DVD (separate player) while uploading from your pod into iTunes and then re-downloading. The effects and ease of use are both unparalleled.

SOMETHING YOU CAN USE

Sometime back, I thought of coming out with a standalone DVD of this program. My concern was that people would feel imprisoned and would be homebound to enjoy it. They would fail to exercise, go out, see friends, and go to work, etc.-- pretty much like I did. I would not wish home confinement or house arrest upon anyone. Feeling like an invalid is no fun. I wisely then rejected the notion of producing a standalone DVD of this program. I am glad now, though, that I stuck with it until the iPod surfaced. It truly brings freedom in so many ways, with such entertainment versatility, with Life Energy Amplification, and at such a low cost.

My old Life Energy Amplifiers that performed 5D Sound cost around $10,000 to $25,000 for deluxe models. They were not portable or flexible and certainly could not travel in your pocket while playing your favorite music with accompanying psychoacoustic bliss. Even iPod heads that do not as yet own the new video iPod can order our DVD program and download just the 12D Sound music portion from iTunes and have a great experience with just the audio software.

It will not be as dramatic as concurrently running the video portion of our program, but unless you compare it to the video addition, you may not think anything is missing. Nothing is obsolete here except our past research dead ends.

SUMMARY

At first I never dreamed that our psychoacoustic energy fields could create such a deep state of relaxation and bliss. When you combine the energized video files with the energized audio signal, you increase the audio's bliss potential by nearly 300%. The cleanliness of the iPod's amplification circuit allows you to listen to music at high volumes without discomfort. The higher you turn up the volume, the more you amplify the energy remedies. With previous audio systems, when you turn up the music you create much distortion. You then quickly turn it back down. Distortion creates listener fatigue. The increased volume that you can access with the iPod, gives you a much higher level of amplification and thus a much higher amplification of HEAPs or blisswaves.

The 12 vitality fields reduce listener fatigue and the mental resistance that create a sense of separation between you and your music. As your energy field clears, you become one with your music. The music seems like it is inside of you. I have always firmly believed that music was not meant to be just listened to, but experienced in a multi-sensory state of advanced perception. In other words, with a quiet mind, meaning an altered state of consciousness! Altered states and music are a dynamic duo. Expanded perception means expanded capacity for Bliss. In this form, sound therapy fulfills its ultimate promise—the transformation of the listener's creative process through expanded spiritual awareness. Music was made to move and inspire you, to take you to places that you have never been before. It was meant to expand your consciousness by permeating your vision with the joy of possibility—leaving you deeply touched, emotionally moved and open-heartily inspired.

The trouble with today's listeners is that they are well armored, too often in a muddle of attention-robbing mental turmoil. Our iBliss programs, blisswave formulations, together with your favorite music and smooth attention, create a silky, spacious feeling. You may find yourself utilizing iBliss™ and iPod as the center of your retreat or sanctuary experience, as an altar to your true self, utilizing it as a gateway to high-level wellness. There is no feeling like wellbeing, as it is the pathway on the journey to peak experience. We invite you to open and expand your doors of perception through this multimedia experience.

THE BLISS BROADCAST

Energy Streaming

Now returning to our earlier Energy Channel broadcast, we learned something that changed the very nature of our broadcast potential. In the past, we erroneously broadcast to a piece of jewelry. The jewelry has no electrical potential and no ability to amplify the transmitted energy envelope. However when broadcasting to an electrical amplifier such as an iPod, stereo, TV, computer (especially a computer, as it has both video and audio amplification circuits plus it has a large magnetic field) we can get up to another 100% amplification factor or energy gain. It also allows a continual update link for special broadcast programs.

The iPod, once you have downloaded our iBliss software program, has a receiver housed within both the audio and video software packages. The receiver software receives our transmission when activated. This way, with your agreement, we can continuously stream our newest and latest programs to your iPod on an ongoing basis. They will be streamed as a broadcast long before they show up on our websites as a paid download. As a stand alone program, we would get nowhere near a 100% gain. However, a synergism or resonance is created amongst the components of the software's program—the video amplification, audio amplification, the magnetic field and the broadcast. All four of these program components contain the same basic sacred geometry matrix. The geometries operate like electronic circuits. They like to talk with each other—they are very chatty. In other words, they talk to each other and that talk is a flow or exchange of energetic imprints (signals).

This sets up a high state of resonance. You gain a huge electrical amplification factor for each of the four signals through your iPod. Adding again another 100% gain takes an already psychoactive field and takes it over the top, so that most people, given a little time with the system, have the potential for some profound shifts in perception and some phenomenal entertainment! The more you experience iBliss software the deeper the clearing and the deeper the listening.

Here are the energetic programs. They can be played with any music, lecture, radio station, videogame, web or podcast presentation or film, any CD, DVD, etc. They can also be played in a silent non-distracting manner.

PROGRAM POSSIBILITIES - the before-mentioned 12 energy remedies are mixed and matched along with sacred geometry, gemstone fields etc. to create the following programs:

Stimulation - Energizes you for action and extraverted activities, gives you confidence in doing new things, prepares you for action.

Relaxation - Relaxes for more restful activities, increased inner focus and contentment, fulfillment.

Stress release - clears emotional dings, promotes clear thinking and living in the now, releasing the past.

Sexual stim - opens the 2nd chakra to passion, clears relationship conflict, passion openness, heartfelt listening.

Meditation - Helps take you to a beyond-thought state, quiets the mind, centering, calming.

Lucid dreaming - Assists in profound dream states.

Spiritual Transformation - Shamanic blend of time-honored visionary elements for inner guidance.

Energy Clearing - White light for protection and spiritual opening, blissful, increased creativity, releasing past stressful incidents.

Heart Opening - Unconditional love, self-acceptance, self-love, accepting others, admiration of others.

Chakra Balancing - Clearing the subtle bodies and experiencing wholeness.

Circle of Protection - White light to preserve wholeness, purify higher thinking, helps clear you of others' influences, taking your power back.

Altered States - Shamanic mix for paranormal experimentation and research.

Releasing Dark Forces - Advanced formulation for releasing the unwanted influences and control by others, gives you strength to let go of suppressive influences, gets you in touch with your own higher will.

Forgiveness - A gemstone blend for letting go of past grievances and living in the now.

Peace Pill - A peace that passes understanding, being at peace with yourself.

Psychic - Opens higher energy centers, increasing intuition.

Athletic - Played with Rock it gets you moving.

Our complete iBliss energy program is available on DVD for immediate playing by any DVD player. It can be downloaded and/or uploaded into your iPod, desktop computer, laptop computer, cellphone, etc.

TRANSFORM YOUR COMPUTER--TRANSFORM YOUR LIFE

YOUR COMPUTER AS A SMART PILL

TRANSFORM YOUR IPOD, COMPUTER, DVD PLAYER, CELLPHONE, APPLIANCES AND WARDROBE INTO POWERFUL PSYCHOTRONIC DEVICES (smart pills) FOR MEDITATION, RELAXATION, INCREASED INTUITION, RADIONICS AND ALTERED STATE

It has been four months since my last entry. All of the applications that we had tested, on a small scale, have now proven themselves on a much larger scale. With the much broader test group many new applications have surfaced.

There are now over 45 million iPods out there and how many gazillions of personal computers? That means for us that there are gazillions of computers of all kinds waiting to be transformed. Have you seen the new video cellphones yet? Once transformed with our iBliss software, every phone call made, every conversation taking place with our iBliss program running, can be a blissful smart call. Computer and cellphone fatigue can be a thing of the past. They don't know what they are missing!

As you are about to see, many unexpected threads have come out of this work—from charging water to printing out high art energy remedy pictures, provided on our iBliss introductory DVD. Each time I think that this research process has revealed all that there is to reveal application-wise—then more shows up. I am here in beautiful Maui, Hawaii, writing up the last many months of intense research.

We, first of all, have found that static, silent fields, that is to say, silent tracks of energy that contain no audio, do not work as well as having some ocean or river sounds with them. Ocean and river sounds are full spectrum white and pink noise that is full frequency. It takes some sound to propel the energy fields. A kinetic flow of sound waves moves the vital fields more dynamically than does a static one-- impinging on people's stagnant mental chi and armored blockages thereby giving a much deeper release.

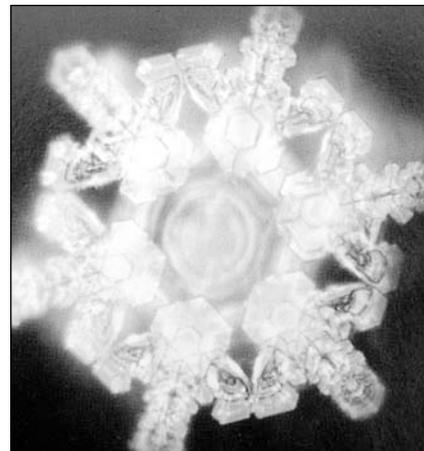

Have you tried our iBliss program with a sound bed? Your body is given a smart energy bath as each vibration carries with it a smart field of blissful molecules. You might also try iBliss with video glasses with your eyes closed. The smart vortexes go directly into the eyes, into both brain hemispheres, creating a deeply balancing and relaxing state of expanded consciousness.

MAC ATTACK

Going to the Mac convention in San Francisco was a real mind blower. It also gave me an opportunity to see John Civitan again for two whole days. His work with Positive Green light waves has moved on to much higher levels. He is currently developing a program utilizing past astrological chart configurations for playing back in the now, to predispose one to winning. He dowses to discover which “once in a blue moon” past winning aspects can generate an inclination for current winning. This program could be broadcast to the target subject as well as played on an iPod, computer, home or office DVD system etc. to create very optimistic HEAPS! Create your own astrology. It’s never too late to have a winning chart. I call this system WinTime, more on this later.

MESSAGES IN WATER

Have you heard about or read the work of Dr. Masaru Emoto? I have read his books, I was most moved by The Hidden Messages in Water, and had the pleasure of meeting him and hearing him speak recently in Hawaii. He shows that words create patterns in water. Hateful words create disorganized, chaotic patterns, whereas HEAPs or Hados as he calls them, create synergy and beauty. He demonstrated that if you place a word or frozen water pattern from a word, against a water sample, that the water sample will take on the resonance of that word or geometry.

Hidden Message in Water

This is very much like our iBliss program except that we have found we are able to create a much more vital magnetic field using flashing images that are loaded with vital subtle energy. When these files of some 70 mgs each are flashed at 25-30 per second, an energy vortex is created that deeply interacts with the substance's primary matrix or energy field. Matter, after all, is primarily energy. "Substance fields" tested include water, fruit juice, alcohol, sports drinks, pictures being printed, photographic witnesses, ELF/EMF from electronic equipment—especially cellphones—and human or animal bio-fields. Dr. Emoto's water pictures do produce a field. The field is very static compared to our burst energy concept as John calls it.

Imagine water being pulse-energized 30 times a second with photonic light waves and energized sound as opposed to being exposed to a static reflected light picture. With a static picture there is a brief burst of energy then the pulse dies, with capacitor-like action. The amount of reflected light present is one element that governs the magnitude of the effect. With our iBliss system, we use both light and sound to structure the energetics of substances. Both generate a far denser pulsed photonic/magnetic field or vortex of energy. Each audio and video energy file creates a dynamic vortex of energy clearing, providing a cocoon of protective personal space and all this from a small iPod or cellphone size device!

iBLISS MESSAGE WATER

To make bliss water or buzzz water as some call it, all you do is fill a water container that is light-proof with purified water. I like the metal ones that I get from water master, Jim Karnstead, at Ion and Light in SF and sometimes find at health food stores. They work the best. You can also cover a bottle with light blocking materials such as a towel or duct tape. Add some liquid minerals for full energy storing effect. Place your bottle close to your iPod, computer screen and/or DVD-playing TV system—better yet touching it. Run any formula program you wish for 3-4 hours. Then drink the water. For many it starts out subtle but the energy charge builds as you drink more of it, especially if you place an energy sticker on the bottle and apply the many procedures to follow for your environmental mix.

I want to thank Dr. Emoto for showing the world the beauty of HEAPs and reminding us that the body contains a high percentage of water. The body's water can be seen as a giant file for the imprinting of positive high vitality information that tells the cells to bliss out. Raise your vibration by first energy clearing your field then re-vitalizing it on a daily basis. This is the fastest and most through method I know of to attain a deep inner peace that is so missing in today's world.

I invite you to read Dr. Emoto's wonderful books and see his beautiful high resonance water molecules. You can't always control what people say to you or say in your space but you can clear it and re-vitalize yourself.

THE MAGIC OF FLASHING

At the Mac show I discovered the joy of flashing. It is a small LED system that plugs into the iPod and flashes at many speeds, some in the cycles per second range of alpha, delta and theta brain wave states. It also flashes to music or sound, outputting the energy signatures from photo, video and audio through its light beam. No matter what speed you set the flasher, the vital programmed signatures are emitted through the light waves. A very interesting vital magnetic vortex is engendered and everything the light contacts is energy coupled and subsequently enhanced. Available from iblinkitnow.com.

Beam Positive Green into your car stereo by placing the flasher/pod unit in the storage compartment below. (It works, but be cautious and think it through before driving at your own risk with it.) Or safer yet, beam your home stereo and the light waves carry or transport the signal into the circuitry of the component, for immediate amplification of the vital forces. It even doubles as a psychotronic bike and walking flasher. You might experiment with flashing or beaming your food, water, acupoints (take a class in this subject before you experiment with this application), injuries, or at a picture of your whole body or a specific body part, for action at a distance. (More on action at a distance later.) Take it dancing (Positive Green) for a great altered state at clubs with an armband holder. If you are in San Francisco try Anon Salon. Set the light speed on fast flash. Turn the screen out for others to see for group altered state effects. For costume parties go as a psychotronic iPod and with the flashing lights you fit right in. You are also practicing group energy psychology.

EXPERIMENT WITH THE FLASHER'S EFFECTS

Utilizing the flasher, beam Positive Green into an electric blanket control while the blanket is on and see if you can feel the difference. Many researchers report a smooth, silky texture to the energy, a feeling of well-being. Use the Positive Green light program for all electronic device clearing, set to sound flash with our energized ocean and river scapes for best results. Flash it into fiberoptic devices and/or lava lamps as in colored sound. Remember you need not look at the flashing light to get the benefit. The flashing LEDs create a pulsed magnetic field and just being in the vicinity revitalizes. (CAUTION: If you think you are epileptically inclined, avoid looking at the lights and consult your health care practitioner.) Even if you paint the LEDs black to block out the light, the pulsed magnetic field effect will still come through. You can also use the flasher's Steady On (non flashing) setting as well.

YOUR PRINTER IS A PSYCHOTRONIC DEVICE

It's like a license to print well-being

If your computer is powerful enough to play our DVD in its DVD drive and simultaneously play it as a program--all the better. You can also reduce our pulsing iBliss program to approximately one inch square and place it in the left corner, making room for your projects. Turn up the volume to a comfortable level and every file you open will take on subtle smart-pill-like qualities.

Note: Many participants immediately notice the feeling of wellbeing as opposed to the electronic smog fatigue-like feeling generated as a byproduct from all computers, cellphones and electronic devices. Our iBliss programs feature energized ocean and natural water sounds that double as a sound screen or curtain blocking out intrusive outside noise particularly when using headphones.

Researchers enjoy printing the iBliss Positive Green light program on sheet stickers purchased from office supply stores and then sticking them on their computer printer, monitor and computer power cords. All the electricity is then structured by the Positive Green sacred geometry of the iBliss sticker and then mega-amplified by the electronics of the device you place it on.

Here's how to mega Feng Shui your environment:

Place the Positive Green, light structured iBliss sheet stickers on your house or office power box (outside of the box only), power strip, printer ink cartridges, etc. Then print out 8x11's of the power pics in our DVD program. Place the pictures under your mouse pad, keyboard, computer, printer, desk lamp, speakers, phone base etc. If your computer is powerful enough, play our iBliss DVD while simultaneously running it as a computer program. Download it to your iPod and while playing it with your iPod run that output into your computer's S-video input. You can also run audio-out lines from an external DVD player into your computer's audio input mini-jack if you have purchased a second iBliss DVD. Make sure our energized sound is playing as loudly as you and your equipment can handle it on all equipment.

Now everything that you print--letters, photos (yours or ours), transparencies, sticky-backed sheet labels, sticky-backed magnetic sheets, business cards, invitations, CD and DVD labels, name tags, brochures, reports, love letters, books, proposals, announcements, to-do lists, school projects, maps, website graphics etc. will all be a useful psychotronic device.

This is a big statement:

It will take the rest of this work to show you the far-reaching ramifications of this last breakthrough.

FOR MORE POWERFUL STATES OF CONSCIOUSNESS
MAKE SURE OUR LOGO (energy broadcast link) IS ON EACH STICKER

iBliss Logo

The more energy-charged pages that you stack together, the stronger the field. Ten to twenty-or-so pages all stacked together make quite a field. Sixteen seems to work very well. John likes to print out four 8x11s and put one on each wall, making a sweet spot of energy in the middle of the room.

People like to naturally concentrate or meditate on these energy pictures. They are quite captivating and mesmerizing as they generate stress release and re-vitalization. But like the flasher, you need not look at them to feel the uplift or energy shift. Through their dynamic energy vortex, they create a spacious feeling as they release armoring and revitalize. Part of the cause for this vital effect is that we constantly broadcast, at no charge, to our logo, on our provided energy pictures. Take care not to edit out our logo as doing so greatly reduces the overall beneficial effects. (More on this later.) They are a mini iPod in themselves with no wires—no less.

Richard Olson likes a stack of them under his chair. I suggest printing out small Positive Green iBliss sticky transparencies (while iBliss DVD, computer program and iPod if possible are all running the desired program) and putting them on your monitor screen, mirrors and windows. The larger the better, but one-inch squares will do and much smaller for the iPod or cell phone. Then all the light coming through the monitor, windows or reflected back from the mirror is now structured light as in the iPod flasher. Place iBliss stickers with our logo (energy ink) on your iPod, photo/video cellphone, and the power cords of each appliance in your computer room. Place transparencies on glass light fixtures always avoiding overheating. Do not neglect air purifiers, fans, water and gas pipes, showerheads etc. When you place an iBliss sticker onto a charging cord, the sticker structures the electrical charge the appliance receives, stores and imbues it with vital magnetism, be it an electric toothbrush or an iPod. When you operate the device, a vital field is generated be it through light, sound or vibration, or all three.

Another project that you will receive much benefit from is to buy a wire bracelet or some such thin bracelet, or a thin wire necklace. It may be hinged or one piece but not stretchable. Then stick many energy charged stickers around the bracelet or necklace greatly increasing its thickness. For more punch you can print them double sided. Make sure that the bracelet still fits around your left wrist. Then spray it with waterproof sealer spray from an office supply store. The thicker the bracelet and necklace (the larger the stack) the more beneficial it will be. If you cut pictures to size, make sure our logo gets in there on each sticker, our logo need not be showing though. Printing double sided will greatly increase the energetic field of your jewelry pieces. Also having twice as many logos as broadcast targets creates a more dynamic field. This is the art of vital wave propagation. More on this point later.

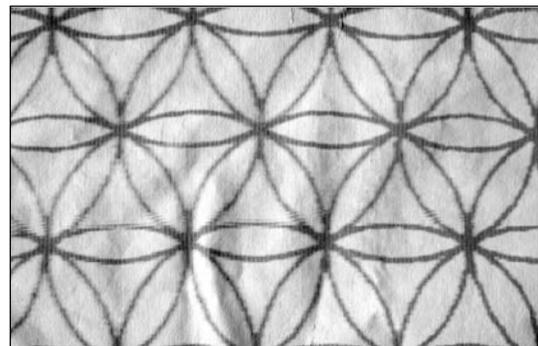

After sticking energy stickers from your printed sheet onto everything that moves or breaths, don't forget eyeglass frames--sticking both sides as well. You will now have a very sweet power spot indeed.

GO INTO RESONANCE WITH YOUR HIGH ENERGY ENVIRONMENT

DESIGNER ENERGY CLOTHES

IBLISSWARE™ Positive Green, White Light, Big 3 and Relax (Blue Light) Designer Clothes

Print out iron-on applications, using the photos found on our DVD, from your now-sweet-spot computer room. (It should all be resonating in a bliss soup by now.)

iBliss Designer Energy Clothes

You can also print out your own photos and do much the same thing. Our photos provided in your DVD will have more energetic punch, though, as we have used very advanced technology in creating them.

Try your personal photos and the ones provided for you and notice the difference. Remember the more photos you stack together the stronger the field. The more photos, applications etc. together in one space the larger and more vital the field. If you print a stack of our own personal photos to be used as a mouse pad, energy pad, etc. then it will be helpful to print our iBliss power photos on the other side of each personal photo for a larger vortex effect. You could also include just one of our iBliss logo-imprinted photos in your stack of personal photos. This way our broadcast to our target logo will permeate your whole stack of personal photos or artwork, as long as they are all touching, creating energetic conductance.

These applications sheets are available from most office supply stores. Iron them onto your shirts, pants, underwear, caps, hats, pillowslips, sheets, jackets, workout clothes, etc. The iron-ons I've tried work only on natural fabrics, as heat may melt some synthetics. Be sure to read the product instruction sheet carefully.

Wear them when computing. Every time you make eye contact with an energized design, the reflected light from that item, reflects back the energy program that it was processed with. With iBlissware, as the garment moves and shifts on your body, energy pulses are generated as it makes and breaks physical contact. Each time the fabric touches your body, shifts position or moves (even just a little), energetic pulses are delivered to your body. When you use our Positive Green program for athletic wear, the more you move your body, the more energetic stimulation takes place. This is positive feedback and reward for maximizing physical movement. It is like an energy massage. The more you move, the more energy waves or pulses are generated, the more energized you get. I notice a stronger positive attitude feeling. It is also described as a feeling of strength and a higher level of athletic optimism. I apply iBlissware™ energy to all of my sporting activities while wearing Positive Green clothing. I experience it as a joyful, “can do” attitude as I wear it for running, rowing, kayaking, weightlifting, sailing, hiking, biking etc. The clearing of conflict energy helps me maintain a positive focus without counterproductive thoughts. Creating a positive attitude in the face of adversity is a key to making your life a wintime.

If you choose to iron on your own personal photo or graphics, I suggest you first iron on one of our iBliss power photos including iBliss logo and then cover it with your own artwork. This way we can broadcast bliss energy to your designer clothing item and continue to potentize it. Also you get the benefits of our more potent design and the personalized visual effects of your own custom work at the same time. As we continually enhance the strength of our broadcast your iBlissware will continually become more potent.

STUFFING A 100-FOOT TETRAHEDRON INTO A T-SHIRT AND MOUSE PAD

If you are not ironing-board-inclined, there are many stores that will do a heat press-on application for you, at a very low cost. All you do is burn a CD with our or your desired energized art work and take it to such a store. They will heat press your desired energy photo on a T-shirt, mouse pad, coffee mug (water charging), dog tag jewelry piece or most any natural fabric or other surface you want. I had 4 of the same energy photos of Positive Green pressed onto the back of a 100% cotton T-shirt, which they provided, in 10 minutes for $29. Our earlier, less energy productive, FIR T shirts cost $125 and were not nearly as smart. The uplifting energy of these much less expensive applicas are well worth it. The Positive Green mousepad was $16 and every time I touch it, making and breaking contact, I get smarter. If you have a laser mouse, the Positive Green pad energy uptakes through the laser into your computer and bio-field and is amplified into your work. I am learning to mouse with my left hand for the sake of a good altered state.

You could also print out the application yourself using our many chi-energy-amplifying suggestions and then take that more souped up version to the store, for their heat pressing process. That way you get a, I do mean, higher level product.

FAR INFRA RED IBLISSWARE: FOUR SPECIAL FORMULAS

Many years ago I wanted to create such forms of energetic clothing because of its ease of use and hands-on contact with the researcher's body over the entire day. I tried Far Infra Red clothing. FIR clothing is made using energetic stone fragments impregnated into the synthetic thread. I found it to be useful but expensive. There were only a few types of clothing available that were made of FIR fabric.

iBliss Designer Energy
T-Shirt

Our four energetic formulations (Positive Green, White Light, Relax-Blue Light and Big 3) can be ironed on, producing a much more vigorously energetic process, with greater versatility and at a much lower cost. FIR fabric is synthetic where as iBlissware™ irons onto natural fibers. I was never entirely comfortable wearing synthetic fabric as it is like wearing chemical clothes. iBlissware™ iron-ons, coupled with cotton or other natural fabrics, feel like a much higher vibration of energy and the cost is way right.

Special Note: In the same manner as iBlissware™ clothing operates, bike and motorcycle helmet stick-ons help keep your energy up as they are constantly shifting on your body as you ride. Make sure to spray them first with clear waterproof sealer spray. The larger the printed-out design, the more the amplification factor. This larger size factor equals a greater bliss field. This is true for iBlissware™ as well as printed high art photos.

Even if you iron on only a small energy photo, the up-energy will flow over the whole garment and encapsulate the whole fabric. Still true- -the bigger the picture the larger the field. The more pictures the bigger the field. The larger the stack the greater the field.

ENERGETIC ART THAT TRANSFORMS YOUR ENVIRONMENT

Try printing out 10 8x10s of a single image and placing them in 2 rows of 5 each on your wall. For a few dollars more you can have them laminated. Staples charges me only $1 to laminate an 8x10. I laminate 2 photos at a time, one facing each side out. For more energy still, print double sided on each page before lamination. The more photos that you stack together the greater the effect. Staples can laminate large photos up to 20 inches in width and almost any length. Your iBliss energy photos will now be preserved for many clearing sessions to come. I suggest laminating all of your energy prints for durability's sake. Then you can also sit on them, place them under your mattress, car seat, make a place setting under your plate, place them under your TV and audio components, pet pillow, water filter, blender, power seat etc. You can also frame them and have some singular psychotronic art on your walls. Every time you make eye or physical contact with them, you get an energy clearing. This is prudent Energy Psychology practiced through aesthetic stimulation.

The key here is that you no longer need your iPod, computer, video cell or DVD player to get an energy boost. You can supplement you iPodding and computing with iBlisswear™ and iBliss art forms.

The Positive Green iron-ons work great for workouts and office work when you are exposed to EMF/ELF from electronic equipment and stressful situations. Most people will find Positive Green too stimulating for bedtime wear. You might also apply them to clothing in the exact location where you have had a physical injury, unwanted physical condition or where you wish a concentration or focus of chi. Consult a competent health care practitioner first before doing this. This statement is not meant as a healing claim. It is intended as a spiritual remedy the same as praying.

JUST RELAX-BLUE LIGHT

The relax program of energized blue light photos are ideal for bedrooms, night clothes, pillowslips, sheets, bedclothes, eyeshades, wall hanging photos etc. Choose blue light stickers for bed lights, air purification, water and blue light 8x10 laminated prints under your pillow and mattress. If you use an electric blanket, sticker the cords and back of the control box with a Blue Light and a Positive Green on top of it. You can also stick one on each face of the control box projecting a concentrated vortex in the center where the electronics are for greater amplification. The more energized prints you place into your environment, the more each piece will communicate with you and each other piece, the stronger the field effect that is formed. You will go into higher resonance with your environment and the deeper feeling of relaxation and peace will be most welcome. You might also play our relaxing ocean and river programs on an audio or DVD player with Blue Light stickers on the cords and blue prints under the speakers and amp. If you have favorite bedtime music, print out a CD label using our Blue Light program. The relaxing Blue energy field will flow energy from the label to the CD and then will be picked up by the laser reader, and be amplified by your amp and will then outflow from your speakers. For a nightcap you could even drink Blue Light water.

When you go into resonance with your environment, resistance and petty issues and distractions disappear, leaving you with a feeling of attunement and oneness. Practice relaxing and letting go--let be and let free.

THE BIG 3

Big 3 Blissware™ is an ideal iron-on for meditation, yoga, tai chi, prayer, and spiritual studies. It opens up higher chakras while clearing spiritual blocks. It aids in your connection to spiritual gateways. Big 3 photos are also wonderful for your yoga, meditation space or altar. Big 3 CD labels are helpful when placed on CDs of spiritual lectures or music.

WHITE LIGHT

Relaxing & Clearing
White Light Picture

White light iron-on iBlissware™ applications are best utilized as a protective field. White light clears denser more resistant spiritual blocks than do the Big 3. It is an aid to a more peaceful life by keeping your field shielded from dark forces. White Light photos are very useful to protect your office or client space from darker energy. Use them abundantly in an environment where you feel suppressed or controlled. Useful for children's rooms when you suspect adverse influences.

White Light CD labels and prints form an energetic cocoon that seems to negate other people's controlling conflict energy, creating a sanctuary type of pristine space.

DRESSING UP YOUR IPOD EVERYBODY'S CRAZY ABOUT A WELL DRESSED POD

Print out stick-ons of yours or our energy photos and stick them on to your iPod body. The Positive Green program works best for most. Then get a clear rubber like or plastic cover for it. You will add energetic benefits to your pod while helping cancel out the listener fatigue factor so common with electronic equipment. You can personalize your pod with your own photos or choose ours because of the additional energetic benefits. You can stick on a layer of those energy charged photos provided with a top layer of photos of your choice. You will be protecting your pod as well as providing an energetic medium for electronic amplification. Again make sure to include our logo on your pod for each photo, as our broadcast to our logo link enhances the energy clearing process and thus raises its vitality.

On a similar note you can do the same for your cellphone making it more user friendly and much more beautiful. iPod and cellphone researchers tell us they feel much more in the moment when energy balanced.

MAGNETIC STICK ONS SMART MAGNETICS

Magnetic stick-on sheets are also useful and really fun. They magnetize and hold onto steel surfaces like fridges, Vita-Mix blenders, car engines and bodies, motorcycle frames, battery cables, motorcycle fuel tanks, boat motors, spa and pool motors, computer covers, etc. Try vitalizing vehicle fuel lines by wrapping magnetic sheets or strips around it and then tying it with a pull tie. Make sure not to forget our energized logo. I make no better mileage claims here but I do make a Bliss claim. You can laminate them or spray them with a clear protective coating available again at office supply stores. The magnetic field gives a push pulse to your iBliss energy sticker increasing the energy circulation. Whether you use a magnetic or non-magnetic sticker they work much more effectively than all of the stickers, pendants, cells, links that we have tested. (The exception being the considerably more expensive and most beautiful silver and gold ORI pendant that John Civitan developed.) iBliss stickers cost a fraction of the price, just pennies in fact, and you have the fun of creating them yourself, with your own intention—an important distinction here as these devices amplify your own prime intentions. You are taking responsibility for designing some very cool psychotronic devices. You can experiment as to whether magnetic sheets work better than the non-magnetic stick-ons for various applications. Try making magnetic shoe soles using the Positive Green program, cutting them to size, then laminating them. You may also find that laminated non-magnetic iBliss photos do better for you than the magnetic sheet soles.

POSITIVE GREEN - WHITE LIGHT – RELAX-BLUE LIGHT AND BIG 3

We have found a “new” energetic formulation group that I have had great results from. First, I start running the Positive Green clearing program to release EMF/ELF type electrical conflict energy. Positive Green also releases negative belief systems, stuck thinking patterns and conflict energy. It releases gross as well as subtle type self-sabotaging thinking circuits.

Secondly, the White Light clearing program has a much more profound effect after the Positive Green has done its work. There is a kind of protection and mental and spiritual vitality that takes place. Thirdly, I then run our basic spiritual program of the Big 3 to open higher spiritual centers or chakras. There we have body-mind-spirit. They are best run in that order.

We make use of this 1, 2, 3 sequence over and over again with variation on the theme throughout our thousands of energy clearing formulations.

CONTACT

If you are really stressed or traumatized, make physical contact with your computer, iPod, videophone or DVD player. Place your left hand or foot for that matter, as the body's input side is the left, touching the computer or monitor. I touch the monitor's screen with my left hand while deep breathing and letting go, breathe it out and away. If you can run only one program always choose Positive Green, as it is the deep sweep-type energy clearer. I use Emotional Freedom Technique by tapping with my right hand on the acupoints designated, as the right side of the body is outflow. I bring the iBliss clearing energy into my body through my left hand and out of my body through my right into my acupoints through tapping.

For ease of use on my laptop, I fold the screen down almost closed and place my picture or witnesses (vibratory link) on the keyboard, image side up (more on this later) place my left hand on the screen back and tap with my right. This is the fastest method to date for releasing traumatic cellular memory. If you use EFT, tap on stubborn issues with all 3 fields or programs, one at a time described earlier. If you remember in your hour of stress to do nothing else than run the Positive Green program--with your left hand on the screen face or back--and then breathe, you will be far ahead of the game. The fields quiet the mind and as you learn to work with them perform pattern interrupt on automatic reactions.

TAKING A HOLIDAY

“I AM IN PARIS!”

When you are not in trauma but simply wish for a blissful “vacation or holiday” away from your cares and worries than this hands-on approach is for you. Perhaps you would like to experience psychotronically assisted meditation. Or perhaps you just want to bliss out or creatively visualize or brainstorm a desired future for yourself, then this method is for you.

Remember the larger the DVD playing format the bigger the bliss effect. In other words, the iPod is at the small end of the spectrum and a big-screen TV with big stereo speakers, with surround sound, is at the other, mega energy, end. A laptop is somewhere in the middle. (Where the iPod wins out is in its portability feature of providing direct physical, in your left pocket contact, over longer periods of time.)

Take your laptop and play your iBliss DVD in it. Place your laptop on your lap, careful not to cover up or block its ventilation holes. If your laptop is capable of running this DVD as a computer program while also simultaneously playing it as a DVD then you are in for a double feature. You could also output the audio signal from your bliss-pod into the audio input of your laptop, or do S video in, for an even stronger triple feature signal. Do this while running an iBliss program in your iPod. Fold the screen down to almost closing and place both hands on the back of the screen. Turn the volume up high. You may want to use headphones for this but take care not to damage your hearing. Headphones playing our energized waterscapes have the additional feature of shielding out distracting outside noise. Just sit there and breathe. You are making maximum contact with your iBliss laptop. It is touching your left leg and your left hand is also touching it. This left side is the input side of the body. As it shifts position on your lap and you make and break hands-on physical contact by typing and mousing, it creates pulses by your connecting and re-connecting. If for some good reason, you can only run a one-inch square iBliss program, make sure it is on the left side of the screen as the left eye is input.

If you want to intensify the clearing, place a photo of your self on the keyboard, image side up and close the screen/lid down to one inch so that you can see the iBliss graphics program flashing on your picture. Notice the way the graphics flash upon your photo/witness and visualize your mind clearing out negative thoughts and feelings. This is both an action at a distance and a psychotronic process.

For additional results lean back against a stack of laminated 8x10 energy prints, printed from your computer while it was running maximum energy programs. By placing energy stickers of all kinds on your laptop screen and base, power cords and wearing iBlissware™ in a room that has been energy stickered and pictured you will have a strong positive energy vortex to help raise your resonance. You have successfully transformed your laptop into a psychotronic top-of-the-line instrument with very little expense.

Note: If you are using a mouse pad with a stack of iBliss photos under it, you will increase your results by using your left hand to work the mouse. This is even better, as John points out, if you are using a laser mouse. The laser mouse will uptake the vortex of the photo field and bring that into your left hand, which is of course the input side. It will then uptake to your computer for amplification, taking with it the energy vortex of the photo stack being broadcast to it. I presume the same is true of a laser keyboard.

ENERGY CLEARING SPECIFIC BODY PARTS

There is another method for hands-on releasing. Some older laptops could only stand the screen almost straight up, they could not recline flat. The newer model screens can recline down to a flat surface. If you own such a screen I suggest reclining it down flat for the above-mentioned method as well as the “action at a distance” covered later. Place your hands flat on the screen and you will get far better energetic connection as the magnetic resonance moves from the screen out. The field is strongest when your hand, especially your left hand, is touching the screen.

If you have body injuries or areas of discomfort or body parts that you feel out of communication with try placing your iPod or flattened out laptop screen against the body part that you wish to clear. Then start by running the Positive Green program on it. Have that body part touch the screen. Then run White Light followed by the Big 3. (PLEASE NOTE: I make no physical healing claim here. If you are sick or injured, see a competent health care practitioner. After having done so, try working with your condition with the above described methodology.) You may find an energetic shift-taking place regarding the way you experience that part or condition. You are energy clearing it to release armoring that freezes that body part or condition in time. You are releasing charge that holds it in a psychosomatic timelock. This 1,2,3, approach can support your shift into the now. Work with the life force persistently and it will work with you that same way.

ANNOUNCING SOFTWARE THAT STOPS THOUGHTS ZERO POINT SPACE

When you make physical contact with your computer while running the iBliss program, the most common bottom line statement people make, after some practice and observation is that it stops thoughts. What's so valuable about stopping thoughts?

A lot of "thoughts" are compulsive and obsessive. They are automatic thinking patterns. They prevent people from going deeper into their intuitive body. They generate noise that keeps people stuck and defocused in lower mood levels. The purpose of meditation and many other disciplines is to quiet the mind, to allow people to break free of identifying with their thoughts. Western minds often have a hard time just being without thinking. Next time you feel as if you are stuck in a loop having an unwilling conversation with yourself about something that you could care less about—again—then try this.

Acknowledge that it is Ground Hog Day and that history is repeating itself--again. Make physical contact with your computer while running this personal debug program called Positive Green. As you breath, notice your thoughts stopping or discreating. A Peace that Passeth Understanding, with some practice, can be yours for the asking. You can retrain yourself to quiet your mind so that intuitive cues from your subconscious can come through unscathed. Stopping reactive thinking is as easy as interrupting reactive thinking processes with a bliss break. Just grab your computer screen with your left hand and breathe.

WRITERS UNBLOCK COMPUTE YOUR WAY TO HIGHER CONSCIOUSNESS.

If your computer is powerful enough to play our DVD and at the same time run it from a download or upload while you are writing, surfing the web, creating art, shopping online, trading currency online, etc. then your constant touch of the keyboard, mouse and computer body will keep you stimulated with burst designer energy.

You can minimize our program and place it in the left corner of the screen with just a small amount showing. The energy will still permeate your whole computer system. Keep the audio volume at a comfortable level. You can always play it as a DVD, if you can't run it as a computer program, while creative writing, playing computer games, trading stock, surfing the web, downloading music or videos, writing reports etc. The best results will be attained by playing it as a DVD while running it as a program in as many programs as your computer can run simultaneously.

As mentioned earlier, place a stack of iBliss photos under your mouse being moved by your left hand if possible. If you have a laser mouse, the laser beam—used in telecommunications—will further add to your resonant mix. The more the merrier.

If you are using a laptop and it is situated on your lap, then you are in major, direct, hands-on contact, with its vital fields. If it is not powerful enough to run both programs together, then use your iBliss programmed Bliss-Pod with headphones and flasher in your left pocket while computing. You could also plug its audio output into your computer's audio input or better yet use S video input for another computer if possible. Computers are getting much more powerful all the time and are getting much better at multi-tasking. You may also be able to upload our DVD onto your computer as a screensaver. The Macs do well at this and Richard Olson has transformed computers into displaying very blissful screensavers, see last pages for complete details. You can run them fulltime with nature sounds energized audio, reduced to a small size in the corner of your monitor and send the bliss energies to all computer projects.

TAKE A COMPUTING SMART PILL: A MORE INTUITIVE, PEACEFUL AND HEARTFELT APPROACH TO COMPUTING

Bringing an altered state of expanded creativity to your writing is like taking a writer's smart pill. I do all of my computing while in the most useful state possible. Blissful is useful!

I like the Positive Green program as it keeps clearing away distractions to my higher creativity. Each time you save a file with our program running, you are saving it into a smart pill format. When you boot it up again, the iBliss energy field will come with it, even if you are not presently running our program. If you post it on a website, e-mail it or print it out, the rendering will contain our energetic formulations. You are programming your work to resonate with your highest consciousness—relaxation, tensionlessness and clarity. I believe you will have a lot more fun, bliss and joy in what you are doing if you follow this method. Research associates report a more intuitive, peaceful and heartfelt approach to computing. Bring a vacation or holiday-like attitude and atmosphere to your work and lift your spirits as well as the quality of your output.

For me it is like being on Maui, near the mountain Haleakala, a mega-Kahuna powerspot. When you quiet your mind you open to deeper levels of knowing.

TRANSFORM YOUR COMPUTER—TRANSFORM YOUR LIFE YOUR COMPUTER AS A SMART PILL

Let us now take a deeper look into transforming your computer into a much more satisfying performer and creative partner. Let us say that you are working in PhotoShop. If you are running our DVD in DVD-player mode or have uploaded it into your screensaver or are running it as an iMovie, MediaPlayer, QuickTime Movie, iPhoto, or from your iPod etc, then everything you process computerwise will retain our blissful landscape or texture. If you have imported a photo into PhotoShop for instance, it—plus any editing that you do—will contain our invisible bliss program. Whether you are looking at and listening to your computer creation on your monitor and speakers or beholding an energized print, it is radiating back to you invisible energy formulations to relax, de-stress and create blissful molecules. You and it, with some practice, can transform any former computer relationship of limitation, joylessness or unhappiness.

If you are creating a PowerPoint demo you are programming into your presentation on both the audio and photographic levels, energy remedies that invite participants to resonate at a more joyful mode of response. Not only is your higher creativity called into action in the development of the product but the recipients of your work will be in the best space to fully receive and appreciate it. You will have their highest level of attention.

People will revisit your website and/or re-experience your presentation again and again, oftentimes just for the bliss effects. What a way to start a relationship, on a blissfully vital note. Want a well-visited web site? Program your site with our bliss energy.

With my former company that I founded, ORI, we featured streaming, energized audio called 4D Sound, a very early and much more subtle forerunner of my current work. People tuned into our website much as they would to an FM station. They became our best customers. It piqued their interest in our Life Energy Amplifiers by giving them an elegant free introduction to these energies and subsequent consciousness and personal growth benefits. They listened to the same musical piece hour after hour, day after day with no possibility of bringing this energetic atmosphere to their entire musical and video collection, accessible in any location in their own sweet time. You now have that choice.

HIGHER CREATIVITY:
WANT TO COMPUTE LIKE A ZEN MONK?
YOUR WORK COMES VITALLY ALIVE

When computing, if you are writing or drawing anything—from a letter to a logo to illustrations for a book or paper—then, as you write or draw, your energy is mixing with our sacred geometric smart energy, developing your concept to your highest level of vision and inspiration. Our DVD program, together with your intention and vision, makes your concept more real. It helps to shape a more optimistic and positive attitude and expectation. When you reflect back on your creation, your ability to deeply feel it is amplified. You have become more sensitive to its subtle nuances. You see it from a multidimensional prospective. You transcend patterned modes of “perception” stepping outside of the past and seeing it maybe for the first time, seeing your creation with fresh eyes. Seeing it from a here-now perspective. Seeing it perhaps objectively as others would see and experience it. You are stepping outside of your own personal beliefs and judgments into a space of true perspective and objectivity. Your work comes alive!

It is something like looking at a flat 3-dimensional picture and then suddenly seeing it in holographic form. The added dimension gives you a truer feel for your work.

If you are trading currency or stock or looking for investment property, as I have online, what often surfaces is fear, apathy, resignation, anger, resentment, distraction and other self imposed limitations. What comes up or surfaces that holds you down in lower levels of stifled creativity? Our program helps teach you on a non-verbal level to rise above these mental blocks. Every graph you look at, every e-mail you send or receive, every property that you preview, every audio track you hear and each report that you write will have a psychoactive uplift, a joyful greeting, as part of its essence.

COMPUTER PROJECTORS AND PROJECTION TV GOES PSYCHOTRONIC: PSYCHOLOGICAL PROJECTION THAT REALLY WORKS

If you are using a computer or video TV projector, then you are in for a treat. While the projector is running and the iBliss program is beaming the screen, get a chair and sit in the beam. Keep your eyes closed and wear sunglasses or an eyeshade. Make sure to rotate your chair so that you process and clear all four sides of your body. The projection action will create a whole array of welcome effects.

Remember the image size is larger than the monitor size and more photonic stimulation will occur and larger results are indicated. If you have a specific body part (CAUTION: NOT YOUR EYES!) you want to clear, focus the projector on it and notice energetic shifts that transpire session after session.

You can increase this result by placing a stack of iBliss energy photos on your chair seat and back. You can also sticker the projector cord. You can lay your iBliss-pod on the projector so that the iBliss program's smart magnetic field integrates into the projector amplification stages and signal. You might also wear iBliss iron-ons as well. You can also energize some buzz water before you start. You are setting up a resonant field, a vigorous energy flow amongst the various resonant factors. This method also works well for yoga, workouts, meditation, singing, drawing, dancing, making love etc. For safety's sake if your eyes will be open, sit a long way away from the projector beam and wear sunglasses or other eye safety goggles. (Consult your ophthalmologist or optometrist for specific instructions, which will depend on projector brightness and distance from the light source.) You are beaming or flashing the projector imagery onto your body and energy field as you perform an exercise. When moving, the energy beam works deeper into armoring, supporting your subtle bodies' release of conflict energy.

COMPUTING MALAISE: YOUR COMPUTER IS SUFFERING FROM A LIFE FORCE DEFICIENCY UP ENERGY!

For years I computed only out of doors at the beach. The fresh air, negative ions and higher life force, plants, larger space, views and sunlight kept my energy up.

Many computer users complain that they feel fatigue—a spaced-out tired or jittery feeling, making it hard to concentrate—during and after using their computers. Dull feelings of wanting to go to sleep or sleeplessness are often reported. Research shows that PG&E knows the damaging health issues involved in electrical fields but has consistently suppressed the evidence. It is considered in high-tech electronics circles that this electronic smog is harmful to people.

The Russians have studied this problem much more than we have and concluded that it is a big problem. I have suffered from this condition myself and know how it feels. Not too good! I would never for instance, sleep in my bedroom with a computer on. I would never formerly even let a computer stay overnight in my bedroom. When I was first researching this problem I noticed that while running these energy programs, I did not feel that strange malaise anymore. Nor did I feel it afterwards. Reluctantly testing a theory, I slept with 3 computers in my room on all night, for one year, running the iBliss Big 3 and Blue Light programs day and night. Not only did I not get the always-predictable computer stress syndrome but also I slept much sounder and deeper than ever before, with much less pre-sleep stress. Without expensive studies, I can make no health claims, but I can say that people who formerly hated their computers and the way they felt, now use them at night to run relaxing programs (Big 3 and Blue Light) and feel the bliss. It certainly feels different to me and quite a few other research associates.

If you play video games the same holds true. The same if you are watching a DVD, watching TV or visiting a website on improving your golf game. Feeling better, more joyous and more blissfully in the now, is the ideal setting for learning any new skill or behavior. The high resonance energy you program into your endeavor, with the aid of our technology, will come back, or feedback, to you as you watch, listen and feel—causing a more joyous interaction with your chosen computing or viewing endeavor.

For blissful results when watching TV or playing a DVD, run the output from your bliss-pod into your TV's input section. You need not switch your TV to show your pod's signal. Just keep viewing and the pod's energized audio and video waves will enter your TV's audio and video amplifiers and the simple action of watching a movie will become a greater pleasure.

It will impart a multi-dimensional, feeling-alive quality to your project and enhance your viewing pleasure.

If you are in product development or re-designing a workspace or planning a vacation online then you want your highest level of intuition to be on hand for that event. You want to open up to a deeper quality of feeling. You want to be able to pre-experience a multitude of possible outcomes. What is your gut sense about this project and the steps that you are taking?

Imagine bringing the feeling of being on a vacation or taking a holiday to your computing every day. Imagine the feeling of being out of doors in a power spot, say Sedona or Maui. What would it be like to feel fresh and in the moment throughout the day? The feeling of oneness and the clearing and centering benefits of meditation can be an easily learned behavior. Stopping stressful thinking patterns gives way to a deeper sensed feeling. When you navigate by your intuition rather than your limitations you get many more right answers.

WANT TO COMPUTE LIKE A ZEN MONK?
WHAT WOULD THE BUDDHA DO?
LIFE ENERGY AMPLIFIERS

The Life Energy Amplifiers that I invented and formerly sold through ORI for $15,000 or more cannot keep up with the bliss factor, versatility, portability and ease of use of this profound psychotronic computer software system. My old systems are truly mono-dimensional in comparison but updated modifications are possible utilizing the iBliss technology, explained in a few sections below. In all fairness, as energy sculptures though they are beautiful but as natural evolution transformed them into a computer program in DVD form, they have become a true multi-purpose, modern day psychotronic instrument.

YOUR IPOD'S, COMPUTER'S, DVD PLAYER'S, VIDEOPHONE'S SUBSTANCE WELL;
YOUR OWN MAGICAL BLENDS

I bet you did not know that your personal computer, pod or phone had such a feature. A "substance well" in more traditional equipment is a wired basket or an input that allows you to mix in your own custom energy remedies into the circuit. This feature allows you to add whatever substance energies you wish to add to your energy work. Your computer/DVD player is no different. Later in this work I go into great detail showing you how the field of Horizontal Negative Green is a vital, energy carrier frequency. It is the shortest wave in the universe and penetrates anything. It will penetrate any substance that you lay on your computer/DVD screen and carry its energy field outward, continually. It flows out and creates an environmental field if there is no action-at-a-distance target set up. If you set on the screen a Bach Flower Remedy for instance, the remedy will be carried out into the environment forming an energy cocoon of the substance, our Horizontal Negative Green carrier frequency and the other energy formulations that are built in as a vital ingredient of the iBliss program. This will work on any substance you set on the screen or place against the screen.

If you wish faster action, hold the bottle, capsules, tablets or powder in your left hand (input side) while holding your left hand touching the screen. It is, of course, easier if the screen is flat on the table with the screen facing up. The Horizontal Negative Green will infuse with the substance and carry it into your left hand through the left input side of your body. Using Bach Flower Remedies, especially Rescue Remedy can be a big release of low-level energy. Rule Number 1: Do not hold anything in your left hand that you are not willing to integrate with your bio-field.

You can place substances into non-toxic, natural vegetable glycerin bags or envelopes made of other natural ingredients, one on top of the other. If you place a picture of the target subject as the top item on the stack, then the energy will go to the subject of that picture. If you have no picture or witness at the end of the line, the energy goes to the room or directly to you if you touch the last item, making yourself the end of the line.

Don't get too carried away here and place too many items into the circuit until you have worked with many substances one by one. Avoid homeopathic remedies with this process unless you are a trained homeopath. Try Bach Flower Remedies, smartpills and whatever else you feel intuitive about. Pictures of saints, mandalas, holy symbols, stones, crystals, prayers, high resonance words and intention or goals, etc. are worth researching with to find out more about how your body processes energy. Never place any substance in the “well” that you would not ordinarily wish to consume or absorb. The more you work with these energy processes, the clearer your bio-field becomes and the more sensitive and intuitive you become. If you dowse or muscle test or use biofeedback, you can use these analysis mediums to test for which items to put into the circuit and their compatibility with other items.

ENEGETIC INTERFACE

For those of you that own one of our ORI VisionQuest models, or any other piece of psychotronic, radionic, energy or health equipment you are in for an energetic opportunity. Place the iPod on the input plate or substance well of your device, screen against the plate or well. Turn the volume up full but do not plug in the headphones. Now as you run one of our programs, the output signal of your device will carry the amplified signal of our iBliss programs. You will also clear up any vertical or conflict energy emanating from your earlier system. If you liked your device before you will love it now. You can also use a laptop or computer monitor, videophone or portable DVD player to achieve the same result, by fashioning the output of our iBliss program to energetically interface with your device’s input circuitry. Just place your player running our iBliss program in close proximity to, or touching the amplifier of your earlier instrument. You can also have it professionally hardwired into your earlier system but contact the manufacturer first for specific instructions. (WARNING: Never attempt this modification without professional help, this action may void your warranty.)

A non-hardwired, close proximity, handshake protocol connection works quite well. We take no responsibility for incorrect hook ups. You are piggybacking sacred geometry vitality fields onto your system’s output signal and you can expect a quantum increase in results.

Life Energy Amplifier
– VisionQuest Model with iPod on Input Plate

WARNING: If you own an Atlantis HighLife high-chi negative ion system, DO NOT PLACE any type of sensitive computer equipment near this high voltage device. Instead broadcast to your Atlantis High Life by taking a photograph of it and then placing the photo on your computer or iPod screen and broadcast the iBliss program to it from a long way away for computer safety sake. High voltage negative ions are great for the environment but not good for sensitive electronic equipment. You are using the Atlantis High Life as an amplification link to adjust its programming to include your iBliss software programs. You are also linking our present and future broadcasts to your Atlantis so that we can stream all of our new programs to it when it is on. More on broadcasting in a later section.

CREATE YOUR OWN CUSTOM PROGRAMS

Making your own custom programs is as easy as using an erasable felt-tip marker or printing out on a transparency the word or phrase you want to clear. Write it on your monitor screen, iPod screen, TV screen using a transparency etc. Use only the highest resonance words such as: Hope, Openness, Oneness, Love, Forgiveness (PLUG: You might also attend International Forgiveness Day—the work of Bob Plath), Gratitude, Thanks, Peace, Bliss, Prosperity, Abundance, Higher Self, God, Infinity, etc. Type each word into your computer's word processing program, make it 3D with shading and then print it big on a transparency, place the transparency in front of your computer screen, iPod screen, TV screen, cellphone screen etc. Sticky cling transparencies work well here. The word that you have chosen to clear, will clear in your subconscious just like magic. Run the Positive Green Light program, then White Light then the Big 3. If you want to conclude with relaxation and sleep, run our Relax Blue Light program. You could use lipstick pencil or erasable felt tip also. Some may find more results in using their own handwriting as it carries your own intention for energetic amplification through this program.

Here's how to do it:

—Start by playing the Positive Green program.
(Run the screen images as well as sound.)

—Think of a stressful issue you want to clear, for example, rage. What positive attribute is the opposite of rage that you want to cultivate? Say compassion comes up. Write compassion on a transparency or on your screen.

—When you are in the proximity of the device or actually touching it (better yet) think about or visualize what you want to clear about it. You may recall times this incident happened or how you feel about it, how it appears to serve you or where you learned it from, etc.

—You could also see how others might be hurt by it or what it costs you. Maybe an earlier time you used rage will come up or even the first time. Visualize alternative behaviors for accomplishing your goals. If you want more result touch the computer or DVD monitor with your left hand and keep it there. You could also hold Rescue Remedy in your left hand while touching the screen. If you desire even more result learn EFT and tap with your right hand or learn EMDR, etc.

QUAD WITNESSES OR ENERGY LINKS

You could take a picture of a body part you want to clear. Let us say perhaps that rage is associated with your arms and neck, or your right fist, or maybe your whole body, make a transparency of it then put it in front of the screen behind the word or phrase that you are clearing. (For best results take 4 pictures of your body or body part, one from each angle for maximum energy transfer. Taking a picture from 4 sides is John's suggestion, as it makes for a better coupling for action at a distance. You are now clearing rage at a distance. Do this step when you can't sit down to process it or between hands-on sessions.) You can also broadcast the clearing to yourself when you are in the environment where rage most often strikes.

Next, take the next issue associated with rage, stay with the same general subject matter (romantic relationships, work, children, communication, overeating, etc.) What comes up next? Say fear and choose the HEAP that is the opposite or near opposite. Say love and away you go. Next take the example (revenge) and get its counterpart (maybe loving contribution) and clear that. Next hate and run love, lying run truth, leaving run heartfelt commitment, etc. Always choose the highest, greatest good of that lowly issue. Clear one area than another and then another, don't jump around. At the completion of each issue visualize yourself living in that high resonance state. See it, hear it, feel it.

RADIONICS REVISITED ACTION AT A DISTANCE BLINDED BY SCIENCE

The term Radionics comes from a much earlier time when operators used instruments that were purported to send the operator's intentions and specific energy remedies from a distance. The devices usually utilized knobs to set numbered tunings that represented or symbolized change that hopefully arrived at the target subject causing betterment. Some without the proper research and testing made some unfortunate physical healing and cure claims. Some results were attained. I make no such claims here. My father, who worked in electronics and physics at the SF Radiological Defense Lab, and I spent 5 years taking apart each instrument we encountered. It was a hobby. We tested each trying in vain, to find some commonality other than knobs and numbers (rates) amongst them. We found no measurable signal that could in anyway appreciably influence a bio-field, except one unit that featured a spinning 10-cent magnet. The occasional results were explainable only in that these devices were 100% operator dependant. The operator, not the device, performed the praying or intending. In some cases the knobs were not even connected to any electronics whatsoever "and it still "works," the manufacturer crowed.

Sometime back, after completing almost 5 years of frustrating work, I completed research on the SE-5. I began teaching Radionics, or better stated, "action at a distance research classes" and became a speaker for the United States Psychotronics Association, Global Sciences and the Whole Life Expo. What I learned from training many researchers was “give me a good psychic and I can make a good action at a distance prayer.” Most students were too stressed out to make good prayers or intenders.

Coming full circle, I learned in Catholic grammar school (Our Lady of Angels) to pray for people. I did a lot of it. Over time it became a bettered ability. I never used a device except Rosary Beads and pictures of the target subject. I tried to do it in a holy (holy means whole) place and be in a holy space. The key here is to be in a whole(ly) state of consciousness.

GOD BLESS DAVID TANSLEY

David Tansley, Ph.D., who wrote the best researched and most prolific radionic books I’ve ever read, called me one day many, many years ago, very sick. He said the more people he practiced Radionics on the worse he felt. He felt he was picking up symptoms from his clients. This is a common complaint in the psychology and therapy worlds. I told David I was working on a device called a Life Energy Amplifier™ that would clear people’s energy. This was a priority as I saw it. For years, working with some people drove me into despair. Their stress became my stress. David said that my quest was a right indication. He wanted to help people but the process of going into resonance with them was causing some kind of sympathetic response and a transfer of symptoms. David died a few months later. I gave up working with people at a distance that very day until I had perfected the LEA. One other friend and teacher of mine Jerry Friedenstien who practiced and taught Radionics also died abruptly. Captain Bill Robertson did also. So did Suzan.

The LEA offered through Oxygen Research Institute (ORI), a company I started twenty years ago, got into the hands of 100s of action-at-a-distance researchers. The devices, which cost from $3,000 to $25,000, were effective at clearing energy for them for the most part. 100s of therapists said that they no longer took their work home with them. The downside to these devices was that they were costly, inflexible, not portable, and were often intrusive into a therapy session. Each device could run only one program unless additional, expensive, after-market add-ons were purchased. In hindsight, we were selling hardware with no real software. (I have an update for VisionQuests) Some models required hand-holding for a physical connection. I wrote a book called The Bliss Factor and a workbook called Coaching Self Inquiry about my applications. They were sold by ORI, Tools for Wellness, Synchronicity Foundation, psychic Jason Stacks and other independent distributors. No action-at-a-distance research customer to my knowledge ever died from his or her research again. They died only from natural causes. I do not want to leave the wrong impression here that they became immortal from using our energy systems.

DO NOT PUT YOURSELF INTO RESONANCE WITH SICK PEOPLE UNLESS YOU HAVE SOME WAY TO PROTECT YOURSELF!

The lesson here is to not put yourself into resonance with sick people unless you have some way to protect yourself. Healers I have studied tend to take on stress from their clients or patients. You find among therapists rapid weight gain or weight loss, substance abuse, violent behavior, failed relationships of many kinds among the therapeutic population. When you dowse a substance you go into resonance with it. You and it become one. John Civitan refuses to dowse some electrical devices because he points out that electricians have messed up energy fields. They became ELF/EMF casualties.

The key here is to be able to clear yourself daily of counterclockwise, spinning energy fields accumulated from de-vitalizing people, situations and things. John has a process for clearing himself that requires great skill. It also takes considerable focused time and attention. Most people would drop out of this practice in less than one week. Somehow an automatic process needed to be developed that was a no-brainer and that people would use effortlessly. It would be something they wanted to do rather than had to, like listening to music, journaling, surfing the web, or watching a video.

A SMART MAGNETIC FIELD THAT CONNECTS SPIRIT WITH MATTER: INSTRUCTING THE LIFE FORCE

Horizontal Negative Green is a life force wavelength that transports information, intention and consciousness

A breakthrough was made when Dr. Karim re-discovered an energy carrier wave called Horizontal Negative Green. It is a true “Radionic” transmission frequency that was used by the Egyptian high priests. The later French researchers in the 1940s called it “a radionic wave par excellence!” It is the smallest or shortest wave in the universe and it will penetrate even lead. It is even shorter than an X ray. It’s all over the universe, being generated by the earth, planets, stars, sun, plants, minerals, power spots, humans, etc. Children have more of it than most adults. This is derived from John’s in-depth testing. Psychics, I postulate, have a lot more of it than non-psychics. It is a measurable wavelength! No cigar boxes with disconnected knobs here! It is also generated in great abundance, by sacred geometry, from shape and form. These are called shape-generated waves. This action-at-a-distance field was used by the Chinese (Ba Gua) and Egyptians at least 5,000 years ago. Corrected Tetrahedrons generate it generously at the base. Positive Green is generated at the apex or top point. What we did was develop a computer to mock up a corrected tetrahedron 100 feet tall in virtual space. Its energy output is farmed from its structure for its Horizontal Negative Green energy. Once this waveform is harvested, it is stored in special computer files and then amplified millions of times without distortion. Horizontal Negative Green is a primary spiritual carrier wave that transports information, intention and consciousness at a distance. Horizontal Negative Green is a life force wave of vital energy. We also propagate other specific advanced energy fields generated by sacred geometry such as measured and found in the King’s Chamber. The King’s Chamber is a sweet spot or collection point for a specific ray of very smart energy. When these rays are mixed or inputted into a sound, picture, fabric, crystal, computer chip DVD, CD, etc., the “object” appears energetically as if it is a mega-piece of sacred geometry. Neither the pendulum nor the body’s bio-field sees any difference. The iBliss stick-ons, transparencies and labels are energetically a corrected tetrahedron, ring, flower of life, dome, golden ratio shell, etc.

All appear to be 100-foot tall corrected energetic sculptures such as those found in temples, churches, mosques, synagogues, etc. They function through their shape and form as tuned lenses or focusing instruments, to propagate specific wavelengths, determined by the angle and shape of the sacred geometric “lenses.”

COMPUTER, CELL AND IPOD PARTNERSHIPS: CUT A DEAL WITH CHI CHIP

The most powerful and workable partner for life energy amplification is a video, photo and audio file that rapidly changes energy formulations, pulsing files up to 30 times per second. When you combine the right kind of electrical signal with this energy you get huge amplification factors. The iPods and computers are just such video, photo and sound amplification devices. John and I chose the iPod for its micro-size, low cost and its awesome power. When you load our iBliss DVD into iTunes and then into your pod it becomes a modern day, action-at-a-distance instrument with a measurable output signal. Want to test it? A test that no other “radionic” device we have tested up to 3 years ago could do? (In all fairness, I can only speak for devices I have tested, and there are new ones on the market that I can’t speak about since I have not tested them.) Get a Virtual Cone Pendulum from vesica.org and set it on Horizontal Negative Green. When your pod is on and running our programs, notice the pendulum spinning clockwise. Test another iPod without our program and notice that energy field is absent. It spins counterclockwise with a regular pendulum, like all other electronic devices that we have tested. The VCP will also spin clockwise on that setting for each item you print from your psychoronic printer, and each item you hold your pod to that can store energy. Print regular photos without making use of our program and notice no positive energy spin or spin on Horizontal Negative Green on the VCP. Water is always a good candidate for this experiment as it retains energy signatures. Think Messages from Water.

Take the VCP and measure your picture for any of the 12 horizontal colors. When you find one that is weak take your pod and place that colored gel in front of the screen, with your picture behind it and run the iBliss program. Wait approximately 3 hours, then re-measure your pic or witness. In all of the cases that we have measured, the color that was broadcast will now be more present. You can also muscle test it, use biofeedback, use a regular pengelum or use a Lecher antenna to test. Doubleblind it if you wish.

The ultimate proof is in the pudding, of course; it is in the way that you feel. The more you broadcast and energy clear yourself the better most people feel, the more blissful, more grateful and more joyful. When you broadcast HEAPS to yourself you raise your resonance, you learn to resonate with the energy remedies that you send. Notice I have not mentioned curing any disease. I am a research psychologist. My only interest in this line of research is mental and spiritual. It is the only applications that are legal, I believe. The subtle bodies. I am interested in raising people's mental and spiritual resonance. Put a picture of a saint on your pod or computer or DVD screen and draw with your intention energy, using a pen or marker over the image, outlining it. Then put the overdrawn picture in front of the monitor. Then put your own or the target subject's witness behind it. When you run any of the iBliss programs the saint's energy will go to you through your witness or relay. This is because all of our programs contain Horizontal Negative Green Light for psychic development and action-at-a-distance research. Put any substance on the screen and your picture or the target subject's witness behind it, the energy goes to the last image in the stack.

If you have a laptop that can run the iBliss DVD's or you can, better yet, download your iBliss DVD to it, fold the screen down to about 1 inch from closing and place witnesses on top of the keyboard. Again the witness can be a hair sample, pictures, fingernail clipping, signature, etc. When you run the iBliss programs, the pulsed energy from the computer, screen and audio speakers will go directly to the target subject(s) via the energetic link. You can easily fit 10 pics on the space of a laptop keyboard.

The life force wants to play! This is the essence of sympathetic magic and the law of similars. Whatever you do to one-half of something, or an exact image of something, the other half gets it. You are talking to and instructing the life force in language that she understands. You are duplicating the mechanism of action of the life force in bestowing and amplifying life force signals. You are piggybacking on the life force.

One key feature here is the large volume of Horizontal Negative Green that is the carrier wave. You are no longer using your own Horizontal Negative Green. Guess what? You are out of the circuit. Your life force is no longer needed. Sorry! You're fired! The device does all of the work. Thank you, Dr. David Tansley. You do not need to go into resonance with the subject. The computer performs the whole operation. The DVD programs contain more than the necessary life force signal to do the job. In fact, the computer program has way more pulsed life force (Horizontal Negative Green) resulting in a better connection and focus and a longer process period than most superhumans can do on a good day. This device called an iBliss iPod, or video cellphone, fits into your pocket and is battery powered. Just place a substance, picture, transparency, word, etc. on the screen and your target subject in back of it and away you go. Run as many programs as you like as often as you like. If you place a 4- to 6-inch round crystal next to the screen (best touching it) and your pics or witnesses around it, a pod can do 5-10 target subjects all at once. Run the program on a 20-inch (or wider) horizontal monitor screen and you can do the whole block. Probably 30-50 subjects, maybe more. You can write on the screen on a transparency or on the screen directly with an erasable marker, any word or symbol you wish to attune to.

There is no need, in my humble opinion, to purchase additional Radionic or Psychotronic equipment when you can easily run a program provided on an inexpensive DVD and transform your computer, iPod, videophone, etc. into a state-of-the-art, psychoactive instrument.

iPods and computers are also much easier to repair than the "Radionics" devices that I have encountered, most have no schematics and have to be sent back to a company that is overseas, or that possibility is no longer in business. DVDs require no repairing and last for ages. We supply tested tried & true programs on DVD. Select the program you wish to run and push the play button.

Please, please don't forget to clear yourself each day with Positive Green as you may in the beginning of your research, start to visualize the clearing process working for the target subject and inadvertently go into resonance with him, her or it for just a few seconds. When you have energy clearing at your fingertips make good use of it and you will see a difference.

THE 6TH SENSE

We have seen how Horizontal Negative Green acts as a vital carrier wave being the shortest wave in the universe. It is also most vital. It can carry the energy of the quality of a substance. This can be the energy characteristic of a photographic subject, plus the artist's creativity when drawing a picture and the intention of the artistic creation. This "6th sense carrier wave" can be placed into a picture, recorded sound, video, computer file, water (thank you, Dr. Emoto) and many other storage facilities.

Horizontal Negative Green and its energy components have another quality or feature, which is most amazing. When placed or integrated into a medium, it infuses life force into that medium allowing for a deeper accessing of the qualities of that element. In other words, when you infuse life energy into that medium making it come alive, the Horizontal Negative Green amplifies the medium's characteristics so that they are now more present and available to be perceived. This supports the perceiver to more deeply experience a picture of a power spot, a recorded sound, a picture of an herbal substance, a movie of an athlete performing an athletic endeavor. The designer energy Horizontal Negative Green formulation co-creates with the perceiver, to open for 6th sense type impressions (subtle energy matrix) that are captured in that audio recording, photo, printed art piece, movie, etc.

It can be looked at as a unique type of PSI or ESP field, a space of higher rapport. It has some of the qualities that scalar fields were found to have, except Horizontal Negative Green is way more vital and co-creates a much higher vibration of consciousness. My earlier Life Energy Amplifier units used scalar fields to carry substance energies from the input plate to the amplifier stage, to be amplified and sent down a wire to an electrode.

When you print out a picture, using Horizontal Negative Green contained in our DVD program of a power spot, for example, the subtle energy matrix, or energy codes, are greatly amplified, allowing the photo to be a truer representation of the real thing. It feels more like you are actually there! What you get is real sensation and feeling as if the picture was the real thing and not a representation. Horizontal Negative Green amplifies the picture's qualities captured in the Haline Matrix of the photo or film. If the video recording is of a live rock concert, then the Horizontal Negative Green amplifies the emotions or emotional tone or atmosphere of the event and brings you much closer to the feeling of the live rendition. If the photo is of an herbal St. John's Wort, then the photo infused with Horizontal Negative Green is permeated by the qualities of St John's Wort, amplifies them, vitalizes them and sends out its bio-signal as instructed. The photographic representation actually has some of the relaxing qualities of the original substance. It is as if the photographic subject was truly alive.

If the medium is a videotape of an athletic accomplishment, then the video signal, impregnated with this special quality of life force, when amplified with Horizontal Negative Green, conveys subtle life force impressions or feelings of the consciousness of that accomplishment, perhaps courage, focus and excitement. When you add life force to a pre-recorded past event, you bring to it the quality of aliveness, as est's Werner Erhard used to put it so well.

If you have a film of a scene where the director, through the performances of the actors and actress, are conveying forgiveness, then you will get an amplification of the qualities of forgiveness. If you are willing and open, you can take a trip into the very essence of forgiveness, to a point where the movie seems to be talking to you personally. You are able to see forgiveness from an expanded point of view. From a "holographic" vantage point that is open to deeper perception. Imagine a trip to the Holodeck!

It is as if the energized medium helps you become more sensitive. It works with you to open to a higher band of perception. When you touch a photo processed with the iBliss technology with your left hand, a feeling will come over you. If you feel intimidated or ill at ease and are routinely asking yourself “What should I feel?” then you are blocking your own internal perception. If you just allow the process to open you to a quieter mind, then new levels of deeper perception will come up to consciousness. It is a form of advanced psychometry. It gives art an opportunity to really move you, in that movement finding a deeper meaning in your higher perception of the piece.

GETTING THE MOST FOR YOUR MONEY CREATING THE HIGHEST LEVEL OF TRANSFORMATION

By utilizing polaroid pictures, hair samples, fingernail pieces or wiping your forehead or face on a paper towel or tissue—your DNA signature is left on the towel or tissue, making for a good witness, link or relay. Do place witnesses into an envelope to keep them uncontaminated. Broadcasting is a very useful method for processing your bio-field when you do not have time to take your equipment with you. Utilize our broadcast technology to energy clear yourself at a distance when you are in environments where reaction has gotten the best of you. Wearing iBlissware™ helps create resonance with the broadcast. The very energy files that you are wearing, in iron-on application form, are the very same ones broadcast. You are then potentizing an already existing field rather than “starting from scratch” amplification. This is an additional application factor that the iBlissware serves. You can easily double iBlissware’s potency by broadcasting to yourself while already being stimulated by its constant pulses, caused by your every physical movement. The more energy photos in your environment and the more applications that you are wearing, the greater resonance you will experience with these high vitality chi fields.

OUR iBLISS LOGO: WE BROADCAST TO OUR LOGO

When printing our power pictures included with this DVD make sure to include our logo as presented. We broadcast to it as it appears throughout all of our products.

iBliss Logo

This sets up a large resonant field among your personal energized items. If you inadvertently edit out our logo, you will cut our energy broadcast to your DVD programs and printouts, creating an imbalance and subsequently lower their vitality by over 100%. This action will also terminate our ability to broadcast new programs to you at no cost in the future. We tag all of our programs with both our visible and “invisible” logos to protect our products from infringement and, at the same time, to ensure that through our energy broadcast you are getting the highest possible result that our work has evolved to, in a timely fashion.

We had originally intended to offer a subscription broadcast service, for a fee. But after seeing what customers could do broadcast-wise on their own, and our standard broadcast to your logo witness, we found this additional “service” unnecessary.

You can also use a group photo for group clearing. This task becomes easier if each group member is wearing iBliss Blissware™ energy apparel. Broadcasting to a group wearing the energy signatures, with photos in the environment and stickers on appliances, makes group clearing a much easier job.

Our new video programs flash programs, at approximately one every 25 seconds. We use many thousands of different programs to make a complete and thorough clearing. Our programs also use many different groups or subprograms in each main program. An example of a basic energy clearing program is Positive Green, then White Light followed by the Big 3. This sequence clears gross body blocks, and then clears mental and spiritual congested energy; then and only then it replenishes with high resonance HEAPS. If you only replenish and fail to clear first you will quickly drain the high resonance energy as it is soaked up in grosser body congestion. It is hard to be spiritual when suffering grosser life force energy drains!

If you only clear but fail to replenish higher forces you get a dumbed-down but happily energized being. It is an 1, 2, 3, punch that clears body, mind and self. With our work all subtle bodies are addressed. Adding Blue Light at the completion is ideal for relaxation and sleep.

Take the Positive Green program. Our Positive Green comes from shape-generated waves but we also utilize the amplified Positive Green from forests and trees. We have found numerous sources of this green energy, including algae and jade, and amped them millions of times to function as a subtle body energy remedy.

Each iBliss DVD is produced as a one-off item. They are not produced by duplication companies, as we use a whole lab full of equipment to boost the signal when we compress and download from our master program. If you copy the DVD through conventional means, you will have much data dropout. This means that some of the programs will not work as they are subtler and require exact equalization and amplification to balance the blend. We now incorporate thousands of remedy files for each program. Each program contains thousands of remedies, each remedy flashing at 25 per second or so. Even if someone managed to steal a few minutes of the file, they would be getting only a fraction of the entire program. Not enough to do the job but enough to create an out-of-balance feeling and effect. They would also be missing our broadcast codes. We take no responsibility for the minimal results or lack thereof from illegal copies. Get the benefits from the true program and don't make substandard copies.

ENERGY VIDEOS

When you load a movie, rock video, family film, or what have you, into a computer while playing our iBliss DVD in as many programs as possible, the video becomes a full energy product. Both the video and audio tracks, once saved, now will contain our energized format. You will find increased qualities of cognitive potential will be experienced while viewing your presentation. This can be a big boost for lectures, sales presentations, seminars, workshops, training films, how to instructions, fashion shows, product info spots, concerts, etc.

Also, playing our DVD in the background during the above will improve the quality of people's experience and allow participants to understand your presentation on many more levels, allowing a more complete duplication of your message. You are creating an atmosphere of peace and well being for their more focused contemplation and later pleasurable reflection. If you have a CD, video or film that you want professionally energized, then give us a call.

YOUR IPOD TRANSFORMED FOR YOU

For those of you who do not wish to take the time or who are computer-tech challenged, I recommend Richard Olson, who is most familiar with setting up iBliss iPods and can do it for you. Richard has set up many pods with our iBliss program. He can more than double, raise by a factor of 100%, the energetic output capacity of your iPod by downloading the iBliss program, with a whole lab full of amplification equipment. He is also capable of taking a film or video you provide to him on DVD and transforming the audio and video to iBliss 12D Sound™ and full spectrum video. I have licensed Richard as my long-time research engineer and friend to perform this work, according to iBliss's highest standards. I have received this service and many other technical services from him and I am most satisfied with the result. He can do the same for you. His available time is limited by our research and production schedule, so give him as much lead-time as possible for best scheduling. Contact Richard or myself for more details.

THE HOLY GRAIL REVEALED

I have been a long time researcher of conspiracy theories, the Arc of the Covenant and the Holy Grail. I read over 100 conspiracy and Holy Grail books while in Hawaii in 1983. I quit reading them when I found myself looking over my shoulder so much that I had an ongoing neckache. It was not until I had started my studies of Dr. Karim's BioGeometry that I felt that I had picked up the Grail scent again. Up until this time, my research with John had unearthed some spectacular results but still it was no Holy Grail. Through the years since 1983, I had allowed myself to read only a few such Holy Grail books per year, now and again.

I felt that I was close to the Holy Grail technology in some respects, when I started working with the Big 3, knowing that they were the original blessed trinity from Egypt that grew into the Big 3 in Christianity. I felt on the verge of an even greater discovery, but at that time I could not crack the DaVinci or Grail codes.

After John had completed two years worth of testing the Big 3 on people, he announced that no one's energy field, that he had tested, wanted it. I was shocked. The most amazing things had happened to myself and others applying this Big 3 fields and John said that not one person he tested needed these 3 fields! Was I hallucinating? Our research associates did feel substantial intermittent gain. I did feel a continued opening from using them. John said that, unlike his testing with the Big 3, every single person he tested wanted and needed Positive Green, White Light--and the other colors sporadically. With all the sacred lore pointing to HHG, could over 100 books, many cults, mystery schools and secret societies be that wrong? Were the Knights of the Temple guarding an empty box all of these years? After two days of confusion, some prayer and a lot of web searching, I got my answer. It took me back to my 8 years of Catholic school, to my Latin and altar boy training. I point out here that I am a seeker of truth and I am not attached to any religion or methodology. My quest is for what works.

THE GRACE FACTOR

Before a person or an adept can experience or go into union with God or higher consciousness, one quality is necessary. That quality is grace. The same with India's Advaita Vedanta Self-Inquiry. There is the grace of the Guru; in Christianity it is the grace of the Holy Ghost. In Hinduism you can't see Ram without Hanuman. Just what was the grace of the Holy Ghost? I went on a bike ride looking in churches and synagogues until I noticed a Christian church's stained glass window, showing a dove flying and a beam or tetrahedron of White Light coming from its heart. I also found other windows showing it apparently emanating from the dove's wings. It was White Light or the light of grace. You can create and maintain unbroken access to the Big 3 only if you are in a state of grace or purity! As I looked at the colorful dove glass and became absorbed in the White Light, I revisited my Catholic school training.

Angle of White Light

I remembered my time in Our Lady of Angels in Burlingame, California, and that while I was in first and second grades, I wrote our school name as Our Lady of Angles. The kids would roar. I wish our Sister had made me wear the dunce hat, as the cone of the dunce-shaped hat brings a helping hand of higher smart-pill forces through its specific angular design. I even tried to write "angels" here, right now and it came out Lady of Angles, but I now know why. You see it really is Our Lady of Angles. Our Lady is often pictured with a wreath around her head containing 12 stars or a halo made of 12 stars. The Apparition of Guadalupe churches in Mexico, which I visited for research purposes recently, also show the same 12 stars and the lady standing on the moon bestowing the White Light of grace as does the Egyptian goddess Isis. The 12 stars, or rays, that beam from her crown are channeled down to outflow grace from her extended hands. Hail Mary full of Grace. It is always better to be full of grace than some other less blessed qualities.

Remember the angle of the angel's wings tunes the compression waves to focus the life force to just that angle. The Great Pyramid of Giza slants at 52 degrees for a profound metaphysical and physical purpose. The floor of the King's Chamber in the Great Pyramid, which is bathed by the Pi-ray and is near the apex or point at 51degrees, 51 minutes and 14.3 seconds, as an exact physical location and address.

Most all of the angels' wings, from pictures and statues that John and I have tested, produce gold energy at the top of the head and the Higher Harmonic of UltraViolet from the wings. I do not believe angels have physical wings with physical feathers but rather that the wings are an etheric manifestation and it is their precise anglelarity that generate the precise compression waves to open a porthole into the higher astral plane. The word angel also means messenger. There are 7 archangels, 7 being the number that generates the Big 3 rays. The purple color you see has been referred to as astral light, similar to a black light. I tested the Holy Ghost dove on the stained glass window and sure enough the angularity of the wings produced White Light on my Virtual Cone Pendulum which, you remember, is a copy of an ancient Egyptian measuring device.

(If you see renderings of a graduated ruler and a circle or ring, I believe this VCP-like instrument is used for subtle vibratory physics. You will most often see the ring and ruler or rod of measure as separate, being held in two hands, as it is held as a closely guarded cult secret that the two go together to become one measuring device for measuring sacred energy.)

Even if I do not look at the white dove and White Light, the Virtual Cone Pendulum still reacts to the White Light. I tested many Holy Ghost, White Light drawings and paintings and most of them were White Light generators. Also, technically, White Light is all of the colors at once. Not all "white" appearing light is real White Light. True White Light is a unified, balanced field of 12 exact colors or vibrations--that is the code. It is the ray of preparation. It is a rainbow of 12 colors all integrated into white. The feeling I get from White Light is “relaxed and carefree” a release of worry leaving you open with a positive outlook. It is a peaceful recognition of your inner divinity.

If I integrate the Big 3 in a beam of White Light, then the body’s energy field wants it, and will take it in all day long. This means that when the Big 3 is presented in an envelope of White Light, it is far more assimilable/powerful than the Big 3 by itself. You can’t commune with God or your true self unless you have been first purified and are now in a state of grace. White Light is right next to Horizontal Negative Gold on the Universal Pendulum. They are birds of a feather. They are very similar wavelengths. It is a case of Werner Erhard’s, “you can’t get there from here.”

The best results are obtained by employing Positive Green to clear mental and electromagnetic smog signatures, and then White Light to prepare for the Sacrament, and then once in a state of grace or purity, the Big 3 are ready to travel, but only into a purified and chaste temple of the right angles and dimensions. The right proportions and dimensions bring forth or resonate the White Light ray of Grace, as the ancient temple builders well knew. This later formulation allows for a much greater level of energetic coherence, resolving deeper levels of conflict or non-coherent energy.

THE GOLDEN ROAD
THE WAVE OF CREATION
COHERENT WAVES SHAPE A COHERENT SPACE

I did not think it could get much better than this, but then it did. With this higher level of golden energy integration, cognitions started coming to me faster and faster. The Golden Mean is the number 1.6 & so on & on & on. It is called the Golden Mean or Phi Ratio, as it generates the Higher Harmonic of Gold. It generates gold energy the same as physical gold. The number 16 will do this also as 1.618 (etc.) the life force

Pine Cone demonstrating Golden Mean or Ratio

recons is very much like the number 16. The number 16 generates gold energy or the Higher Harmonic of Gold. It is the geometry of the number 16 that shapes specific compression waves. It is energetically basically the same as the Golden Mean or Golden Proportion or the Phi ratio.

The number 7 is also a most interesting number. Its geometry also shapes the Higher Harmonics of Gold and UltraViolet and Horizontal Negative Green, which is part of the HHG energy packet or package. This is why you see the sacred number 7 appearing on slot machines as the jackpot or winning number. The numbers 7 and 16 go way back as sacred numbers. It is their shape that generates a very specialized field. These are again shape-generated waves, shape and form. Sixteen or seven of the same item will also generate the Golden Manna energy. The life force has favorites.

THE DAVINCI CODE REVEALED YOUR COMPUTER WANTS A HALO

As I started to go into higher resonance with the Higher Harmonic of Gold through the blessing of White Light, I started seeing the Golden Mean or ratio almost every place I looked. The Golden Mean appears in a large number of nature's renderings. I first noticed it in a nautilus shell that I had found as a young nipper on the beach while surfing. It had a most beautiful unfolding curl much like a wave about to break. I love watching waves about to break and feeling the Golden Mean energy they give. Later, while studying art in Europe, I noticed the Golden Mean in many art forms, with my art teachers and museum guides pointing out that it was the hand of nature that created in this most pleasing form. This was DaVinci's secret; the Golden Mean was at the heart of many of his great works. It was nature's meta-program of symmetry unfolding for intuitive artists and sensitives.

I started seeing the Golden Mean everywhere. A walk in nature showed me leaves, flowers, branches, ferns, twigs, grass, cones, fruit and vegetables all containing the Golden Mean pattern. I even read, from a reliable source, that the pyramids on the Giza Plateau are arranged in a Golden Mean order. I measured many of Nature's Golden Mean manifestations with my Virtual Cone Pendulum and found them to contain the Higher Harmonic of Gold. The more I in-flowed White Light and Higher Harmonic of Gold energy, the more I resonated to higher level art forms, saintly people and aesthetic creations. I learned that a morphic resonance is the term for a resonance of similarities. I kept seeing the Rosicrucian and Celtic crosses. A circle where the two planes or shafts cross over into one, forming an X, one horizontal and one vertical. The circle designates the power spot for the crossing of the two cross-pieces and in the center of the circle the gold energy can be found. It has been referred to as a rosy crossing or Rosy Cross. The rose with its petals in the center of the circle are designed by nature with, you guessed it—the Golden Mean. The Rose for the West and the Lotus for the East.

I became fascinated with old buildings and churches. I toured San Francisco looking at sacred architecture. I found religious statues, paintings, altarware to embody the Golden Mean signature. I saw ears, fingers, faces that showed a clear Golden Mean pattern. I remembered being in India and Thailand and seeing sacred dances that showed mudras or hand positions and poses that generated Golden Mean. Hand gestures are like focusing a lens to a specific angle, as in a waveguide, bending light to generate a particular energy. The most visually pleasing gestures I found are based on the Golden Mean. You like seeing it or hearing it because it feels good; it makes holy or sacred space. (It becomes even more sacred once you know the secret.) The Golden Mean creates coherence or a smoothing of jagged edges inclining toward a sense of well-being. I felt that the Golden Mean was the geometry of love. While recently in Hawaii, I observed Hawaiian sacred dances showing mudras by dancers forming circles that create the Higher Harmonic of Gold in their center. I also spotted sprouting coiled ferns uncoiling gracefully to show their Golden Mean waveform. The same is true of Rudolph Steiner eurhythmy dances that I had witnessed much earlier in my life.

I also became fascinated with DNA, as it is built on the Golden Mean ratio design. I found sacred geometry and the Golden Mean in so many places. As I looked further I found studies that showed that DNA is influenced by emotion. In one such study 12 bottles of DNA were placed in 12 separate locations with 12 controls. In brief, it showed that when DNA is fed, or broadcast-targeted, with loving thoughts it con-forms to a beautiful Golden Mean geometry, but when sent hateful thoughts or words, it looks convoluted and ill, much like Dr. Emoto's ice crystals. Further studies show that when the Golden Mean is input into a person's energy field, their EKG and EEG show harmonics of the Golden Mean. This shows what I have been feeling--that the Higher Harmonic of Gold or the Golden Mean, when input into a person's energy field, have a profound effect upon heart and brain waves. The key here for me is using White Light to purify before taking in the Higher Harmonic of Gold. Without the White Light, you get only some intermittent uptake, but with White Light as the carrier and key, you get a wideband connection accessing a major blast of Golden energy. The door swings wide open. With daily attunements I started going into resonance with many facets of nature, people's bodies, architecture, dance, paintings, sculpture, designs, animals, etc. I began feeling centered, an overall coherence in my body's energy field. My heart was going into resonance with my brain.

I re-visited the Heartmath Institute's website and found data that supported these interpretations. They showed that the heart radiates a 7-foot energy field that can interact with others. With the Golden Mean energy radiating from my heart, I was supporting people into becoming more friendly and open. It was like my heart was singing. It was something like praying for people, as the person praying creates the Higher Harmonic of Gold when he or she prays. The one prayed for receives and radiates that same energy as the one praying--a resonant double blessing. What I was feeling could be best expressed as Quantum Coherence. I felt in much greater rapport with people and things. I felt an added gratefulness toward nature and its man-made predicament, realizing that there is much less nature every day. Dreadful thought. One day there might really be a silent spring with no nature radiating the colors to support our lightbody. When nature goes into resonance with us it is a vital action. Experience nature as an ally.

When your field is full of White Light, the Higher Harmonic of Gold, or the Golden Mean, you most easily go into resonance with nature. Do you want to commune with nature spirits? Fill up with their frequencies. Other horizontal colors or vital energies that I have talked about earlier come through to you like a rainbow. Violet, Indigo, Blue, Yellow, Orange, Red, InfraRed and Black. Remember White Light contains all colors or frequencies. Being in the state of grace is being open for very positive expectancy. It is living like you have a very important life purpose. Like you have suddenly seen the light.

THE MASONS THE ENERGY CODE

I have read many books on the Masons and have come to know them as a craft that carried the secret of the Temple of Solomon (or “soul of man”). I have always been respectful of their practice of making power spots in architecture. What I have now realized is that they built Washington DC and Philadelphia (Delphi) to the Golden Mean of the land with buildings that would support the land by going into Phi resonance with it. It was not just one building after another that they designed with sacred geometry but rather a whole city or a very large part thereof. Their generous use of the Golden Mean and the other 11 vital fields has had a great influence upon our consciousness. This is especially true for those who have had daily jobs in such hollow buildings. I traveled in Europe where I spent one and a half years researching in many countries, experiencing giant domes, tetrahedrons, spheres, The Flower of Life, the Golden Mean and the numbers 16 and 7 in many forms. I had, for the most part, uplifting experiences but I never really knew what I was looking at or why I was feeling so open. Now I see the bigger picture, the more Golden Mean and other vital fields you place in the environment, the more you resonate to them--grooming your own DNA. I see the yoga of sacred geometry and specifically the Golden Mean as a means of union with higher forces. The dome was a theme throughout Europe; it produces higher energy like a tetrahedron or pyramid. I now chuckle when I realize how the only domed fruit that I recalled was the magic mushroom that I saw in Mexican and Costa Rican art. I see them because of their capped dome being charged up with domed, sacred geometric energy each day as they grow and fruit. It is a piece of geometrically charged sacred art, all by itself.

HIGH CHI, SUPER COHERENT COMPRESSION CHARGE

I began to read physics books and understood that geometry is stored momentum. I gained an added appreciation for the word coherence. When generating a high chi compression charge, the sacred geometric space, or field, is super coherent; it flows with no counter-intention, has no jagged energies, is not jerky. It synchronizes and harmonizes with itself in a silky texture, generating a harmony with whatever it interacts with. It organizes in a beautiful and pleasing manner as it brings a harmonized order to chaos. It is a divine alignment from the top down and at the same time from all perspectives and points of view. It is a wave of inclusion that is a High Energy Attractor Pattern, uplifting all that it touches. The Golden Mean is the wave of creation and a wave of love. It proves itself on the physical, mental and spiritual planes. It is a pattern of bliss, a very HE AP. Its front line is White Light as it readies the recipient for the uptake or communication by purifying, and opening him/her to the Holy Spirit (White Light / Higher Harmonic of Gold). The Holy Spirit (magnetic wind) is the implementer of the Higher Harmonic of Gold. The angle or angels of the Higher Harmonic of UltraViolet help open the portals, gateways or seals (7 seals, dance of the 7 veils) so that you reach the Golden Mean. The Higher Harmonic of UltraViolet is core, yin-sustaining energy according to Robert Gilbert, Ph.D. The Golden Mean is a fractal ratio that permeates the highest artistic or aesthetic band. It could also be called the Golden Fleece. When you have drunk your fill, a golden halo will light up your life, an outward manifestation of Divine Love or the Supreme Love.

CHRISTIANITY REVISTED

I paid a visit to the Poor Claire Sisters on Lake Street in San Francisco. There is a small dome in their front garden. I sat in it and immediately went into an altered state. Reeling with bliss, I met two nuns and asked them where it had come from. They said that it once occupied the center position on their roof. It was taken down for remodeling. I thought—probably not by a Mason! I suggested that the sisters relocate their prayer chapel to the dome in the front garden. I referred to it as a blessed dome.

I also like to visit the dome near the Exploratorium at the Palace of Fine Arts. Even though these domes are not corrected—by placing a cross or some such tuning device on top to block the vertical—they still kick up some good energy—particularly if you know how to clear yourself afterwards. You probably won't catch John in there as he bolts from uncorrected domes. The onion-shaped domes on Russian churches are corrected domes utilizing a modified cross to block the vertical, giving more energy and a better ride.

GOLD OF THE GODS

WHAT IS THE GRAIL:

A CHALICE, PLATTER, STONE, VINE OR AN AURA?

THE CODE

I have read Laurence Gardner's' excellent books, Genesis of the Grail Kings and Bloodline of the Holy Grail and I would like to comment on these well researched and detailed works. I will point to some interesting data and give you my interpretation, adding other technologies as we unfold the design. I am building a point of view here. We are building a model or a computer simulation of these specific points and we will see if we can get it to fly. What I am going to mock up makes no earlier stories or models wrong. It neither negates nor denies other scenarios. It is simply, I believe, a higher vision that through the "magic"

of distortionless, high-level sound amplification and sacred geometric simulation, leads to a high-powered, demonstrable, personally experienceable conclusion. Ask yourself “What if?”

As I have mentioned earlier, the Rosy Cross or Rosi-crucis, rosi(dew)crucis is shown or symbolized as a fire cup, a crucible, a sign of enlightenment. The watchword here is the light in enlightenment. Fire is the Red, Orange and Yellow light of serpent power kundalini or life force that fires up the chalice. The cup contains all 12 colors, forces or planes of vital magnetism that exist in a rainbow spectrum both visible and invisible. All 12 colors or frequencies are what is collected in an orgone accumulator or even a crystal. It is what Wilhelm Reich, M.D. called orgone or life force. Kundalini or life force connects the two worlds of heart and brain. It lights up your life from a grounded centered first chakra to the twelfth chakra somewhere out in the Pleiades. It is food for your lightbody. It is a form of spiritual nutrition. It is what breatharians dine on.

THE VALUE OF GOLD

WHAT DO YOU WANT FROM LIFE?

HOW DOES THE HOLY GHOST SERVE?

Golden Mean generating the Higher Harmonic of Gold

Would you rather have infinite riches or high level wellness, physical rejuvenation, enlightenment and immortality? If you want to just take the physical gold and run, then you may be temporarily disappointed. But if you choose the higher knowledge, then riches can come out of that knowledge. If you can focus for now on a quest for enlightenment and immortality then you may blissfully read on.

The Dew Cup is often depicted as the Holy Grail. It collects “dew” from nature. There is some “dew” or “elixir” (closely guarded secret of the Grail Kings) from nature that will fill up the cup. When you drink from the Grail Cup you too will become a king and ascend into the kingdom of heaven. The term grail means ladder, thus a gradual ascension to a higher plane. The ladder is often seen as having 12 steps. These 12 rays or steps create a fourth element called life force. The Templar code for this is 3 circles for the Big 3 spiritual rays and 7 circles showing the number 7 creates these. To fully understand the grail you need to become a sleuth of sacred geometry, which is a 3 dimensional code. You will need to solve a mystery; you will need to crack the Grail code.

As a Grail cup, the grail can be seen as a gift from God or a higher order of intelligence. It is oftentimes seen as feminine in nature, a receptacle. The dew or elixir or nectar can't be experienced without the feminine principal of openness. The feminine name for this principal is grace, a woman's name, its color is white. It is free of sin or transgression. It is virgin. Only the virgin color of pure white that contains all colors can give a virgin birth to the 12 magnetic ethers.

Rainbow containing all 12 Life Force Fields

The Holy Grail is often referred to as a chalice or womb, which speaks of regeneration, of death and re-birth. The chalice being made of gold gives birth to a living essence, a spiritual vitality of the highest order. It has been kept a closely guarded secret and a form of the word secret is secretion. The dew is a secretion of nature that comes from the sun's interaction upon the Kingdom of nature. The Grail transmutes base ignorance into spiritual gold; this gold is a high state of gold. Gold when spun into a pure high state makes pure or virgin White Light. You are getting warmer!

The Grail is also considered a divine transmission, as in revelation. Gold raises frequency and bends space-time. White Light means "the breath of the universe." White gold is gold plus White Light, it is the grace of God and the highest wave in the universe, pure light, clear light. It has to come through from the 12-spectrum/12 chakra field to be refined to the Higher Harmonic of Gold and White Light. This quality is called the light. In alchemy it is called the great work—the great tincture—transforming gold into a higher state. The master craftsman knew how to take gold to its highest state and transform it into the Higher Harmonic of Gold—the spirit of the light or the spirit of the base metal—etheric gold—the illuminator. Gold is often called a "heavenly stone". The Grail is key to this gnosis or knowledge, it is the 'nectar of supreme excellence,' 'gar' means stone 'cup of stone,' spiritual wisdom, cosmological knowledge, fulfillment, it held the secret of rebirth. Plato calls it the light of the sun because the 12-fold radiance represents both the visible and invisible life force particles or building blocks.

A large tetrahedron or dome with a diameter of 100 feet is a macrocosm of the small microcosm grail cup. The same laws hold true for both. The dome is just a bigger cosmic resonator. In ancient times, domes were built very large and you would position yourself in the dome accordingly, to find your desired sweet spot. (Remember the King's chamber in the great pyramid is a sweet spot for the Pi-ray.) This is the place for the initiate to lie after prayer and cleansing or purification to be given the secret initiation of the 12 rays.

So what is the good of a small gold cup? The grail cup signifies how to "capture" and tune the life force through the degrees (degrees of initiation of the mystery schools) of angularity to pick up these higher forces. The Golden Mean when fractaled out, or fanned out in a precise projection, creates a grail cup. One simple Golden Mean angle, angel or messenger when fanned or fractaled out makes a dome or cup that is capable of resonating the life force signal. It becomes a cosmic resonator capable of attracting golden life force particles and amplifying them. It provides an envelope that channels the life force into a usable signal where you can pick off the exact packets of designer life force particles that you wish.

The antenna on the cup or cup stem separates the electrical spectrum or counterclockwise spinning vertical wave from the clockwise spinning vital magnetism, the other side of the electrical wave. They are two sides of the same coin. You want the magnetic life force or nectar; you do not want the electrical side, as it is power without life force.

The ancient mystery school of Memphis held the Neter (or nature spirit) Sekhmet in high esteem. Sekhmet had two sides: one as protector and mentor and the other an anti-life destroyer.

Every cup or dome or tetrahedron is a grail cup. The energy pattern generated from this cup is a Torus or a donut-shaped form. The Torus forms a Grail Cup with a vortex inflow port at the top opening or mouth. You can achieve the same magic in any size cup because the life force manifests in a dewdrop or a rainbow, as well as a 100-foot diameter dome.

The Arc of the Covenant, an Egyptian relic, is just another way of creating the Higher Harmonic of Gold or God of light. It is a sacred geometric amplifier that was fed a fine, refined white gold powder (White Light processed gold) and amplified it to create a Higher Harmonic field of Gold. "To make gold you must have gold" (Genesis 4:22). The trouble with a machine that amplifies gold is that you must have the gold first and keep it for just that purpose. In earlier days, grosser and less sensitive people would end up eating it before they could let the Arc amplify it to create the true Higher Harmonic of Gold manna for all to enjoy. The priests and Pharaohs just got too hungry for the good of the masses.

BENDING THE ETHERS THE SPIRITUAL SUN

Grail Cup, Ring, Dome or Pyramid generating all 12 Fields

When you create an angle or angel you create compression waves that curve light and thus bend the ethers. When you bend the ethers you liberate light, heat, electricity, motion—free energy. A cup is a dome, one-half of a sphere. It is energetically the same as a tetrahedron. When you cut a sphere or basketball-like object in half, you freeze the 12 colors or rays of the rainbow in the dome. The dome has been called Heaven and the descending rays, angels or better yet angles. The dome is a macrocosm of a drop of dew. In a drop of dew all 12 colors or magnetic fields are present. The trouble is that they shift as the earth moves in the heavens. A drop of dew being a prism or crystal displays the 12 features or qualities of the life force just as the rainbow does. As the sun shines you have greater vitality and you play or work; as the sun goes down so does your vitality. The lowest ebb is 4:00 am; the highest vitality is 12 noon. Twelve noon is Positive Green and midnight is Horizontal Negative Green. If sick people live past 4 am then they will usually make it another day. With a dome all 12 colors are fixed or unmoving. In a sphere, including the earth, the 12 colors shift positions with the turning of the earth around the sun. A dome (visualize a grail cup here) freezes each of the 12 vital energy fields in place. If you turn the dome or cup upside down to spill out its ingredients then they fall, beam or project on the—let us say—paper sheet placed below it. The upsidedown Grail cup is also seen as a crown, hence the original Grail kings. This metaphor is also spoken of as the kingdom of heaven, where you get your golden crown. So as above as below. In some Egyptian renderings you will see a magician like person wearing a hat like a grail cup with a sphere in side of it.

If you dowse a dome with the Virtual Cone Pendulum you will find all 12 rays there, mark them. The only trouble is that you also get 12 vertical colors that are contrary or the dichotomy side of the force. If you place an antenna on top of the dome, say a cross or tuned chalice stem affair or such, you cancel the reverse spin vertical colors and keep only the vital clockwise spinning ones. You cancel out the dark side of the force, the side that can be used in the dark arts. If you want to see what Egyptian antennas looks like you may notice an Egyptian Djed-Wadj. This composite starts looking more like a chalice every minute. Remember the Russian church's onion dome? It has been corrected or tuned for just such an occasion. As you are visualizing it, it looks like a chalice but it is really a dome with an antenna that radiates a group of rays seen as an aura. An aura is one of the descriptions of the Grail as well as a chalice that has but one host or wafer. When you take it, you commune with the highest power, the 12 rays are the life force that come from one host, they come from the one light of the sun. In Egyptian tradition the sun was the sun god Ra, the source of life. Later in Christianity the sun became the Son of God who was a personage representing the realm of the angels or the Higher Harmonic of UltraViolet. The Higher Harmonic of UltraViolet is the son which has a virgin birth, he is a product of the father/sun (Higher Harmonic of Gold) and the divine feminine principal, the Grail Cup/Torus, through the grace (White Light) of the Holy Ghost.

If you harvest the grail energy just right you can get our old friends Positive Green the vitality wave that appears at 12 noon; White Light which is the wave of initiation; the Higher Harmonic of UltraViolet, which is the Christos; the portal to the realm of the angels, Horizontal Negative Green the Holy Spirit field that is everywhere, and the Higher Harmonic of Gold which is the Etheric Gold or Ra, the gold of the Pharaohs. When the Big 3 come together in a packet of White Light they are stepped down to our dimension and impedance is balanced. You get the 12 rays or colors that feed and balance the 12 chakras of the light body. Then you have the resolution to the mystery of the Grail and Camelot or Camu-lot meaning “curved light”. Again compression waves at work.

MERLIN TO THE RESCUE

THE SECRET OF TIME

THE CIRCUIT DIAGRAM

The Big 3 are the rock but you must take the sword Excalibur from the rock to liberate the most powerful sought after force in the universe. What key do you insert into the sword or stone to cause a flow of the Big 3 as a packet that they call the gold? The answer is White Light. It is the sword Excalibur. Did you not notice some of the paintings of the sword Excalibur? It had White Light all around it and sometimes it was made of White Light! This sounds like a job for the White Knight.

Only through the dove of peace can you muster enough White Light or grace to work the miracle. The 12 Knights of the Round Table are the 12 magnetic fields, 12 angels or angles or 12 rays. These are the 12 fundamental sacred geometries or building blocks of this universe. They are the 12 chakras of man and woman, 12 Apostles and the 12 fundamental colors and 12 chakras that are the etheric field or etheric double of light. It is a team effort as all 12 fields must come into unison, must be focused to make White Light, but first the knight must be standing in a state of balance or energy neutral. The white knight is most often depicted standing on a lawn or a green carpet by the edge of a lake. The lake is the unconscious. The 15th degree of Freemasonry initiates with the colors of green and gold showing the knight that balance is necessary to attain the gold. Here the Positive Green creates a state of balance, so unlike the Fool in the tarot deck, you do not walk off a cliff. Some picture this matrix as a circuit diagram. Also as in the tarot deck the magician is waving a wand of intention over the Grail Cup in order to work his magic. His wand is aimed at the heavens where the energy comes from. Walking off a cliff in this case is tangling with the vertical component of the force and lightning strikes the tower. You must separate the lead from the gold or really transmute it. The lead is vertical or toxic and the gold is creative life force. Many incredible remedies are made from toxic Mercury once transmuted. This dichotomy is often depicted as two pillars, one light and one black. Only in a state of balance can White Light be used for purification or the purging of sin. Mortal sins release in Positive Green, as you are still a mortal. Venial sins release with White Light. Grace or White Light is what you get from a complete confession, which is an act of contrition, and forgiveness and God's grace abounds. Then the adept receives the blessed trinity going through Horizontal Negative Green and Higher Harmonic of UltraViolet to the father (Higher Harmonic of Gold). The Higher Harmonic of Gold also answers the age old question of "the gold that weighs less than nothing." The gold weighs less than nothing because it is pure energy. It is of the light.

When this process is performed correctly you get a quick trip through the Egyptian mystery schools. This means being reborn into a state of suspended animation. Your bodily functions slow down (anti-aging) and time stands still. Stasis or complete balance is attained, the ultimate goal of yoga. Time reverse waves are generated from the vacuum (Miracle in the Void) and you go back in negative time by generating negative time waves. True anti-aging. We think of healing an injury as waiting for time to heal it but really the Higher Harmonic of Gold, with the help of the 12 angels, bends the fabric of space and time generating a sling shot, time machine effect. You just go back in time to before the condition existed. Do that a few "times" (joke) and you're there, dude!

THE TAROT CODE DA VINCI'S SECRET

The Tarot deck has its origin with the Kabala, the Knights Templar, Hermetics and ancient Egypt. It can best be viewed as an encoded process that leads to the Holy Grail, each card has many clues. My favorite is the Rider deck designed by Paul Case. I took classes from one of his early students in the mid 60s. The Tarot deck is loaded with clues. The Sun card shows a happy child on a horse being beamed by the big sun and its rays are in the form of a Golden Mean/

DNA strand coming down from it. The gifts of the sun are in the form of the Golden Mean and it can influence your DNA and make you happy and innocent. The Empress has 12 stars in her crown and is holding a sphere showing the conduit that captures the 12 rays. Her spherical scepter is higher than the vegetable kingdom pictured in the background, indicating that with the knowledge of the 12 apostles your divine stewardship is of royal blood. You can also easily find the theme of three maidens dancing in a circle holding three grail cups (Big 3) up to the heavens. The three virgins intertwined, dancing as one, are without sins or transgressions and they receive the elixir that flows down from the heavens. The cup's top section is a dome and the bottom a tetrahedron indicating that they are one and the same. Again the theme is that the cup is the conduit for the transmission. One card shows a rainbow with 12 cups or chalices in it with the happy children dancing in a circle under it. As a statement of innocence and bliss, they are demonstrating that the circle is a sacred geometric form emanating golden joy. Each chalice is a double tetrahedron showing the top one collecting elixir from the rainbow from heaven and the bottom one outpouring the elixir to the blissful people below. The rainbow is the manifestation of the fulfillment of God's promise to his children—the Covenant. It contains the 12 rays in a mostly visible form and the rainbow is an Arc of the Covenant. Arc-like domes deliver the goods.

The World card pictures a blissful female in the middle of the world with the Golden Mean appearing much like the DNA wrapped around her. The Moon card shows the moon and sun shining down in balance between two pillars or forces. The sun and moon energies strike a balance on earth and animals come out of the water or unconsciousness to meditate upon it. The Knight of Cups returns triumphant from battle, holding a grail cup with angel's wings on his helmet. This means that he has connected or gone into resonance with the realm of the angels through the portal or gateway known as Christos, the son (the son of the sun) through the grace of the Holy Ghost. He received Horizontal Negative Green and became one with the etheric gold energy and received the Grail transmission or the knowledge which occurs when all 3 fields are experienced at the same time as a trinity (the Gnosis meaning the knowledge of Divine Love). Christos means the great light. In the Swords suit a blindfolded man has two swords crossed and behind him is water. The meaning here is that there are two forces—one electric which is reverse spin detrimental and the other clockwise spinning vitality. The researcher must be blind to the senses in order to find the point of balance, Positive Green, which has its source in the unconscious. If you require any additional clues try this: The Ace of Cups, the highest level cup, the dove or Holy Ghost in white (think White Light), is bringing a host or sacrament (the usual sacrament is the key to the angelic kingdom Higher Harmonic of UltraViolet) of a white wafer to drop into the grail cup. The wafer or host is a circle, which is infinite and the golden manna appears in the exact center of it. It has a cross in the center. The cross indicates a horizontal and vertical plane both crossing in the center of the circle marking, by the intersection of two planes, the gold energy point. The host is delivered from heaven by the Holy Ghost. If you look closely at the cross on the host, it is really two magic wands each controlling one side of the force, balancing it between them. The Holy Ghost delivering the host to the cup (White Light) causes the Torus / Grail Cup to overflow issuing a flow of elixir down to the world below. The magician in the Magician card has a double-terminated wand to bring the magic down from the heavens and into his Grail Cup. A Moebius strip or the sign of infinity is above his head indicating that when the magical act is performed correctly you get infinity and immortality.

Have some fun and have a look at this Rider deck on the web. The later ones may have some alterations but the earlier deck that I painted and studied shows this Grail theme throughout the journey.

THE ART OF LIGHT IS THE INSTRUMENT OF THE SPIRIT

THERE HAS TO BE AN INVISIBLE SUN THAT SHINES ITS LIGHT ON EVERY ONE! —Sting
LIGHT THE ILLUMINATOR

Lightning has always been a symbol or metaphor for the life force for good or evil, from Dr. Frankenstein bringing the monster to life, to people who get hit by lightning and have a major rise in IQ. Some get killed and some just keep getting smarter. It all depends on just which side of the life force you are dealing with. The goal might be said to be understanding the nature of the life force so that you can use it to create what those who have no idea of the secret of this realm would call magic or alchemy. It is really just being yourself, a 12-chakra, 12-strand DNA kind of guy!

The Aryans were venerators of the wise lord Ahura Mazda (Ohrmazd) God of light. His earthly kingdom was called Pairi Daize which comes the familiar word Paradise.

The life force is everywhere; if you pollute it with electric smog and limited thinking you get entropy. If you channel and amplify it, and are in a pure state of grace (whole or holy), the magician can channel it, picking off desired wavelengths at will (the magic). The magician stands in the center of the magic circle. Remember the center is where the compression waves focus the energy. These can be directed into different forms of manifestation. The vertical is the side that can harm but both horizontal and vertical are also powerful medicines in the hands of the Pharaoh. Needless to say, we use all Horizontal energy remedies.

iBliss™ — Computer, iPOD and DVD Software

iBliss

TRANSFORM YOUR COMPUTER.

TRANSFORM YOUR LIFE.

TRANSFORM YOUR COMPUTER INTO A SMART PILL.

TRANSFORM YOUR MUSIC, iPOD, COMPUTER, DVD PLAYER, TV, CELLPHONE, APPLIANCES AND WARDROBE INTO POWERFUL PSYCHOTRONIC DEVICES (smart pills) FOR MEDITATION, RELAXATION, INCREASED INTUITION, RADIONICS AND ALTERED STATES.

EXPERIENCE OUR DVD COMPUTING SMART PILL AND DISCOVER A MORE INTUITIVE, PEACEFUL AND HEARTFELT APPROACH TO COMPUTING.

When computing, if you are writing or drawing anything—from a letter to a logo to illustrations for a book or paper—as you write or draw, your energy is amplified by our sacred geometric smart energy, clearing and opening your concept to your highest level of vision and inspiration. Our iBliss DVD program, together with your intention and vision, makes your concept more real by releasing “writer’s block,” thus helping to shape a more relaxed, optimistic and positive attitude and expectation. When you reflect back on your creation, your ability to deeply feel it is amplified. You have become more sensitive to its subtle nuances. You see it from a multidimensional perspective. You transcend patterned modes of “perception” stepping outside of the past and seeing it maybe for the first time, seeing your creation with fresh eyes. Seeing it from a here-and-now perspective. Seeing it perhaps more objectively as others would see and experience it. You are stepping outside of your own personal beliefs and judgments into a space of true perspective and objectivity. Your work comes alive!

It is something like looking at a flat 3-dimensional picture and then suddenly seeing it in holographic form. The added dimension gives you a truer feel for your work. Enjoy our iBliss DVD computing smart pill.

The Sound Energy of Sacred Geometry

At first I never dreamed that our psychoacoustic energy fields could create such a deep state of relaxation and bliss. We have combined energized video files with energized audio signals which expand your bliss potential by nearly 300% over audio alone.

The 12 vitality fields reduce listener fatigue and the mental resistance that create a sense of separation between you and your music. As your energy field clears, you become one with your music. The music seems like it is inside of you. I have always firmly believed that music was not meant to be just listened to, but experienced in a multi-sensory state of advanced perception. In other words, with a quiet mind, meaning an altered state of consciousness! Altered states and music are a dynamic duo. Expanded perception means expanded capacity for Bliss. In this form, sound therapy fulfills its ultimate promise—the transformation of the listener’s creative process through expanded spiritual awareness. Music was made to move and inspire you, to take you to places that you have never been before. It was meant to expand your consciousness by permeating your vision with the joy of possibility—leaving you deeply touched, emotionally moved and open-heartily inspired.

The trouble with today’s listeners is that they are well armored, too often in a muddle of attention-robbing mental turmoil. Our iBliss programs, blisswave formulations, together with your favorite music and smooth attention, create a silky, spacious feeling. You may find yourself utilizing iBliss™ with your computer, DVD player or iPod as the center of your retreat or sanctuary experience, as an altar to your true self, utilizing it as a gateway to high-level wellness. There is no feeling like well-being, as it is the pathway on the journey to peak experience. We invite you to open and expand your doors of perception through this multimedia experience.
